Negroes May Cancel Marches

Violence Incident Occurs Tuesday

ALBANY, Ga. (AP) — Negro leaders weighed today a possible suspension of mass racial demonstrations after violence climaxed a protest march in this uneasy southwest Georgia city.

The ripple of violence, in which two officers received minor injuries, came Tuesday night just a few hours after a federal judge's action cleared the way for Negroes to renew their anti-segregation activities.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. of Atlanta, integration leader who preaches nonviolence and passive resistance in the Negro's fight for equal rights, termed the incident regrettable. He said he would halt demonstrations temporarily if he feels Albany Negroes cannot stick to a strict nonviolent campaign.

The trouble developed when about 170 officers moved into the Negro section to disperse about 2,000 Negroes in the vicinity of a bus terminal.

Trooper Struck

State trooper Claude Hill of Tifton was struck by a rock, bruising his face and knocking out a tooth. Bottles and rocks rained onto the pavement as two lines of officers broke up milling crowds of Negroes.

The missiles flew after 39 Negroes and one white man marched from a church to the downtown area and were jailed for parading without a permit. Several hundred had started the march but most dropped out before reaching the area where police had warned demonstrators would be arrested.

Shortly before the march began, Negroes filed federal court action to desegregate all public facilities and to prevent police interference with antisegregation demonstrations.

Not Part of Movement

King, who had urged at a mass rally that the Negroes march, said the violence "developed apparently from some onlookers who were not part of our movement."

Chief Judge Elbert P. Tuttle of the U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals opened the way for renewed demonstrations by staying a temporary injunction against such protests. The injunction, issued Friday by U.S. Dist. Judge J. Robert Elliott, comes up for a hearing Monday in Albany.

Tuttle held that Elliott lacked jurisdiction for the sweeping order which banned marches, picketing, and boycotting by several persons and groups spearheading the integration fight here.

Corrupt Ties Linked To Hoffa in Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate investigations subcommittee accused James K. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, of corrupt and continuing ties with New York mobster Antonio (Tony Ducks) Corallo.

The stinging report to the Senate today pictured Hoffa as a labor leader who doesn't care whether Teamsters aides rob and cheat the union or indulge in payoff deals.

Held Up for Trial

Chairman John L. McClellan, D-Ark., told the Senate he had held up filing the report for more than half a year, lest the publicity interfere with a trial of Corallo.

Corallo was convicted in June with former New York Supreme Court Justice J. Vincent Keough and Elliott Kahaner, former U.S. attorney in Brooklyn, on charges of conspiring to fix a federal court criminal case.

The subcommittee's unanimous findings rejected Hoffa's sworn denial that he had sent this word to Corallo, the alleged real power in New York Teamsters Local 239:

'Don't Get Caught'

"I don't care if you want to—you want to steal, you want to rob, go ahead. Don't get caught. Don't get caught."

New York City police telephone wiretappers had recorded the message as allegedly passed along to Corallo by Bernard Stein, another New York Hoffa aide who had just conferred in Washington with Hoffa.

"This subcommittee," the report to the Senate said, "by force of the overwhelming evidence, must conclude that Hoffa in callous disregard of the welfare of the Teamsters membership, in fact does not care whether officials of Local 239 or, for that matter, officials of any other segment of the Teamsters Union, are robbing, stealing, dealing under the table, or indulging in any other improper

Armed Robbery, Assault Today Near Boiceville

A search was being made today for two men who at gunpoint stuck up a New York man early this morning just west of Boiceville, assaulted him and took $30.

Andor Bohcsy, 30, of 214 East 82nd Street, New York, was traveling west on Route 28 near Boiceville about 2:30 a. m., when he was flagged down by two men. Both men wore blue handkerchiefs over their face. Both were armed with pistols. After forcing him out of the car at gun point, one of the men struck him on the nose and face. Bohcsy fought back and struck one of the men and he told State Police he believed he gave the man a bloody nose.

Descriptions Given

One of the men is described as about 19 or 20, five feet six inches, blond and heavy built. The other man appeared about 40, heavy built and about six feet in height.

When a truck appeared in the distance both men jumped into a 1956 dark Ford, which was damaged about the body, and took off toward Kingston.

Bohcsy drove to Phoenicia where he stopped at a telephone booth and summoned State Police. They began a search for the car and men. The investigation was being continued today.

High Altitude Nuclear Test Off Another 24 Hours

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States' second high-altitude nuclear test shot over Johnston Island is off for another 24 hours—but Tuesday night's postponement was only one-tenth as hard for scientists to make as Monday night's.

Hopes for the blast rose Tuesday as troublesome clouds drifted away, then fell when the overcast returned. Less than an hour before blastoff, Joint Task Force 8 officials looked glumly at the clouds and rescheduled the test for tonight.

Scientists delayed Monday's scheduled shot ten different times before finally knocking it back 24 hours. Clouds at 20,000 feet also foiled that operation.

New Education Board Counsel

Appointment of counsel to the Kingston Board of Education was unanimously approved and plans were formulated for special meetings of committees to fill two recently vacated key positions in the Kingston School District Consolidated, Tuesday night at a special meeting of the board.

On recommendation of David Kline, the board unanimously appointed Robert A. MacKinnon, resident of Hurley and Kingston attorney, as counsel to the school board for the ensuing year. He will succeed Andrew J. Cook Jr., Kingston attorney who reportedly decined to serve another year. The motion for appointment of MacKinnon was made by Kline and seconded by Gifford Beal.

15 Apply for Job

Howard L. Fox, chairman of the transportation committee of the board, reported that 15 applications have been received for appointment as transportation supervisor of the school district. The board previously had accepted with regret, the resignation of Zale Liese.

Chairman Fox suggested that two meetings of the committee should be held next week, to interview and screen the 15 applicants, because of the importance of filling the position.

On motion of Bernie Singer, seconded by Robert F. Browning, board members, the committee was authorized to hire a transportation supervisor upon completion of interviews, and review of qualifications of the applicants.

It was decided to hold special

Airways Engineer Halt Over

Most of Demands Are Being Given

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pan American World Airways and its flight engineers settled their labor dispute today on terms proposed by Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg.

The agreement, announced by Goldberg at 2 a.m. following a six-hour surprise negotiating session, calls for binding arbitration of economic issues and settlement of the tangled jet crew issues along lines he proposed earlier in the week.

However, in New York, the Transport Workers Union of America said some 12,000 of its members had voted overwhelmingly to authorize a strike against Pan American.

There was no threat that a walkout would come soon.

To a great extent the Flight Engineers International Association will be getting what it wanted. When the airlines cut their jet crews from four to three men, currently employed engineers will have priority for the third spot.

New Strike Threat

Even as the negotiators were meeting, a new strike threat was posed by the Transport Workers Union against Pan American and Northeast Airlines.

The Pan American settlement had no direct relation to the engineers' 33-day-old strike against Eastern Air Lines. But since the terms were identical to those rejected for the second time Tuesday by Eastern after acceptance by the union, it appeared the agreement might have a bearing on the Eastern strike.

Goldberg said Eastern had considered his proposals acceptable earlier. A Labor Department spokesman said no new meetings were planned in the Eastern strike, adding "the next move is up to them."

Midnight Deadline

Eastern's offer to hire its 575 striking engineers on an individual basis expired at midnight. The offer had been accompanied by the threat that engineers not reporting for work would lose their rights to jet flight engineer jobs. The company did not say how many had returned.

The union's headquarters said after a check of all Eastern terminals that only about 30 flight engineers had accepted the offer, 22 of them supervisory employes.

Both Pan American and Eastern were struck on June 23. Within four hours Pan American, the nation's biggest overseas carrier, had obtained a federal court restraining order against the union.

No Attempt On Ban

Eastern made no attempt to get a legal ban or postponement of the strike.

Throughout the dispute, and in similar negotiations with Trans World Airlines and American Airlines, the jet crew issue has been foremost.

Attempted To Steal Two Autos

Threatens Chief With Stolen Gun

Donald E. Sims, 30, Wallkill Medium Security Prison escapee, was overpowered and taken into custody by two Manassas, Va., police officers Tuesday night after they had been threatened with a loaded rifle as Sims hid in a parked car at a ball game.

Sims had been the object of a 13 state alarm after he fled south in a car stolen in Woodbourne, Sullivan County, earlier in the day. The flight south started after Sims had held up five Woodbourne people, robbed them at gun point of about $100, tied them up, and after shaving and eating a meal, fled in their car.

Apprehension of Sims, who still carried the rifle which he stole from a bungalow in the High Falls-Minnewaska area over two weeks ago, came after two people at Manassas complained to police officers that a man had attempted to steal their car at a baseball game, only to find someone in the car.

Faced Loaded Rifle

Sergeant Luther Cox, chief of the Manassas police force, faced the loaded rifle in order to take Sims into custody. He was assisted in the arrest by Patrolman Richard T. Shultz.

Chief Cox went to the scene after two people complained a man had attempted to steal their cars. Chief Cox saw a man in a car drop down on the front seat and as he approached the rifle was poked out the window of the car at the officer.

Patrolman Shultz came to the assistance of the chief and after a scuffle Sims was subdued and taken into custody. He was lodged in the Prince William County jail.

Warden Walter M. Wallack of Wallkill Prison today said he had been in contact with the Commonwealth Attorney in Virginia, who notified him of the arrest last night, but it was not known whether Sims would waive formal extradition and return to New York State, or whether it would be necessary to secure extradition papers to bring the escapee back to New York.

Will Prefer Charges

Sims will face a first degree robbery charge in Sullivan County for the armed robbery at the Richard B. Jones bun after 1 a. m. Tuesday where after tying up the five occupants of the place, he stole Jones car. There may also be a charge of burglary in Ulster County, where Sims apparently hid in a summer bungalow for several days before he made the escape attempt.

Warden Wallack said he would prefer charges of escape and "untimately" Sims would be brought back to Wallkill Prison where he was serving a 7½ to 15 year term for robbery when he escaped from a work detail on July 7.

Following the escape from prison, local police authorities

No Progress Is Seen In Talks on Berlin

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko return home, probably Thursday, after another thorough examination of the Western-Soviet dispute over Berlin and no apparent progress toward agreement.

Rusk announced he would leave this afternoon.

Rusk and Gromyko held to their usual positions Tuesday in a 3½-hour meeting, their third since they arrived here last weekend for the windup of the 14-nation Laos conference and to address the deadlocked 17-nation disarmament conference.

No Real Change

The American spokesman said the meeting failed to produce "any significant change on the Berlin question."

Gromyko told newsmen the talks included the subject of a German peace treaty. This meant, the U.S. spokesman said, that "Mr. Gromyko discussed a peace treaty and Mr. Rusk discussed what Mr. Gromyko said."

The Soviet Union has long threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany and turn control of West Berlin's supply lifelines over to the East Germans. There have been reports that the Russians intend to sign such a treaty later this year unless the West agrees to Soviet proposals to make West Berlin a so-called free city and withdraw the U.S., British and French garrisons.

Repeats Position

Rusk once again repeated the Western position that a Soviet-East German peace treaty would not wipe away Western rights in Berlin gained through the Allies' conquest of Nazi Germany. Rusk said these rights were neither granted by the Russians nor could they be abrogated by them.

Rusk and Gromyko also took up disarmament problems. Here again, there apparently was no progress toward breaking the stalemate on either general disarmament or a nuclear test ban teatry.

Regular delegates of the Soviet Union and the United States carried on in the 17-nation disarmament conference today a debate on disarmament that one diplomat called mere repetitions of what Gromyko and Rusk said.

Kennedy Agrees Puerto Rico Vote On Future Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy notified Puerto Rico's governor today he agrees that the people of Puerto Rico now should vote on their preference for independence, statehood or perfecting the present commonwealth form of government.

Kennedy's views were in a letter the White House said Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson would deliver today to Gov. Luis Munoz Marin. Kennedy appointed Johnson to represent the people of the United States on the celebration today of the 10th anniversary of the founding of the commonwealth government.

Time Has Come

Munoz had written the President that he believes the time has come for growth and improvement of the commonwealth system. He said he intended to ask the Puerto Rican Legislature to enact a law that would submit to a vote of the people proposals "to perfect the commonwealth within its association with the United States."

"It is my purpose also," Munoz told Kennedy, "to recommend that advocates of both independence and federated statehood for Puerto Rico should be afforded the opportunity in the legislation to present these alternatives to the electorate, so that no doubt whatever may be entertained either in Puerto Rico, in the United States or elsewhere that the basic United States Principle of self-determination has been thoroughly carried out.

Doesn't Serve Fully

The Munoz letter was dated July 10. Kennedy's answer was dated July 24.

The President said he is aware that the commonwealth relationship is not perfected and has not realized its full potential. He said he is in full sympathy with the aspiration Munoz expressed for maximum development of the commonwealth system.

The commonwealth is a self-governing entity permanently affiliated with the United States. In Congress it has only a resident commissioner without a vote.

Greene Jobs Dwindle

Search parties comprising about 300 state troopers, deputy sheriffs, firemen, sportsmen and civilian volunteers today groped their way through heavily wooded areas and open fields in search of a 6-year-old Brooklyn boy, missing from a Napanoch camp since Monday.

Bloodhounds from Troop K Headquarters of State Police at Hawthorne, and a German shepherd owned by the Nevele Country Club trained in hunting for missing persons, were followed through the area by search parties, seeking some trace of Solomon Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwartz, of 167 Pennsylvania Avenue, Brooklyn. The Schwartzs are the parents of 15 other children, seven sons and eight daughters.

The boy was attending Camp Rav-Tov, a boys camp at Napanoch, when he disappeared.

A helicopter from Governors Island operated over the hilly, wooded area Tuesday and last night, and returned to its base today, authorities said.

A detail of more than 20 state troopers from Ulster and Sullican County stations and from Sidney headquarters of Troop C in command of Lieut. Frank Dwyer, are participating in the hunt for the boy.

About 20 members of the local 11 Meter C. B. Radio club headed by the club president, Albert Martino, used walkie-talkies as they wended their way through the hilly, wooded area last night.

It was learned that some clothing was found, including sneakers, a skull cap known as Yarmulkeh, worn by boy campers and other articles. Troopers said these were all eliminated, as they did not belong to the missing boy.

According to reports at the sheriff's office, Solomon and another boy, Jack Leibowitz at 8 a. m. Monday, went behind the main building near a dump. The Leibowitz boy returned, but reports stated the Schwartz boy said he was afraid to go back because he was near the dump.

Camp officials did not miss Solomon until a bed check Monday night and authorities were notified about 9:30 p. m. when the extensive search began.

County-Wide Alert

Volunteer firemen responded to a county-wide emergency alert sounded after 4:30 a. m. Tuesday at the direction of Ulster County Fire Coordinator Winfred Snyder.

The missing boy's father arrived in the area Tuesday to take part in the search.

Camp officials said their accounts of the boy's last known movements were "confused." They said at breakfast on Monday, the boy told others at the camp he was going to the infirmary because of a cut on his foot. When he didn't return to the camp proper, it was supposed he had been detained at the infirmary.

Missed at Bed Check

He was not missed until a bed check that night.

The area in which the search centers, is heavily wooded, interspersed with open fields. South of the camp is Honk Lake, the outlet of which is a steep rocky gorge.

Body Found Later

The search area is about 12 miles from another Catskill mountain section at Grahamsville, where a few years ago at Lake Winnesook, David Raleigh vanished during a weekend. His body was found weeks later, a few hundred yards from where he disappeared from his parents at the start of a heavy shower.

According to reports, searchers planned to comb the waters of lakes and ponds in the camp area, if the boy is not found early this afternoon.

The Napanoch dormitories are part of several depots Camp Rav-Tov has in southern Ulster County. Others are located at Kerhonkson and Greenfield Park. Total enrollment at Rav-Tov is 700 boys and girls. There are 300 boys at the Napanoch resort.

READY FOR VOLS' PARADE—Members of Rapid Hose Company No. 1, 85 Hone Street, have polished this oldtime parade carriage for the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade in Port Ewen Saturday. Purchased in 1878, it will be a special feature in the parade, since few are left in the region. Rapid organized on June 24, 1860. Soon after that a carriage known as the "Spider" was bought. On June 8, 1878, a committee consisting of Foreman Alfred H. HasBrouck, J. C. Kirchner and J. H. Derrenbacher, was named and empowered to exchange the Spider for the carriage shown here. Before extensive use of motorized fire apparatus, this type of carriage was popular in firemen's parades and companies competed for prize-winning elaborations. An historic record of Nov. 7, 1879, notes that a committee on property reported it had put the carriage in the Hon. Thomas Cornell carriage house and the Spider in the hook and ladder house. A spokesman for Rapid Hose Company said its membership cherishes the carriage since "there are very few left in the area in such good condition." (Freeman photo)

'Salesman of Sorts' Gives Self Up in Stocks Thefts

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Jack Pomeranz, named by authorities as the mysterious "Mr. X" in the case of the $1.3-million stock theft from Bache & Co., walked into Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office Tuesday and gave himself up.

Pomeranz, 33, who was arrested on a charge of criminally receiving stolen property, would give interrogators no information other than his name, age and address.

But Hogan, describing Pomeranz as "a salesman of sorts who lived by his wits, a salesman of products and ideas," said "Mr. X" had contracted to dispose of the blue chip stocks stolen from the Wall Street vaults of Bache & Co.

Pomeranz' surrender was the second of two surprises for Hogan.

The first surprise came when the federal government announced that Pomeranz was "Mr. X"—a piece of information given to the FBI by Hogan Friday and kept secret by his office.

Hogan said his office had only five minutes advance notice before U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau announced the issuance of a warrant for Pomeranz.

Morgenthau also announced the arrest of a 13th defendant in the sensational theft of $1,370,475 worth of blue chip stock certificates from the Wall Street brokerage house. He is Edward Schoenberger, 30, an artist and interior decorator also known as Bobby Edwards.

The inside man was Gordon A. Tallman, 30, a clerk at Bache for eight months. He smuggled the stock out of the Wall Street office under his shirt in mid-June.

On the outside, Robert J. Dodge, 24, an unemployed truck driver and friend of Tallman, turned most of the stock over to Pomeranz for disposal.

"Pomeranz consulted with Edwards (Schoenberger) on the distribution of these securities," said Morgenthau in announcing Edward's arrest on charges of conspiring to transport stolen securities interstate.

Said Schoenberger's lawyer: "He is denying everything. They haven't got a thing against him."

More than $1 million worth of the stocks is still missing. Authorities said they believe Pomeranz holds the key to their whereabouts.

GENEVA (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko return home, probably Thursday, after another thorough examination of the Western-Soviet dispute over Berlin and no apparent progress toward agreement.

Rusk announced he would leave this afternoon.

Rusk and Gromyko held to their usual positions Tuesday in a 3½-hour meeting, their third since they arrived here last weekend for the windup of the 14-nation Laos conference and to address the deadlocked 17-nation disarmament conference.

No Real Change

The American spokesman said the meeting failed to produce "any significant change on the Berlin question."

Gromyko told newsmen the talks included the subject of a German peace treaty. This meant, the U.S. spokesman said, that "Mr. Gromyko discussed a peace treaty and Mr. Rusk discussed what Mr. Gromyko said."

The Soviet Union has long threatened to sign a separate peace treaty with Communist East Germany and turn control of West Berlin's supply lifelines over to the East Germans. There have been reports that the Russians intend to sign such a treaty later this year unless the West agrees to Soviet proposals to make West Berlin a so-called free city and withdraw the U.S., British and French garrisons.

Repeats Position

Rusk once again repeated the Western position that a Soviet-East German peace treaty would not wipe away Western rights in Berlin gained through the Allies' conquest of Nazi Germany. Rusk said these rights were neither granted by the Russians nor could they be abrogated by them.

Rusk and Gromyko also took up disarmament problems. Here again, there apparently was no progress toward breaking the stalemate on either general disarmament or a nuclear test ban teatry.

Regular delegates of the Soviet Union and the United States carried on in the 17-nation disarmament conference today a debate on disarmament that one diplomat called mere repetitions of what Gromyko and Rusk said.

Kennedy Agrees Puerto Rico Vote On Future Due

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy notified Puerto Rico's governor today he agrees that the people of Puerto Rico now should vote on their preference for independence, statehood or perfecting the present commonwealth form of government.

Kennedy's views were in a letter the White House said Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson would deliver today to Gov. Luis Munoz Marin. Kennedy appointed Johnson to represent the people of the United States on the celebration today of the 10th anniversary of the founding of the commonwealth government.

Time Has Come

Munoz had written the President that he believes the time has come for growth and improvement of the commonwealth system. He said he intended to ask the Puerto Rican Legislature to enact a law that would submit to a vote of the people proposals "to perfect the commonwealth within its association with the United States."

"It is my purpose also," Munoz told Kennedy, "to recommend that advocates of both independence and federated statehood for Puerto Rico should be afforded the opportunity in the legislation to present these alternatives to the electorate, so that no doubt whatever may be entertained either in Puerto Rico, in the United States or elsewhere that the basic United States Principle of self-determination has been thoroughly carried out.

Doesn't Serve Fully

The Munoz letter was dated July 10. Kennedy's answer was dated July 24.

The President said he is aware that the commonwealth relationship is not perfected and has not realized its full potential. He said he is in full sympathy with the aspiration Munoz expressed for maximum development of the commonwealth system.

The commonwealth is a self-governing entity permanently affiliated with the United States. In Congress it has only a resident commissioner without a vote.

The declaration was announced Tuesday by the Labor Department.

Threatens Chief With Stolen Gun

Donald E. Sims, 30, Wallkill Medium Security Prison escapee, was overpowered and taken into custody by two Manassas, Va., police officers Tuesday night after they had been threatened with a loaded rifle as Sims hid in a parked car at a ball game.

Sims had been the object of a 13 state alarm after he fled south in a car stolen in Woodbourne, Sullivan County, earlier in the day. The flight south started after Sims had held up five Woodbourne people, robbed them at gun point of about $100, tied them up, and after shaving and eating a meal, fled in their car.

Apprehension of Sims, who still carried the rifle which he stole from a bungalow in the High Falls-Minnewaska area over two weeks ago, came after two people at Manassas complained to police officers that a man had attempted to steal their car at a baseball game, only to find someone in the car.

Faced Loaded Rifle

Sergeant Luther Cox, chief of the Manassas police force, faced the loaded rifle in order to take Sims into custody. He was assisted in the arrest by Patrolman Richard T. Shultz.

Chief Cox went to the scene after two people complained a man had attempted to steal their cars. Chief Cox saw a man in a car drop down on the front seat and as he approached the rifle was poked out the window of the car at the officer.

Patrolman Shultz came to the assistance of the chief and after a scuffle Sims was subdued and taken into custody. He was lodged in the Prince William County jail.

Warden Walter M. Wallack of Wallkill Prison today said he had been in contact with the Commonwealth Attorney in Virginia, who notified him of the arrest last night, but it was not known whether Sims would waive formal extradition and return to New York State, or whether it would be necessary to secure extradition papers to bring the escapee back to New York.

Will Prefer Charges

Sims will face a first degree robbery charge in Sullivan County for the armed robbery at the Richard B. Jones bun after 1 a. m. Tuesday where after tying up the five occupants of the place, he stole Jones car. There may also be a charge of burglary in Ulster County, where Sims apparently hid in a summer bungalow for several days before he made the escape attempt.

Warden Wallack said he would prefer charges of escape and "untimately" Sims would be brought back to Wallkill Prison where he was serving a 7½ to 15 year term for robbery when he escaped from a work detail on July 7.

'Salesman of Sorts' Gives Self Up in Stocks Thefts

NEW YORK (AP)—Alan Jack Pomeranz, named by authorities as the mysterious "Mr. X" in the case of the $1.3-million stock theft from Bache & Co., walked into Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan's office Tuesday and gave himself up.

Pomeranz, 33, who was arrested on a charge of criminally receiving stolen property, would give interrogators no information other than his name, age and address.

But Hogan, describing Pomeranz as "a salesman of sorts who lived by his wits, a salesman of products and ideas," said "Mr. X" had contracted to dispose of the blue chip stocks stolen from the Wall Street vaults of Bache & Co.

Pomeranz' surrender was the second of two surprises for Hogan.

The first surprise came when the federal government announced that Pomeranz was "Mr. X"—a piece of information given to the FBI by Hogan Friday and kept secret by his office.

Hogan said his office had only five minutes advance notice before U.S. Atty. Robert M. Morgenthau announced the issuance of a warrant for Pomeranz.

Morgenthau also announced the arrest of a 13th defendant in the sensational theft of $1,370,475 worth of blue chip stock certificates from the Wall Street brokerage house. He is Edward Schoenberger, 30, an artist and interior decorator also known as Bobby Edwards.

The inside man was Gordon A. Tallman, 30, a clerk at Bache for eight months. He smuggled the stock out of the Wall Street office under his shirt in mid-June.

On the outside, Robert J. Dodge, 24, an unemployed truck driver and friend of Tallman, turned most of the stock over to Pomeranz for disposal.

"Pomeranz consulted with Edwards (Schoenberger) on the distribution of these securities," said Morgenthau in announcing Edward's arrest on charges of conspiring to transport stolen securities interstate.

Said Schoenberger's lawyer: "He is denying everything. They haven't got a thing against him."

More than $1 million worth of the stocks is still missing. Authorities said they believe Pomeranz holds the key to their whereabouts.

Search parties comprising about 300 state troopers, deputy sheriffs, firemen, sportsmen and civilian volunteers today groped their way through heavily wooded areas and open fields in search of a 6-year-old Brooklyn boy, missing from a Napanoch camp since Monday.

Bloodhounds from Troop K Headquarters of State Police at Hawthorne, and a German shepherd owned by the Nevele Country Club trained in hunting for missing persons, were followed through the area by search parties, seeking some trace of Solomon Schwartz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Schwartz, of 167 Pennsylvania Avenue, Brooklyn. The Schwartzs are the parents of 15 other children, seven sons and eight daughters.

The boy was attending Camp Rav-Tov, a boys camp at Napanoch, when he disappeared.

A helicopter from Governors Island operated over the hilly, wooded area Tuesday and last night, and returned to its base today, authorities said.

A detail of more than 20 state troopers from Ulster and Sullican County stations and from Sidney headquarters of Troop C in command of Lieut. Frank Dwyer, are participating in the hunt for the boy.

About 20 members of the local 11 Meter C. B. Radio club headed by the club president, Albert Martino, used walkie-talkies as they wended their way through the hilly, wooded area last night.

It was learned that some clothing was found, including sneakers, a skull cap known as Yarmulkeh, worn by boy campers and other articles. Troopers said these were all eliminated, as they did not belong to the missing boy.

According to reports at the sheriff's office, Solomon and another boy, Jack Leibowitz at 8 a. m. Monday, went behind the main building near a dump. The Leibowitz boy returned, but reports stated the Schwartz boy said he was afraid to go back because he was near the dump.

Camp officials did not miss Solomon until a bed check Monday night and authorities were notified about 9:30 p. m. when the extensive search began.

County-Wide Alert

Volunteer firemen responded to a county-wide emergency alert sounded after 4:30 a. m. Tuesday at the direction of Ulster County Fire Coordinator Winfred Snyder.

The missing boy's father arrived in the area Tuesday to take part in the search.

Camp officials said their accounts of the boy's last known movements were "confused." They said at breakfast on Monday, the boy told others at the camp he was going to the infirmary because of a cut on his foot. When he didn't return to the camp proper, it was supposed he had been detained at the infirmary.

Missed at Bed Check

He was not missed until a bed check that night.

The area in which the search centers, is heavily wooded, interspersed with open fields. South of the camp is Honk Lake, the outlet of which is a steep rocky gorge.

Body Found Later

The search area is about 12 miles from another Catskill mountain section at Grahamsville, where a few years ago at Lake Winnesook, David Raleigh vanished during a weekend. His body was found weeks later, a few hundred yards from where he disappeared from his parents at the start of a heavy shower.

According to reports, searchers planned to comb the waters of lakes and ponds in the camp area, if the boy is not found early this afternoon.

The Napanoch dormitories are part of several depots Camp Rav-Tov has in southern Ulster County. Others are located at Kerhonkson and Greenfield Park. Total enrollment at Rav-Tov is 700 boys and girls. There are 300 boys at the Napanoch resort.

READY FOR VOLS' PARADE—Members of Rapid Hose Company No. 1, 85 Hone Street, have polished this oldtime parade carriage for the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association parade in Port Ewen Saturday. Purchased in 1878, it will be a special feature in the parade, since few are left in the region. Rapid organized on June 24, 1860. Soon after that a carriage known as the "Spider" was bought. On June 8, 1878, a committee consisting of Foreman Alfred H. HasBrouck, J. C. Kirchner and J. H. Derrenbacher, was named and empowered to exchange the Spider for the carriage shown here. Before extensive use of motorized fire apparatus, this type of carriage was popular in firemen's parades and companies competed for prize-winning elaborations. An historic record of Nov. 7, 1879, notes that a committee on property reported it had put the carriage in the Hon. Thomas Cornell carriage house and the Spider in the hook and ladder house. A spokesman for Rapid Hose Company said its membership cherishes the carriage since "there are very few left in the area in such good condition." (Freeman photo)

First Aspirant To Levitt's Job Is Here Today

Ralph G. Caso, Town of Hempstead, L. I., Supervisor and New York State's first avowed candidate for designation as the Republican opponent to dethrone State Comptroller Arthur Levitt in the November election, visited Kingston today.

Caso, whose hat first was thrown into the "beat Levitt" ring by a mid-June announcement of "full support" by the Italian-American "Columbia Republican League," has been a top vote-getter since he entered politics via appointment in 1953 as a Councilman on the Hempstead Town Board, and his subsequent re-election in four campaigns — each with an overwhelming plurality.

In a release to this newspaper, Caso said:

"There is only one blot on the splendid Rockefeller administration record, that being the fact the office of State Comptroller currently is held by a Democrat. I'm certain the right Republican candidate can capture that office in this fall's election. Too many people are of the opinion Levitt can't be beaten, but he can and will. The people will not forget his tarnishing by the 'Tammany brush' in last year's mayoralty primary in New York City."

Hurled Into Limelight

Although first announcement of his candidacy for the Republican designation garnered little more than "raised eyebrows" from seasoned political observers, subsequent blessings of Nassau County Republican Committee Chairman Joseph F. Carlino has hurled Caso into the limelight as a leading contender.

In fact, his name already has been presented to the State Republican Committee by officials of the Columbia Republican League of New York State. Nassau County viewers of the political scene now regard him as having a "better than 50/50 chance" to rival Levitt for the $25,000-a-year state office. He plans to "convince" upstate GOP county chairmen, and those of other areas, through personal letters and contact. His plans also include contacting delegates to the September Republican convention at Buffalo.

Supporters of Caso claim more and more GOP king-makers are realizing the importance of having an Italian-American on the Republican State ticket. One supporter, head of an organization of Long Island businessmen, recently told local newsmen:

"Caso is a seasoned and vigorous campaigner. His record of service in Town of Hempstead and Nassau County government has been praised by members of both major political parties. Add all this to his outstanding popularity, and it is easy to understand why we see him as the next Comptroller of New York State."

Dubbed the "Human Dynamo" because of the long hours he devotes to the daily demands of town and county government, and the numerous evening speaking and social engagements in which a popular governmental figure participates.

Stratton Fails To Get Endorsed In Rensselaer

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton failed Tuesday night to win a pre-convention endorsement from the Democratic organization of Rensselaer County, which is a neighbor of Stratton's home county of Schenectady.

At a meeting of the Rensselaer Democratic Committee, Chairman John J. Purcell ruled out of order a motion to instruct the county's convention delegation to vote for Stratton.

Stratton had asked Purcell in a letter for the county's support.

Purcell said nothing could be done until the the convention delegation is selected in the primary election in September.

Clerk Saves $1,000

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A gunman fled with $314 in a holdup at a finance company in suburban Kenmore Tuesday, but missed another $1,000 that a young clerk thoughtfully hid under a slip of paper.

The clerk, Patricia Jordan, said the $1,000 was on the desk when the gunman demanded all the money in her cash drawer. She said she covered the $1,000 as she gave the thief the money in the drawer.

BEETLES: KEEP OFF—These fellows don't look like gardeners' helpers, but they are. They treat the interior of aircraft with DDT aerosol to keep the spread of Japanese beetles in check. Work is done under direction of U.S. Department of Agriculture. Many times during beetle flight season—from May until mid-August—they enter airplanes and are carried to noninfested parts of the United States and other countries. Now, beetle infestation exists mainly along the eastern seaboard with spot infestations toward the west. Treated plane is safe, odorless and dust free.

Girl Scouts Still Thrilled About Birthday Party

BUTTON BAY, Vt. (AP)—The 8,500 Girl Scouts at the National Roundup were still chattering happily today about the big, colorful birthday party marking the 50th anniversary of girl scouting.

They talked excitedly of the huge birthday cake with 51 candles—"one to grow on"; the map of the United States backdrop with 500 twinkling lights; the songs, balloons, sparklers — just everything.

And 12 lucky girls were special objects of conversation and congratulations. They were presented with $500 scholarships each, one for each scout region.

There was no slackening of activities today. The girls will participate in a forum on the subject: "I shape the world," in one of the events.

Boy, 2, Fatally Injured

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Cornelius Bland, 2, was fatally injured Tuesday when he ran against the side of a moving car at an intersection near his home, police said. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Bland.

Cool Record

CORNING, N.Y. (AP)—Charles Loytty, 13, and Michael Coger, 14, claimed a world record for ice cube tossing Tuesday. They tossed a standard sized ice cube back and forth 3,293 times before it melted.

Javits Charges Kennedy Fails on N. Y. Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., asserted today the Kennedy Administration has failed to live up to its promise of more defense contracts for New York's unemployment areas.

And in a prepared Senate speech, Javits said the over-all New York share of defense contracts had declined sharply since President Kennedy was inaugurated in 1961.

He urged congressional passage of bills introduced by New York members of Congress to encourage competitive bidding for defense work. This, Javits said, would help the Empire State get a fairer share of the defense dollar.

During the first three months of this year, Javits said New York industry received only 9.7 per cent of all defense contracts—a five-year low and a sharp decline from the 15.8 per cent awarded in New York during the corresponding period in 1960.

He noted that President Kennedy in his Feb. 2 Economic Message to Congress promised to channel more defense work into areas of substantial unemployment—6 or more per cent of the total working force unemployed.

Javits said defense contracts to nine unemployment areas in New York dropped 20 per cent between the last half of 1960 and the last half of 1961.

During the first three months of this year, Javits stated, the two major New York unemployment areas suffered further declines. Buffalo's awards dropped 30 per cent below the corresponding quarter of 1961 and Utica-Rome's dropped 12 per cent, he added.

Big Business Encouraging Staffs to Enter Politics

EDITOR'S NOTE — The clash between President Kennedy and Big Steel raised questions whether businessmen should take a more active role in politics in order to make their views more effective. The following first of three articles tells of the new "businessman-in-politics" movement.

By ROGER LANE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP)— Across the land, the idea is taking root in the business community that the businessman belongs in politics—from the precinct level on up.

It is not a brand new idea, but a conviction seems to be growing in some sectors that the businessman has held too aloof too long, mistakingly feeling he hasn't the time or, as a Ford Motor Co. executive put it, that "politics are sordid and a little dirty."

Some prominent industrialists are also wondering aloud if past aloofness on their part isn't a basic cause of what they believe is a misunderstanding of the business community in Washington.

In a reversal of old positions, more than 250 business corporations, including some of the biggest, are systematically spurring management personnel to wade into politics, and run for office, too.

Predict Move to Grow

There are predictions of great growth of the businessman-in-politics movement despite some doubt within the business community itself of methods used or goals to be achieved.

The latest businessmen-in-politics movement was given fresh impetus by the government-Big Steel clash over a price hike last April; the resultant debate over business - government relations, and former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's call for business men "to get into politics—and quick."

Some companies, even before these recent events, started political education activities programs stressing free enterprise economics and some of the evils of socialism and communism just as unions dwell on welfare and civil rights questions.

330,000 Take Course

The U.S. Chamber of Commerce reports that in the last 3½ years possibly 300,000 persons, mostly businessmen, have taken its "Action Course in Practical Politics" in 1,700 communities.

A leading force in the businessman-in-politics movement is a small non-profit agency backed by the General Electric Co., Standard Oil of Indiana and many other firms of similar stature. Its purpose: "To arouse the business community from its inertia."

Called the Effective Citizens Organization, its advisory council is headed by former President Herbert Hoover. On its council are Henry Ford II, James A. Farley, George M. Humphrey, secretary of the Treasury under Eisenhower, and Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston.

The citizens group urges the generals of finance and industry and their lieutenants to get out after office hours and join the political troops, as foot soldiers, if need be.

The result, the organization argues, will be an infusion of new and talented blood into both the Republican and Democratic party ranks of doorbell ringers and office holders, with benefits to the nation's public life—and indirectly to the business community.

Some conservative Republican corporation heads see the aim as "redressing the balance" in federal executive and legislative policy shaping, which they say is labor and liberal dominated.

One recent expression of the businessman's acceptance of his role in politics was the choice of Syracuse industrialist David H. Jaquith as Conservative party nominee for governor of New York.

Taking Words to Heart

Said Jaquith: "I am taking President Eisenhower's words to heart."

Jaquith, a follower of Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., reflected widespread sentiment in business in calling for "less government instead of more" and urging an end to the "liberal stranglehold over both political parties in New York."

Even by optimistic reckoning scarcely five per cent of the nation's business ventures have joined in the businessman-in-politics movement. Many of these are groping cautiously, even timidly, into strange territory until recently regarded as "off limits."

In a very real way, of course, some corporations always have been hip-deep in politics—going back to the days of the railroad and utility barons, exerting influence through lobbying, trade associations and individual contributions to candidates.

Ralph G. Caso, Town of Hempstead, L. I., Supervisor and New York State's first avowed candidate for designation as the Republican opponent to dethrone State Comptroller Arthur Levitt in the November election, visited Kingston today.

Caso, whose hat first was thrown into the "beat Levitt" ring by a mid-June announcement of "full support" by the Italian-American "Columbia Republican League," has been a top vote-getter since he entered politics via appointment in 1953 as a Councilman on the Hempstead Town Board, and his subsequent re-election in four campaigns — each with an overwhelming plurality.

In a release to this newspaper, Caso said:

"There is only one blot on the splendid Rockefeller administration record, that being the fact the office of State Comptroller currently is held by a Democrat. I'm certain the right Republican candidate can capture that office in this fall's election. Too many people are of the opinion Levitt can't be beaten, but he can and will. The people will not forget his tarnishing by the 'Tammany brush' in last year's mayoralty primary in New York City."

Hurled Into Limelight

Although first announcement of his candidacy for the Republican designation garnered little more than "raised eyebrows" from seasoned political observers, subsequent blessings of Nassau County Republican Committee Chairman Joseph F. Carlino has hurled Caso into the limelight as a leading contender.

In fact, his name already has been presented to the State Republican Committee by officials of the Columbia Republican League of New York State. Nassau County viewers of the political scene now regard him as having a "better than 50/50 chance" to rival Levitt for the $25,000-a-year state office. He plans to "convince" upstate GOP county chairmen, and those of other areas, through personal letters and contact. His plans also include contacting delegates to the September Republican convention at Buffalo.

Supporters of Caso claim more and more GOP king-makers are realizing the importance of having an Italian-American on the Republican State ticket. One supporter, head of an organization of Long Island businessmen, recently told local newsmen:

"Caso is a seasoned and vigorous campaigner. His record of service in Town of Hempstead and Nassau County government has been praised by members of both major political parties. Add all this to his outstanding popularity, and it is easy to understand why we see him as the next Comptroller of New York State."

Dubbed the "Human Dynamo" because of the long hours he devotes to the daily demands of town and county government, and the numerous evening speaking and social engagements in which a popular governmental figure participates.

Stratton Fails To Get Endorsed In Rensselaer

TROY, N.Y. (AP)—Rep. Samuel S. Stratton failed Tuesday night to win a pre-convention endorsement from the Democratic organization of Rensselaer County, which is a neighbor of Stratton's home county of Schenectady.

At a meeting of the Rensselaer Democratic Committee, Chairman John J. Purcell ruled out of order a motion to instruct the county's convention delegation to vote for Stratton.

Stratton had asked Purcell in a letter for the county's support.

Purcell said nothing could be done until the the convention delegation is selected in the primary election in September.

Clerk Saves $1,000

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP)—A gunman fled with $314 in a holdup at a finance company in suburban Kenmore Tuesday, but missed another $1,000 that a young clerk thoughtfully hid under a slip of paper.

The clerk, Patricia Jordan, said the $1,000 was on the desk when the gunman demanded all the money in her cash drawer. She said she covered the $1,000 as she gave the thief the money in the drawer.

Now, beetle infestation exists mainly along the eastern seaboard with spot infestations toward the west. Treated plane is safe, odorless and dust free.

Girl Scouts Still Thrilled About Birthday Party

BUTTON BAY, Vt. (AP)—The 8,500 Girl Scouts at the National Roundup were still chattering happily today about the big, colorful birthday party marking the 50th anniversary of girl scouting.

They talked excitedly of the huge birthday cake with 51 candles—"one to grow on"; the map of the United States backdrop with 500 twinkling lights; the songs, balloons, sparklers — just everything.

And 12 lucky girls were special objects of conversation and congratulations. They were presented with $500 scholarships each, one for each scout region.

The girls receiving scholarships included Kay Eva Graves, 18, Ogdensburg, N.Y.

There was no slackening of activities today. The girls will participate in a forum on the subject: "I shape the world," in one of the events.

Javits Charges Kennedy Fails on N. Y. Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., asserted today the Kennedy Administration has failed to live up to its promise of more defense contracts for New York's unemployment areas.

And in a prepared Senate speech, Javits said the over-all New York share of defense contracts had declined sharply since President Kennedy was inaugurated in 1961.

He urged congressional passage of bills introduced by New York members of Congress to encourage competitive bidding for defense work. This, Javits said, would help the Empire State get a fairer share of the defense dollar.

During the first three months of this year, Javits said New York industry received only 9.7 per cent of all defense contracts—a five-year low and a sharp decline from the 15.8 per cent awarded in New York during the corresponding period in 1960.

He noted that President Kennedy in his Feb. 2 Economic Message to Congress promised to channel more defense work into areas of substantial unemployment—6 or more per cent of the total working force unemployed.

Javits said defense contracts to nine unemployment areas in New York dropped 20 per cent between the last half of 1960 and the last half of 1961.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

Members of Woodstock Fire Company No. 3, serving the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady area toured their entire district in order to ascertain what affect the prolonged drought had on the water supply necessary to combat fire.

These volunteers found a very acute shortage of available water, and subsequently made a plea to the citizens of the area to list with the fire company the locations of any swimming pools and ponds that could be utilized in cases of emergency.

Once again the public is being served by a small group of dedicated men who will respond to a call for help at any hour of the day or night, and will use their own time to survey their area and endeavor to find ways and means to serve and protect their neighbors.

This type of dedication to a cause is the same basic conception that was present during the founding of this country. It motivated Paul Revere's famous ride, it determined the outcome of such history-making events as Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill and Yorktown, and it has been the basis of the American way of living down through the years.

Our citizens should be truly appreciative of the efforts of those who man our volunteer fire departments, and stand ready to continue the peace and security which is our national heritage.

Now an electronics device is being tested that would eliminate the meter reader. With worldwide television coming on, the book reader may be eliminated, too.

BOMB IN ISRAEL?

The proliferation of nuclear weapons among more nations looms fearfully. The United States—and presumably even Russia—has been working strenuously to keep those devices in the hands of but three major powers.

France is on the threshold of an operational nuclear armament. And now the threat arises from a more worrisome source. According to reports from inside Israel, the Negev desert may soon bloom with the grim blossoms of nuclear explosion.

This possibility apparently is so close that some of Israel's own citizens seek the assistance of the United Nations to interrupt further development. But even were these rumors official reports, the U.N. would be powerless to do anything beyond using moral persuasion.

With good reason the world is concerned about nuclear weapons in the hands of Israel. This little neophyte state might not act as restrainedly with the weapons as have their present possessors. Most other nations are sympathetic with Israel's tenuous position, surrounded as she is by countries which have sworn to eliminate her at the first opportunity. Nonetheless, nuclear bombs would not be the things with which to fight back. This could only lead to international calamity.

The Israeli intellectuals who are seeking U.N. help are doing all they can for the moment. It is up to the member nations to proceed to bring nuclear weaponry under strict control.

By the year 2000 the world is expected to have more than six billion people, more than double its present population. That should mean full movie houses again. People will have to go somewhere to sit down.

SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE

Many admire but not many would care to emulate Francis Chichester, the 61-year-old Briton who broke his own record for single-handed sailing across the Atlantic.

Nevertheless, 33 days and 15 hours alone on the broad Atlantic—which was Chichester's time from Plymouth to New York—is a feat that stirs the imagination of many a captive 9-to-5 commuter.

'These Days'

By GEORGE SOKOLSKY

COMMUNISM AND MARRIAGE

In the early days of the Bolshevik Revolution the institution of marriage was regarded as largely statistical. It was only necessary to register a marriage or a divorse to keep the vital statistics straight. The family was regarded as a capitalistic anachronism, as a custom dragged up from the Middle Ages. Children were encouraged to spy on their parents in the interest of the party. The Ten Commandments, with all the stuff about honoring thy father and thy mother, was accepted as part of the religious machinery to keep the masses enslaved.

After 45 years, the Communists are discovering that the family is a valuble institution beneficial not only to the individual but to the state. In Soviet Russia, for a long time, marriage has been expected to be inviolate and divorce increasingly difficult.

Now, according to this "Insider's Newsletter," East Germany is drafting a new marriage law which will require couples to file an application for marriage one month in advance of the ceremony—to permit a cooling-off period. Once wed, the couples will find it virtually imposible to break the bonds, except for physical cruelty or "chronic adultery." Under the new regulations, the guilty party in a divorce suit will be unable to remarry for at least three years.

This is a very tough break for the "chronic adulterer." Even in our society, the adulterer can find a way to get a divorce somewhere and almost immediately remarry and then go out and adult some more. He may continue this process ad infinitum or until he runs out of cash to pay alimony.

Poland is reported to have the longest marriage expectancy rate. This must be due to the prolongation of the influence of the Roman Catholic Church in that country. Still and all, the marriage expectancy rate for Poland is only 18 years which is not so very long. I have been maried going on 28 years to the same woman and find that now that she is maturing into middle age, she is a much more interesting person.

In Bulgaria and Soviet Russia the marriage expectancy is only nine years. That must be because the husbands get shot down so often. Besides, Russian peasant women seem to age very rapidly and some of them still wear ugly clothing. The men are not much to look at either because if they are entitled to stand on Lenin's Tomb for the May Day Parade, they are too fat. Most of the rest have too little to offer a smart and upcoming young lady—no minks, no diamonds, only Crimean champagne.

According to this account, the mariage expectancy of the Rumanians and Hungarians is the worst of all—only six years. Rumanians and Hungarians are rather handsome folks. The Rumanians are a mixture of Romans, Slavs and all the races of the Eastern Mediterranean. Their eyes flash. Rome used Rumania as a prison colony and probably sent its best prisoners there. They stayed and produced a race that likes to eat beef and garlic, a truly Roman habit.

The Rumanians had to decide whether they preferred the Communists to Mme. Lupescu and they chose the Communists. And now they are stuck with it. So they engage in the escapism of numerous marriages.

Americans know all about Hungary, having, in this country, four high-born refugees who make the front pages as often as posible. They are, of course, the Gabors—Mamma Jolie, Magda, Eva and Zsa Zsa. They are not only beautiful but also photogenic. Hungarians are a jolly people, all except those who are dead because Soviet tanks rolled over them or who are Catholics and worry about the fate of Cardinal Mindszenty.

I notice the report says nothing about Albania. That must be an oversight or perhaps a recognition of the Grand Schism, which Khrushchev is healing with more ease than Pope John XXIII is among the Christians. But then the Christians have freedom of choice whereas the Communists have to do or die, which is an unpleasant alternative.

Also nothing is said about the marriage expectancy of the Chinese. It would interest me to know how effectively Mao Tze-tung has suppressed plural marriage, to which most Chinese I knew were devoted. If the Chinese have really gone in for monogamy, their population will wither away what with hunger and disease.

Depression Can Cause Suffering Rivaling Pain

By HAROLD T. HYMAN, M.D.
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Most persons who have gone through periods of depression insist that the suffering they endure is worse than that inflicted by pain. And I am inclined to agree.

What intensifies the suffering is the fact that physical findings and lab tests all come out negative. The depressed patient complains of feeling weak, let down, blue, disinterested, easily tired, ambitionless, pepless, down-in-the-mouth, lower-than-a-snake and so forth.

But all the reports come back saying there's nothing the matter. Finally, both patient and family conclude that the complainant is a neurotic, hypochondriac, sad sack, wailing Willie, sorrowful Susie or a malingerer who is trying to get out of duties, obligations and chores.

It is quite true that, in many instances, a depression is blown up out of all proportions. But it is also true that the depression that hits previously conscientious women and men of good will is as real as a boil on the end of a nose.

Sometimes a genuine depression is a manifestation of the frequently encountered manic-depressive condition so vividly described by a correspondent who wrote to thank me for advocating shock treatments:

"Some nights," she wrote, "I was praying to die. I felt there was no hope for me. My doctor said he could find nothing wrong with me. And my husband and children took me for a chronic complainer. Since I had seen eight doctors within the course of a year, you could hardly blame them.

"I had hundreds of shots of vitamin B complex and B-12, countless nerve tonics and all sorts of gland pills or capsules. Then, all of a sudden, the veil lifted and again I can take my righttful place in my community—and my deepest gratitude goes to you for helping me keep my self-confidence and self-respect.

"I wonder," writes another correspondent, "if some of these depressions, like mine, aren't the result of undulant fever. For years I was treated as a hypochondriac until one doctor discovered I had undulant fever.

"Since then, I have talked with many who felt as I did and I was amazed to learn that their doctors had not considered that possibility or taken tests to find out about the infection. Many, indeed, did not even know if they were running a slight afternoon temperature that I've since learned is so common in the chronic stages of that infection.

"Please write again about it because no one who has not had it can realize the horrors of the patient and the frustration that goes with being treated as a 'hypo'."

Well, here it is, you who are now—or formerly were—as low as a dachshund's belly. Charge on your doctors. You have nothing to lose but the blues.

Washington News

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Rotary International is establishing a Peace Corps of its own. The 57-year-old service organization is starting a new, international, Small Business Clinics program for developing countries. It will be an adult educational aid program to help small merchants and manufacturers learn the ways of modern business in a free society.

THIS IS THE IDEA of Nitish C. Laharry of Calcutta, India, installed as president of Rotary International for 1962-63 at its recent Los Angeles convention. He is the first Asian to head Rotary, which now has 524,000 members in 11,279 service clubs of 128 countries.

In Washington for a courtesy call on President Kennedy and a speech to the Washington Rotary Club on its 50th anniversary, Laharry in an interview outlined his plans for developing world service on a person-to-person basis.

The idea grew out of a volunteer service by 15 Oklahoma doctors who last year gave two months of their time traveling abroad at their own expense to demonstrate modern medical practices for native doctors in their own clinics.

THIS GENEROUS volunteer service was so successful that Laharry, who had been designated this year's Rotary president at its Tokyo convention last year, began plans to spread the club's World Community Service to a larger field.

Educated as an economist, political scientist and lawyer in India, Laharry had served 32 years as Southeast Asia distributor for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Columbia films. He had traveled in many lands. He knew that in the developing countries there were thousands of small merchants and small manufacturers making and selling one part for an assembled machine—bicycle chains, wheels and pedals, for example. There were also myriads of "cottage" industries, often family affairs with no real knowledge of accounting, merchandizing or modern business methods.

If he could get experts from the more developed countries to go into the new countries and hold business clinics for native businessmen, Laharry reasoned that he would be developing the stature and dignity of free men. This is one of Rotary's goals.

He thought it would be achieved best by person-to-person contacts and not through the regimented process of some international government agency.

THERE ARE ROTARY clubs in practically every country not inside the iron curtain. There are nearly 1,000 Rotary clubs in Asia, from Iran to Japan, with 37,000 members. There are 300 Rotary clubs in Laharry's India, with 11,000 members.

With the help of Harvard University's school of business administration two case study booklets were prepared. They tell how local Rotary clubs can involve every member in worldwide business clinic service.

The new nation of Tanganyika has asked to have the first Rotary business clinic. William Kisheaugh of Hershey, Pa., has volunteered to conduct the clinic. He is a Rotarian who has devoted a great deal of time and money to the Rotary Foundation program of educating foreign students. Another volunteer is being sought to go with him.

Panama's Rotary has asked for business clinic service. Laharry wants to send two missions to India this year. A book of Rotary requests from the various countries is being compiled. It will be circulated to Rotary clubs in the more developed countries. The effort will then be made to match up the needs with volunteer service, club-to-club.

PRESIDENT LAHARRY feels that if a dozen clinics are conducted in his year in office, it will be a good start.

If that seems a modest beginning, he recalls that Rotary itself was founded in Chicago in 1905. Paul P. Harris, who felt that he was a lonely man, asked three associates to meet with him for "Service Above Self."

That is still a Rotary objective. But Laharry now lays stress on another goal, "The advancement of international understanding, good will and peace through a world fellowship of business and professional men united in the ideal of service."

Naming of General Taylor Now Poses Vital Question

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Does President Kennedy's appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff represent a renewed emphasis on ground forces? This question is a vital one now as the far-reaching development of missiles and nuclear weapons seems to be bringing about a stalemate or balance of power so far as major wars are concerned.

One school of thought nowadays assumes that local wars are to be the order of the day and that this phase of American defense policy has been neglected. Gen. Taylor holds that view. He has been intimately identified in recent months with the buildup of forces in Berlin and in dealing with the guerrilla warfare problem in Southeast Asia.

There are, however, fundamental differences of opinion here as to what constitutes the safer strategy for the United States. The rivalry between the armed services has by no means been adjourned. The Air Force and the Navy, whose chiefs differed vigorously with Gen. Taylor when he was Chief of Staff of the Army, are bound to resume their lively debate over the way the money provided for national defense shall be spent.

Gen. Taylor, like a good many other men of positive views in the armed services, has been a controversial figure. He voluntarily retired as Chief of Staff of the Army in 1959 after he found himself in a one-to-three position versus the heads of the Navy and the Air Force and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who repeatedly sided against him. He felt that President Eisenhower, being an Army man, should have supported his views on building up conventional forces. After retiring, Gen. Taylor wrote a book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," which caused a lot of discussion as he reiterated the views he had unsuccessfully advocated in the meetings of the joint chiefs.

Kennedy Was Impressed

Mr. Kennedy was very much impressed with the book and used it as ammunition on the political stump in many campaign speeches. It was the basis on which the Democratic Presidential nominee criticized President Eisenhower for having failed to increase and modernize conventional forces, for having relied too much on the "massive deterrent" policy, and for setting budget ceilings on national defense.

When Gen. Taylor was selected as personal adviser to President Kennedy shortly after the Cuban "invasion" fiasco, many high officers in the armed services were a bit perturbed. Some of them felt that, since he was to be at the President's side constantly, it meant that the Joint Chiefs of Staff would be virtually subordinated to Gen. Taylor. For that reason, some of the top officers in the Navy and Air force said this week that they feel it is much better for Gen. Taylor to have the full responsibility as chairman of the Joint Chiefs than to be exercising influence on military matters at the White House as a personal assistant to the President.

The comment among various officers in the armed services is that Gen. Taylor was himself not a team player when he was a member of the Joint Chiefs. It is said he didn't feel bound to support decision with which he had disagreed. At the same time, some of these same officers recall that Gen. Taylor used to say that a chairman of the Joint Chiefs shouldn't be bossy or attempt to override his associates. There is speculation now whether he will adopt the same view if he encounters differences of opinion among his fellow staff officers.

Congress, of course, and particularly chairmen of the military affairs committees in both houses, will continue to show a sensitiveness to inter-service conflicts and differences. Gen. Taylor is no stranger to these committees, and some strong words of praise were spoken in his behalf on Capitol Hill the other day when he was appointed.

Lemnitzer's Age

Incidentally, Gen. Lyman L. Lemitzer, who was appointed to succeed Gen. Lauris Norstad at NATO, has passed the voluntary retirement age of 62. His departure will be mandatory next year when he is 64 unless Congress passes a special act to retain him in that post. He is not unfamiliar with NATO, since, as Chief of Staff of the Army, he has had to deal with its problems. Also, in the 1940's he was instrumental in formulating the original plans for the NATO operation.

The big question mark, however, is whether Gen. Taylor's appointment as head of the Joint Chiefs means the beginning of an effort on his part with the cooperation of Secretary of Defense McNamara and President Kennedy, to centralize control of the armed services. In his book, he advocated that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be dissolved and replaced by a single chief of staff and an advisory board, with the service chiefs of staff operating their individual military services.

Opinions Sharply Divided On Future for Business

EDITOR'S NOTE—The consumer may be turning cautious but at mid summer he's still doing bravely by the economy. In this, second of four articles on the state of the economy, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, looks at the figures on jobs, income and spending.

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — "Records set" says the headline in one column of your newspaper. "Storm signals flying" may be the adjoining heading.

The first is mathematically correct. The second can quote figures, too. And opinions today on what's ahead for businessmen and consumers are as sharply divided as the headlines seem at first glance.

The Picture

As the big debate starts on whether the economy is anemic and needs some pep pills, such as a tax cut, here's a brief rundown on the latest economic blood count:

More than 69.5 million persons have jobs at the latest estimate. That tops the previous record of 68.7 million in June 1961. Most of the increase in work opportunities in recent years has been in the service industries. The old line basic industries of manufacturing, mining, farming, have shown comparatively little growth, and in some instances the number of workers has declined.

And in many manufacturing companies the number of white collar employes has grown at a much faster rate than the ranks of the blue collar, or production, workers.

Think Some Give Up

The number of jobless in June was put at just under 4.5 million, or 5.5 per cent of the total labor force. But since the labor force is 285,000 smaller than a year ago although total population has grown, many observers feel that an uncounted number of persons have just given up looking for work.

If they were included, the number of jobless would be even more disturbing. Labor leaders also contend that large numbers of persons working only part time should be counted when considering how far the nation is falling behind its legally set goal of full employment.

The record number of those with jobs helped send total personal income to an annual rate of $440.4 billion in June, compared with $439.7 billion in May and $416 billion in June 1961. Also helping swell the total were higher interest paid on savings, larger dividends in many instances, higher rents in some places, and bigger fees for some services.

A Glow For Economy

This burgeoning total of personal income gave a glow to the whole economy. Disappointing was that the month-to-month increase had grown slimmer this year.

Consumers were spending this income and taking on debt without too much signs yet of scrimping. Total retail sales in June at $19.1 billion were down $3 million from May and below the April record of $19.6 billion, but comfortably above the June 1961 figure of $17.9 billion.

Department store sales for the year to mid July were 5 per cent ahead of the like period last year. Consumer instalment debt in May was $43.9 billion, up $4 million from April and $1.8 billion ahead of March, indicating the public was confident enough to take on new obligations.

On the bare statistics themselves—employment, income, consumer spending and instalment buying—the economy looked fairly healthy in midsummer. It was the slowing pace of growth that worried the planners, along with some warning signals that the pace might slacken further.

Thursday: Many industries flourishing even as they fret.

VOLUNTEER FIREMEN

Members of Woodstock Fire Company No. 3, serving the Willow-Lake Hill-Shady area toured their entire district in order to ascertain what affect the prolonged drought had on the water supply necessary to combat fire.

These volunteers found a very acute shortage of available water, and subsequently made a plea to the citizens of the area to list with the fire company the locations of any swimming pools and ponds that could be utilized in cases of emergency.

Once again the public is being served by a small group of dedicated men who will respond to a call for help at any hour of the day or night, and will use their own time to survey their area and endeavor to find ways and means to serve and protect their neighbors.

This type of dedication to a cause is the same basic conception that was present during the founding of this country. It motivated Paul Revere's famous ride, it determined the outcome of such history-making events as Lexington and Concord and Bunker Hill and Yorktown, and it has been the basis of the American way of living down through the years.

Our citizens should be truly appreciative of the efforts of those who man our volunteer fire departments, and stand ready to continue the peace and security which is our national heritage.

Now an electronics device is being tested that would eliminate the meter reader. With worldwide television coming on, the book reader may be eliminated, too.

BOMB IN ISRAEL?

The proliferation of nuclear weapons among more nations looms fearfully. The United States—and presumably even Russia—has been working strenuously to keep those devices in the hands of but three major powers.

France is on the threshold of an operational nuclear armament. And now the threat arises from a more worrisome source. According to reports from inside Israel, the Negev desert may soon bloom with the grim blossoms of nuclear explosion.

This possibility apparently is so close that some of Israel's own citizens seek the assistance of the United Nations to interrupt further development. But even were these rumors official reports, the U.N. would be powerless to do anything beyond using moral persuasion.

With good reason the world is concerned about nuclear weapons in the hands of Israel. This little neophyte state might not act as restrainedly with the weapons as have their present possessors. Most other nations are sympathetic with Israel's tenuous position, surrounded as she is by countries which have sworn to eliminate her at the first opportunity. Nonetheless, nuclear bombs would not be the things with which to fight back. This could only lead to international calamity.

The Israeli intellectuals who are seeking U.N. help are doing all they can for the moment. It is up to the member nations to proceed to bring nuclear weaponry under strict control.

By the year 2000 the world is expected to have more than six billion people, more than double its present population. That should mean full movie houses again. People will have to go somewhere to sit down.

SPIRIT OF ADVENTURE

Many admire but not many would care to emulate Francis Chichester, the 61-year-old Briton who broke his own record for single-handed sailing across the Atlantic.

Nevertheless, 33 days and 15 hours alone on the broad Atlantic—which was Chichester's time from Plymouth to New York—is a feat that stirs the imagination of many a captive 9-to-5 commuter.

'These Days'

COMMUNISM AND MARRIAGE

In the early days of the Bolshevik Revolution the institution of marriage was regarded as largely statistical. It was only necessary to register a marriage or a divorse to keep the vital statistics straight. The family was regarded as a capitalistic anachronism, as a custom dragged up from the Middle Ages. Children were encouraged to spy on their parents in the interest of the party. The Ten Commandments, with all the stuff about honoring thy father and thy mother, was accepted as part of the religious machinery to keep the masses enslaved.

After 45 years, the Communists are discovering that the family is a valuble institution beneficial not only to the individual but to the state. In Soviet Russia, for a long time, marriage has been expected to be inviolate and divorce increasingly difficult.

Now, according to this "Insider's Newsletter," East Germany is drafting a new marriage law which will require couples to file an application for marriage one month in advance of the ceremony—to permit a cooling-off period. Once wed, the couples will find it virtually imposible to break the bonds, except for physical cruelty or "chronic adultery." Under the new regulations, the guilty party in a divorce suit will be unable to remarry for at least three years.

This is a very tough break for the "chronic adulterer." Even in our society, the adulterer can find a way to get a divorce somewhere and almost immediately remarry and then go out and adult some more. He may continue this process ad infinitum or until he runs out of cash to pay alimony.

Poland is reported to have the longest marriage expectancy rate. This must be due to the prolongation of the influence of the Roman Catholic Church in that country. Still and all, the marriage expectancy rate for Poland is only 18 years which is not so very long. I have been maried going on 28 years to the same woman and find that now that she is maturing into middle age, she is a much more interesting person.

In Bulgaria and Soviet Russia the marriage expectancy is only nine years. That must be because the husbands get shot down so often. Besides, Russian peasant women seem to age very rapidly and some of them still wear ugly clothing. The men are not much to look at either because if they are entitled to stand on Lenin's Tomb for the May Day Parade, they are too fat. Most of the rest have too little to offer a smart and upcoming young lady—no minks, no diamonds, only Crimean champagne.

According to this account, the mariage expectancy of the Rumanians and Hungarians is the worst of all—only six years. Rumanians and Hungarians are rather handsome folks. The Rumanians are a mixture of Romans, Slavs and all the races of the Eastern Mediterranean. Their eyes flash. Rome used Rumania as a prison colony and probably sent its best prisoners there. They stayed and produced a race that likes to eat beef and garlic, a truly Roman habit.

The Rumanians had to decide whether they preferred the Communists to Mme. Lupescu and they chose the Communists. And now they are stuck with it. So they engage in the escapism of numerous marriages.

Americans know all about Hungary, having, in this country, four high-born refugees who make the front pages as often as posible. They are, of course, the Gabors—Mamma Jolie, Magda, Eva and Zsa Zsa. They are not only beautiful but also photogenic. Hungarians are a jolly people, all except those who are dead because Soviet tanks rolled over them or who are Catholics and worry about the fate of Cardinal Mindszenty.

I notice the report says nothing about Albania. That must be an oversight or perhaps a recognition of the Grand Schism, which Khrushchev is healing with more ease than Pope John XXIII is among the Christians. But then the Christians have freedom of choice whereas the Communists have to do or die, which is an unpleasant alternative.

Also nothing is said about the marriage expectancy of the Chinese. It would interest me to know how effectively Mao Tze-tung has suppressed plural marriage, to which most Chinese I knew were devoted. If the Chinese have really gone in for monogamy, their population will wither away what with hunger and disease.

And in many manufacturing companies the number of white collar employes has grown at a much faster rate than the ranks of the blue collar, or production, workers.

Think Some Give Up

The number of jobless in June was put at just under 4.5 million, or 5.5 per cent of the total labor force. But since the labor force is 285,000 smaller than a year ago although total population has grown, many observers feel that an uncounted number of persons have just given up looking for work.

If they were included, the number of jobless would be even more disturbing. Labor leaders also contend that large numbers of persons working only part time should be counted when considering how far the nation is falling behind its legally set goal of full employment.

The record number of those with jobs helped send total personal income to an annual rate of $440.4 billion in June, compared with $439.7 billion in May and $416 billion in June 1961. Also helping swell the total were higher interest paid on savings, larger dividends in many instances, higher rents in some places, and bigger fees for some services.

A Glow For Economy

This burgeoning total of personal income gave a glow to the whole economy. Disappointing was that the month-to-month increase had grown slimmer this year.

Consumers were spending this income and taking on debt without too much signs yet of scrimping. Total retail sales in June at $19.1 billion were down $3 million from May and below the April record of $19.6 billion, but comfortably above the June 1961 figure of $17.9 billion.

Department store sales for the year to mid July were 5 per cent ahead of the like period last year. Consumer instalment debt in May was $43.9 billion, up $4 million from April and $1.8 billion ahead of March, indicating the public was confident enough to take on new obligations.

On the bare statistics themselves—employment, income, consumer spending and instalment buying—the economy looked fairly healthy in midsummer. It was the slowing pace of growth that worried the planners, along with some warning signals that the pace might slacken further.

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Does President Kennedy's appointment of Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to be chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff represent a renewed emphasis on ground forces? This question is a vital one now as the far-reaching development of missiles and nuclear weapons seems to be bringing about a stalemate or balance of power so far as major wars are concerned.

One school of thought nowadays assumes that local wars are to be the order of the day and that this phase of American defense policy has been neglected. Gen. Taylor holds that view. He has been intimately identified in recent months with the buildup of forces in Berlin and in dealing with the guerrilla warfare problem in Southeast Asia.

There are, however, fundamental differences of opinion here as to what constitutes the safer strategy for the United States. The rivalry between the armed services has by no means been adjourned. The Air Force and the Navy, whose chiefs differed vigorously with Gen. Taylor when he was Chief of Staff of the Army, are bound to resume their lively debate over the way the money provided for national defense shall be spent.

Gen. Taylor, like a good many other men of positive views in the armed services, has been a controversial figure. He voluntarily retired as Chief of Staff of the Army in 1959 after he found himself in a one-to-three position versus the heads of the Navy and the Air Force and the chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who repeatedly sided against him. He felt that President Eisenhower, being an Army man, should have supported his views on building up conventional forces. After retiring, Gen. Taylor wrote a book, "The Uncertain Trumpet," which caused a lot of discussion as he reiterated the views he had unsuccessfully advocated in the meetings of the joint chiefs.

Kennedy Was Impressed

Mr. Kennedy was very much impressed with the book and used it as ammunition on the political stump in many campaign speeches. It was the basis on which the Democratic Presidential nominee criticized President Eisenhower for having failed to increase and modernize conventional forces, for having relied too much on the "massive deterrent" policy, and for setting budget ceilings on national defense.

When Gen. Taylor was selected as personal adviser to President Kennedy shortly after the Cuban "invasion" fiasco, many high officers in the armed services were a bit perturbed. Some of them felt that, since he was to be at the President's side constantly, it meant that the Joint Chiefs of Staff would be virtually subordinated to Gen. Taylor. For that reason, some of the top officers in the Navy and Air force said this week that they feel it is much better for Gen. Taylor to have the full responsibility as chairman of the Joint Chiefs than to be exercising influence on military matters at the White House as a personal assistant to the President.

The comment among various officers in the armed services is that Gen. Taylor was himself not a team player when he was a member of the Joint Chiefs. It is said he didn't feel bound to support decision with which he had disagreed. At the same time, some of these same officers recall that Gen. Taylor used to say that a chairman of the Joint Chiefs shouldn't be bossy or attempt to override his associates. There is speculation now whether he will adopt the same view if he encounters differences of opinion among his fellow staff officers.

Congress, of course, and particularly chairmen of the military affairs committees in both houses, will continue to show a sensitiveness to inter-service conflicts and differences. Gen. Taylor is no stranger to these committees, and some strong words of praise were spoken in his behalf on Capitol Hill the other day when he was appointed.

Lemnitzer's Age

Incidentally, Gen. Lyman L. Lemitzer, who was appointed to succeed Gen. Lauris Norstad at NATO, has passed the voluntary retirement age of 62. His departure will be mandatory next year when he is 64 unless Congress passes a special act to retain him in that post. He is not unfamiliar with NATO, since, as Chief of Staff of the Army, he has had to deal with its problems. Also, in the 1940's he was instrumental in formulating the original plans for the NATO operation.

The big question mark, however, is whether Gen. Taylor's appointment as head of the Joint Chiefs means the beginning of an effort on his part with the cooperation of Secretary of Defense McNamara and President Kennedy, to centralize control of the armed services. In his book, he advocated that the Joint Chiefs of Staff be dissolved and replaced by a single chief of staff and an advisory board, with the service chiefs of staff operating their individual military services.

An interesting innovation is taking place at the Monday night meetings of the Saugerties Lions Club since the inception of the new officers' terms two weeks ago.

Each member has been asked to report on his hobby and this week Frank Greco, who, in conjunction with three of his brothers, owns the Greco Brothers Stables, gave an interesting report on the care and breeding of horses for racing.

Ben Fein will be the member speaker next week when they meet at the Katsbaan Inn at 6:30. Fein, well known all over the Hudson Valley for his keen interest and participation in sports will discuss that subject.

Frank Costello, president, conducted the meeting. It was reliably reported that Bernard L. Rinaldi, Lion Tail Twister, performed the duties of his new office with perfection and added a tidy sum to the club's fund.

A community project of the Lions Club is the annual appeal for funds through the Blind Seal campaign. Letters were sent to area residents during the past month requesting financial aid in this project which costs close to $1000 a year to furnish glasses, Braille books, Talking books, white canes, eye examination and other necessities to aid in the care of the sight and sightless in the village and town of Saugerties. Contributions may be sent to James Dargan, chairman of the committee.

Restaurant Property Will Be Auctioned

A legal notice appearing recently in this paper makes known the fact that the Flamingo Restaurant and property located on Route 9W, Barclay Heights, will be sold at public auction Friday at 11 a. m. at the Town Building, Saugerties, by Daniel N. Lamb, Esq., referee.

An action brought by Arlene Costello and Adeline Martini, plaintiffs against Henry A. Rauch and June Rauch, defendants, in a judgment of foreclosure and sale was entered on June 1. Specific details of the property to be sold may be obtained from attorneys for the plaintiffs, Schirmer and Carnright, 110 Market Street.

Company Makes Fine Showing in Recent Skirmish

Recently Company G of the 120th New York Volunteer Infantry participated in a skirmish at Pine Lake and was credited with having made a fine showing for the first appearance at a skirmish.

This past Sunday the company was a part of the Centennial celebration for the formation of the 128th Infantry Regiment, Columbia County. The 120th finished third in an informal competition.

The original Company G was recruited in Saugerties Aug. 22, 1862. It was reactivated in August of 1959 by a group of local muzzle-loading enthusiasts. The company was admitted into the North-South Skirmish Association as probationary members in the fall of 1961.

On August 26, Company G will celebrate the centennial of the recruiting of the original 120th. Plans are being made for a skirmish with about 10 teams, a memorial service and a short parade at Saugerties.

Babysitters Have Fair Practice Union in Jersey

ROSELLE, N.J. (AP)—Six teenage babysitters, claiming that some parents have an obvious disregard of fair business practices, have banded together and laid down the law to their employers.

The girls, all 16 years old, drafted a six-point code of fair employment practice for the 308 families living in the Lockwood Village apartments, where the group does most of its sitting.

Adele Macy, spokesman for the sitters, said two offending parents have been put on an unfair list.

The Confederation of Babysitters does not consider itself a union, Miss Macy said, "but we have to cooperate to protect ourselves."

The six regulations, with Miss Macy's comments, are:

1. Babysitters must be paid the amount promised. "Some customers have been contracting to pay 75 cents an hour, then have reneged and paid only 50 cents."

2. A minimum one-day notice, except in an emergency. "Some persons call us on an hour's notice."

3. Notify the sitter if the television set is not working. "If we know there's no television we can bring a book."

4. No introduction of additional children. "Some persons recently have told us they have only two children and then before they leave they bring over three children of neighbors."

5. Time-and-a-half for afternoon assignments and for all hours after midnight. "The added charge for day work is because the children are all awake and it takes a lot more work to keep them quiet."

6. Treatment as babysitters and not as servants. "Some customers act as if we were in the pre-Civil War slave era. We are experienced babysitters and expect to be treated as such."

Warn Cars to Give Way to Atlas on Road

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—All motor vehicles were advised to leave the road today upon the approach of the first Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile to leave Plattsburgh Air Force Base for one of the 12 underground missile silos ringing the base.

New York and Vermont State Police were summoned to escort the eight-ton missile on its journey to the site near Swanton, Vt., a distance of about 40 miles.

The missile, minus fuel and reentry vehicle, was aboard a trailer 80 feet long and 16 feet wide, just about big enough for its cargo.

The routes for the trip and the time were not announced.

Rocky Requests That State Take Over Nuclear Control

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — Gov. Rockefeller is urging the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission to approve a plan under which New York State would assume control of a broad field of nuclear activities in the state.

Rockefeller made the request Tuesday in a letter accompanying the plan, which he sent to the AEC.

Should it be approved, the state would take over the responsibilities for licensing and regulation.

The AEC has issued a total of 711 licenses for atomic energy operations in the state—357 for medical uses, 219 for industrial, 174 for federal and state laboratories, 39 for colleges and universities, 12 for foundations and 10 for miscellaneous uses.

The proposed state control would not extend to nuclear reactors. Thus such installations as the Consolidated Edison plant at Indian Point, Westchester County, the reactor at the University of Buffalo, the Knolls Atomic Laboratory at Schenectady and the Brookhaven Laboratory on Long Island would remain under federal jurisdiction.

"The execution of an agreement between the commission and this state is in the best interest of the public health and safety and of the growing atomic energy industry," Rockefeller said.

The governor said the rules of the state Labor and Health departments and the New York City Health Department had been amended to provide for the supervision of atomic activities.

He said those agencies had provided special training to personnel to handle the program.

The governor's office said New York was the third state to seek permission to regulate atomic activities. California and Kentucky are the others.

Science at Work In World Today

Shooting Gallery

Space is a great shooting gallery, what with meteors and cosmic debris zipping around at speeds up to 150,000 miles an hour.

A hit on a space ship could kill its occupants. So at McGill University in Montreal, scientists are trying to design a wrap-around space shield which wouldn't crack under such impacts, and which also could withstand the hot gases generated if a meteor struck at such force and disintegrated.

Insect Enemy

The black widow spider has dropped out of the list of the top ten public enemies of the insect world, says the National Pest Control Association.

Some 25 years ago, this spider caused more human illness and deaths than now. The improvement is due largely to better sanitation and pest control methods, and advances in medical treatment. The bite is fatal in about 5 per cent of untreated cases.

Marine Shoots His Leg to Drain Off Snake Venom

PROSSER, Wash. (AP)—A young Marine deliberately shot a hole in the calf of his left leg Tuesday so the venom from a rattlesnake bite would drain with the blood.

Cpl. Albert Gordon Squair, 22, then limped a mile to his ranch home, and his parents took him to a hospital. Attendants said his condition was good.

Squair, on leave from Treasure Island, San Francisco, was hunting coyotes in the Horse Heaven Hills when the rattler struck.

Picketing London's

A picket began walking this morning in front of London's store, North Front Street. George E. Yerry Jr., president of the Ulster, Sullivan, Delaware and Grene County Building and Construction Trades Council, AFL-CIO, said the picketing is in protest against sub-standard wages and other conditions involved in the renovation of the store. The work, he said, was being done by Donald H. Schoonmaker, under the trade name of J. H. Schoonmaker & Son. Police headquarters was notified Tuesday that picketing would start this morning.

Shooting Gallery

Space is a great shooting gallery, what with meteors and cosmic debris zipping around at speeds up to 150,000 miles an hour.

A hit on a space ship could kill its occupants. So at McGill University in Montreal, scientists are trying to design a wrap-around space shield which wouldn't crack under such impacts, and which also could withstand the hot gases generated if a meteor struck at such force and disintegrated.

Insect Enemy

The black widow spider has dropped out of the list of the top ten public enemies of the insect world, says the National Pest Control Association.

Some 25 years ago, this spider caused more human illness and deaths than now. The improvement is due largely to better sanitation and pest control methods, and advances in medical treatment. The bite is fatal in about 5 per cent of untreated cases.

BMA Wants Probe Into Vaccination Against Smallpox

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—The British Medical Association today called for a searching government probe into the mass vaccination of infants against smallpox.

The powerful organization of Britain's 67,000 doctors acted less than 24 hours after a top microbiologist, Dr. George Dick, declared that mass vaccinations against smallpox killed more people than rare outbreaks of the disease itself.

Addressing the association's annual convention Tuesday night, Dick said that 20 babies a year would be sacrificed if the British Ministry of Health went ahead with a campaign to mass vaccinate children. He referred to fatal complications arising from vaccination.

In London, the Health Ministry said earlier it is holding to its goal of smallpox vaccinations for every British baby despite the report of Dick, who is head of the Department of Microbiology at Queen's University, Belfast.

The association began its own private reappraisal of the value of vaccination earlier this year after a smallpox outbreak that hit parts of England and Wales, killing 20 people. The outbreak scared millions of Britons into a rush for vaccinations.

Dick's report startled Britain, where vaccination for children is regarded as a routine procedure in the government child care program.

Dick said only persons likely to be exposed to smallpox should be vaccinated, and that others should be immunized only when an outbreak of the disease threatened.

He reported that in 10 years 2.6 million babies under a year old had been vaccinated, and of these 27 had died of complications. At present about one in every four infants is vaccinated.

2 Assault Charges Dismissed Today In City Court

Two third degree assault charges were dismissed in city court today and another was put over to Thursday when the defendant pleaded innocent.

A charge against Peter Johnson, 37, of 69 Liberty Street, was one dismissed. He was booked July 13 on a complaint of Florence Peterson, of Ann Street, who earlier in the month had charged him with attacking her with a jackknife. He was booked then for second degree assault and that case wen to the grand jury.

The other charge dismissed was against Frank Denter Jr., 39, of 210 Broadway. It was lodged recently by his wife, Margaret, police said.

Theodore R. Jones, 36, of 61 Newkirk Avenue, was arrestetd Tuesday on a warrant executed by Officers Thomas McGrane and Richard Scherer at Hasbrouck Avenue and East Union Street. Rachel Jones was listed as complainant. Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn put the case over to Thursday.

Robert DeDea, 29, of 110 Meadow Street, and Kenneth Banks, 27, of 57 Newkirk Avenue, charged with speeding, were fined $15 each, and Charles Nelson Shoemaker, 29, of 444 Washington Avenue, charged with driving an uninspected vehicle, was fined $5.

Religious 'Irrelevancy'

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — "For some reason, religious people seem prone to close their eyes to the real issues and give attention to non-essentials," the Rev. Dr. Daniel D. Walker of Santa Monica, Calif., told a meeting of Methodist laymen here.

"Often," he said, "the causes to which we dedicate ourselves are those that have already been won. We enter the fight but on the wrong battlefield."

He added:

"There is a world to be saved from destruction, and if we are God's men we had better get on with the task."

Pressure by Song

BOGOTA, Columbia (AP) — The Evangelical Confederation of Colombia issued copies of a song, "We Don't Want Protestants", which, the Confederation says, was composed and distributed by a priest in a public school assembly in Silvanta, Colombia.

The verses single out the Varela family, a local Protestant family which has three children in the school, the confederation said. An example: "Poor little mercenaries, Those who follow Varela, Who sell the Faith of Christ, For- coffee and sugar water."

Group Studies Suggestion of Force in Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. Congo Advisory Committee members today studied a suggestion by Acting Secretary-General U Thant that military force be used as a last resort to end the secession of the Congo's Katanga Province.

Committee members said Thant asked the 19-nation group during a closed-door meeting Tuesday their opinion of a military operation if economic pressure cannot end President Moise Tshombe's defiance of the central Congo government.

Thant told a news conference in London July 7 the United Nations was planning new action against mineral-rich Katanga. But he added: "It has never been my intention—and never will be my intention—to use any military initiative."

Katanga troops fought United Nations forces to a standstill last September. New fighting broke out in December and the United Nations won control of the center of Elisabethville, Katanga's capital.

Since then the United Nations has tried to negotiate a settlement between Tshombe and Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government. Negotiations were broken off in June, and Tshombe told a news conference Monday he no longer considers Adoula a valid spokesman for the central government.

Members of the Congo Committee said Thant also raised the possibility of an economic blockade against Katanga and asked whether the committee thought the Security Council should be called soon to consider the situation.

Katanga broke away from the central government two years ago and proclaimed an independent nation. The United Nations and several individual members, including the United States, have pressured Tshombe since to end the secession as the only way of giving the Congo a chance of reaching economic and political stability. Katanga's copper, cobalt and other mineral resources are the major asset of the former Belgian territory.

Most of the resources are controlled by the Belgian Union Miniere Corporation. The mining company presently pays taxes only to Katanga, and the United Nations wants a major portion shifted to the Leopoldville government.

Churchill's Injured Leg Is Improving

LONDON (AP)—A medical bulletin said today Sir Winston Churchill is now able to bear a part of his weight on his fractured left leg.

The 87-year-old wartime prime minister's doctors added that he is doing so well it is hoped no further medical bulletins will be needed until he leaves Middlesex Hospital.

Air Pollution, Smoking Impact To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for a broad scientific study of the impact of smoking and air pollution on health were announced today by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry of the Public Health Service.

A conference of representatives of seveal federal agencies, medical groups and the tobacco industry decided Tuesday a 12-member committee of scientists should be named to conduct the study.

The study is expected to start in mid-September. The first phase, limited to defining the nature and magnitude of the health hazard, will take about six months. How to proceed with the second phase—preparation of recommendations for action—will be decided when the first phase is completed.

Terry said the study will be concerned not only with tobacco, but all other factors which may be involved, including automobile exhaust and air pollution.

Participating in the agreement to conduct the study were representatives of these groups: American Cancer Society, American College of Chest Surgeons, American Heart Association, American Medical Association, the Tobacco Institute, Inc., Food and Drug Administration, National Tuberculosis Association, Federal Trade Commission and the Office of Science and Technology of the Office of the President.

The surgeon general will select the 12 members of the study committee from a list of more than 150 scientists in various fields compiled by the Public Health Service and the organizations represented at Tuesday's meeting.

Fall Was Fatal Reports Note

Confirmation of earlier investigation reports that Jean A. Chamberlain, 16, Town of LaGrange, was fatally injured June 26 in a fall down stairs in an unfinished house near his home, has been received by Dutchess County authorities from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan said FBI laboratory tests disclosed a piece of glass found embedded in the youth's shirt was the same type of glass found broken at the bottom of the stairs in a home under construction in the Merry Hill section of the Town of LaGrange.

Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Chamberlain, died as a result of a fractured larynx suffered when the youth's throat hit the stairway edge after stumbling.

"The laboratory tests proved that our original assumption that the youth fell down stairs was correct," Quinlan said. A report of the investigation will be turned over to District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta and County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester Golding, who will conduct a formal inquest.

BMA Wants Probe Into Vaccination Against Smallpox

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (AP)—The British Medical Association today called for a searching government probe into the mass vaccination of infants against smallpox.

The powerful organization of Britain's 67,000 doctors acted less than 24 hours after a top microbiologist, Dr. George Dick, declared that mass vaccinations against smallpox killed more people than rare outbreaks of the disease itself.

Addressing the association's annual convention Tuesday night, Dick said that 20 babies a year would be sacrificed if the British Ministry of Health went ahead with a campaign to mass vaccinate children. He referred to fatal complications arising from vaccination.

In London, the Health Ministry said earlier it is holding to its goal of smallpox vaccinations for every British baby despite the report of Dick, who is head of the Department of Microbiology at Queen's University, Belfast.

The association began its own private reappraisal of the value of vaccination earlier this year after a smallpox outbreak that hit parts of England and Wales, killing 20 people. The outbreak scared millions of Britons into a rush for vaccinations.

Dick's report startled Britain, where vaccination for children is regarded as a routine procedure in the government child care program.

Dick said only persons likely to be exposed to smallpox should be vaccinated, and that others should be immunized only when an outbreak of the disease threatened.

He reported that in 10 years 2.6 million babies under a year old had been vaccinated, and of these 27 had died of complications. At present about one in every four infants is vaccinated.

2 Assault Charges Dismissed Today In City Court

Two third degree assault charges were dismissed in city court today and another was put over to Thursday when the defendant pleaded innocent.

A charge against Peter Johnson, 37, of 69 Liberty Street, was one dismissed. He was booked July 13 on a complaint of Florence Peterson, of Ann Street, who earlier in the month had charged him with attacking her with a jackknife. He was booked then for second degree assault and that case wen to the grand jury.

The other charge dismissed was against Frank Denter Jr., 39, of 210 Broadway. It was lodged recently by his wife, Margaret, police said.

Theodore R. Jones, 36, of 61 Newkirk Avenue, was arrestetd Tuesday on a warrant executed by Officers Thomas McGrane and Richard Scherer at Hasbrouck Avenue and East Union Street. Rachel Jones was listed as complainant. Special City Judge Hugh R. Elwyn put the case over to Thursday.

Robert DeDea, 29, of 110 Meadow Street, and Kenneth Banks, 27, of 57 Newkirk Avenue, charged with speeding, were fined $15 each, and Charles Nelson Shoemaker, 29, of 444 Washington Avenue, charged with driving an uninspected vehicle, was fined $5.

Religious 'Irrelevancy'

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP) — "For some reason, religious people seem prone to close their eyes to the real issues and give attention to non-essentials," the Rev. Dr. Daniel D. Walker of Santa Monica, Calif., told a meeting of Methodist laymen here.

"Often," he said, "the causes to which we dedicate ourselves are those that have already been won. We enter the fight but on the wrong battlefield."

He added:

"There is a world to be saved from destruction, and if we are God's men we had better get on with the task."

Pressure by Song

BOGOTA, Columbia (AP) — The Evangelical Confederation of Colombia issued copies of a song, "We Don't Want Protestants", which, the Confederation says, was composed and distributed by a priest in a public school assembly in Silvanta, Colombia.

The verses single out the Varela family, a local Protestant family which has three children in the school, the confederation said. An example: "Poor little mercenaries, Those who follow Varela, Who sell the Faith of Christ, For- coffee and sugar water."

Scrub Those Sneakers

Tennis shoes and canvas sneakers will go into the washing machine, too. First scrub heavily soiled spots with a sudsy brush and tie the laces together. To speed drying, stuff toes with cloths or tissue paper.

Why is it when a couple thinks they're made for each other, she usually starts to make alterations?

Group Studies Suggestion of Force in Congo

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —U.N. Congo Advisory Committee members today studied a suggestion by Acting Secretary-General U Thant that military force be used as a last resort to end the secession of the Congo's Katanga Province.

Committee members said Thant asked the 19-nation group during a closed-door meeting Tuesday their opinion of a military operation if economic pressure cannot end President Moise Tshombe's defiance of the central Congo government.

Thant told a news conference in London July 7 the United Nations was planning new action against mineral-rich Katanga. But he added: "It has never been my intention—and never will be my intention—to use any military initiative."

Katanga troops fought United Nations forces to a standstill last September. New fighting broke out in December and the United Nations won control of the center of Elisabethville, Katanga's capital.

Since then the United Nations has tried to negotiate a settlement between Tshombe and Premier Cyrille Adoula of the central government. Negotiations were broken off in June, and Tshombe told a news conference Monday he no longer considers Adoula a valid spokesman for the central government.

Members of the Congo Committee said Thant also raised the possibility of an economic blockade against Katanga and asked whether the committee thought the Security Council should be called soon to consider the situation.

Katanga broke away from the central government two years ago and proclaimed an independent nation. The United Nations and several individual members, including the United States, have pressured Tshombe since to end the secession as the only way of giving the Congo a chance of reaching economic and political stability. Katanga's copper, cobalt and other mineral resources are the major asset of the former Belgian territory.

Most of the resources are controlled by the Belgian Union Miniere Corporation. The mining company presently pays taxes only to Katanga, and the United Nations wants a major portion shifted to the Leopoldville government.

No Injuries Noted In Car, Bus Mishap

Occupants of a bus and a sedan escaped injury late Monday, when the vehicles collided at Mill and North Bridge Streets, Poughkeepsie.

Acting Police Chief Frank McManus said a car driven by Mrs. Lucy Gray, 30, of 40 North Bridge Street, Poughkeepsie, was traveling north on North Bridge Street, and a bus owned by the Wallkill Valley Motor Service Inc., North Chestnut Street, New Paltz, was going east on Mill Street at the time of the collision.

Police said the bus was driven by Wayne W. Schubert, 44, of Ulster Avenue, Ulster Park. No injuries were reported.

Churchill's Injured Leg Is Improving

LONDON (AP)—A medical bulletin said today Sir Winston Churchill is now able to bear a part of his weight on his fractured left leg.

The 87-year-old wartime prime minister's doctors added that he is doing so well it is hoped no further medical bulletins will be needed until he leaves Middlesex Hospital.

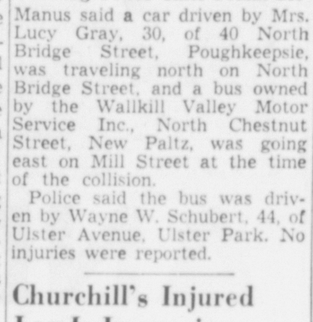
matter of Fact



Weight gained will be the same whether you eat a certain amount of food at three meals or nibble through the day. However, experiments show that nibblers will have a more favorable body composition than the meal-eaters. Over a two-week period, meal-eaters absorbed more fat, showed a decrease in water and protein content, a decrease in thyroid activity and a difference in intracellular enzyme activity.

Air Pollution, Smoking Impact To Be Studied

WASHINGTON (AP)—Plans for a broad scientific study of the impact of smoking and air pollution on health were announced today by Surgeon General Luther L. Terry of the Public Health Service.

A conference of representatives of seveal federal agencies, medical groups and the tobacco industry decided Tuesday a 12-member committee of scientists should be named to conduct the study.

The study is expected to start in mid-September. The first phase, limited to defining the nature and magnitude of the health hazard, will take about six months. How to proceed with the second phase—preparation of recommendations for action—will be decided when the first phase is completed.

Terry said the study will be concerned not only with tobacco, but all other factors which may be involved, including automobile exhaust and air pollution.

Participating in the agreement to conduct the study were representatives of these groups: American Cancer Society, American College of Chest Surgeons, American Heart Association, American Medical Association, the Tobacco Institute, Inc., Food and Drug Administration, National Tuberculosis Association, Federal Trade Commission and the Office of Science and Technology of the Office of the President.

The surgeon general will select the 12 members of the study committee from a list of more than 150 scientists in various fields compiled by the Public Health Service and the organizations represented at Tuesday's meeting.

Fall Was Fatal Reports Note

Confirmation of earlier investigation reports that Jean A. Chamberlain, 16, Town of LaGrange, was fatally injured June 26 in a fall down stairs in an unfinished house near his home, has been received by Dutchess County authorities from the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Sheriff Lawrence Quinlan said FBI laboratory tests disclosed a piece of glass found embedded in the youth's shirt was the same type of glass found broken at the bottom of the stairs in a home under construction in the Merry Hill section of the Town of LaGrange.

Chamberlain, son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Chamberlain, died as a result of a fractured larynx suffered when the youth's throat hit the stairway edge after stumbling.

"The laboratory tests proved that our original assumption that the youth fell down stairs was correct," Quinlan said. A report of the investigation will be turned over to District Attorney Raymond C. Baratta and County Medical Examiner Dr. Chester Golding, who will conduct a formal inquest.

Faces ABC Charges

A 41-year-old Town of Poughkeepsie grocer was scheduled to appear today at 7 p. m., before Justice of the Peace Donald Holden, that township, on charge of selling alcoholic beverages to a minor. Samuel Forman, operator of Forman's grocery, posted a $25 bond. Town police said the arrest stemmed from the apprehension of four Poughkeepsie High School youths in a Poughkeepsie city park last Friday on disorderly conduct charges.

High Food Prices Send Living Costs Up During June

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs edged up in June to another new record largely because of higher food prices, especially cost of restaurant meals.

The Labor Department announced today its consumer price index rose one-tenth of one per cent to 105.3 per cent of the 1957-59 base period. This means that the value of the dollar in retail markets is about 5 cents less than in the comparative period.

The June living cost rise was largely attributed to a 9 per cent increase in prices of fresh fruits but this was largely seasonal.

Restaurant meals rose one-half of one per cent in the month. The over-all food index is now at a record high with grocery store prices up by one per cent from last year and restaurant meals 2.8 per cent above a year ago.

The over-all living cost index has increased eight-tenths of one per cent since the start of this year, and has set new records in four of the six months. Compared with a year ago living costs are 1.2 per cent higher.

Sees Higher Cost

Robert J. Myers, the Labor Department price expert, said July price trends are cloudy but that he thought a further small living cost increase was likely.

Commenting on the continuing rise in prices of restaurant meals, Myers said labor costs of restaurant operators undoubtedly have been going up somewhat but that the Labor Department had noticed that the largest away-from-home meal increases have been in cities that cater to the tourist trade.

In that connection, Myers said restaurant meals went up 1.7 per cent in New York City in June and 1.2 per cent in Washington. He said the demand factor apparently had something to do with higher restaurant meal costs.

The Labor Department also announced that average earnings of factory workers rose to a new high in June. The after-tax earnings of the worker heading a family of four averaged $85.91 weekly, up from $85.73 in May.

Small Earnings Rise

Myers said the earnings rise was one of the smallest May-June increases in many years and was largely due to somewhat longer working hours.

Cost of services continued their gradual rise in June. Price increases also were reported for used cars, women's and girls clothes and household textiles. Prices of gasoline, coal and petroleum fuels, cosmetics and household durables were a bit lower.

The June living cost rise will bring wage increases for approximately 40,000 workers whose wages are subject under union contracts to revision on the basis of the new index.

About 26,000 workers including approximately 17,000 Greyhound bus drivers, are due to get a one-cent hourly increase. About 2,000 chemical workers are due an extra two cents an hour.

Two-cent increases also are due some 8,500 cartage employes in California. About 3,500 San Francisco truck drivers are due a half-cent hourly raise.

Medical care costs rose three-tenths of one per cent in June. Myers reported that in the past year hospital room rates have increased 6 per cent, hospital insurance costs 4.8 per cent, professional medical services, 3.2 per cent, and surgical insurance 0.1 per cent. Costs of prescriptions and drugs, however, have declined 1.3 per cent in the past year.

Do You Remember by Sophie Miller

I had to do some research on the Clinton family and Miss Townsend, acting director of the Kingston City Library, loaned me two books which may be of interest to Kingstonians, and very much so to students studying local and state history. One book is called "His Excellency, George Clinton" by E. Wilder Spaulding which was published by the MacMillan Co. of New York in 1938. It has a number of good illustrations, one being of Aaron Burr, a fine portrait by our Kingston artist, John Vanderlyn.

The other book is of De Witt Clinton by Dorothie Bobbe published in 1933 by Minton, Balch and Co. They were both governors at two different times, and DeWitt Clinton is connected with the history of Erie Canal. There are many Clintons who lived interesting and productive lives and helped put this country on its feet. They had much to do with New York State, Ulster County and Kingston. Charles Clinton and his wife, the former Elizabeth Denniston, their two small daughters and their son, left Ireland, leased their County Longford estate to the Earl of Granard for 99 years and sailed on May 20th, 1729 for America. They arrived in America five months later on October 4th, 1729, after having to bury two of their children at sea, because of the mean and bad seamanship of Captain Rymer. Their food shrank to a half-biscuit and a half-pint of water per day, per person. Yet little did the Clintons imagine what a bright and glorious future lay ahead for them in the promised land of America and New York State.

On page 11 of the DeWitt Clinton book the author tells about the first DeWitt to come to America back in 1613. He was the captain of a Dutch ship, the Little Fox, some seven years before the Pilgrims landed at Plymouth Rock, 13 years before Minuit bought Manhattan Island. It is said, the earliest of Mary DeWitt's direct line was Tjerck Classen DeWitt, who came to New Amsterdam from Grootholdt in Zunderlandt in the early 1630's; settled eventually at Wiltwyck, or Esopus or Kingston, as our section was successively called. Then the author gives the number of children they had and how they settled in Napanoch, Wawarsing, Ulster County, etc. Then they tell about Mary DeWitt who married Colonel James Clinton. Anyone in this county of Ulster or Kingston with these names should be interested in both of these books.

These books tell about George Clinton, who married Cornelia Tappen of Kingston. They tell about the burning of Kingston, including Mr. Addison's Academy building and how George Clinton as Governor had to move from one capitol to another, Kingston, Poughkeepsie and Albany as the case may be. If anyone living around here now thinks that we are in the midst of trials and tribulations, he should read both these books and he will see that they had plenty of excitement then about the same problems. There was the school system, politics, transportation and wars like in any century. These books are full of local history and are written for enjoyment as well as information and can be had at the local libraries.

Mohawk Airlines to Use All Jets in Business

UTICA, N.Y. (AP) — Mohawk Airlines says it will be the first regional airline in the country to use a jet fleet.

Mohawk President Robert Peach announced Tuesday night it had ordered four twin-jet 111s from the British Aircraft Corp.

Peach said the airline had decided tentatively to provide jet service in New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Boston, Hartford, Burlington, Vt., and Buffalo, Binghamton and Utica, N.Y.

Mohawk operates in 53 cities in 10 states with 29 Convair and Martin twin-engine planes. The company also will service Toronto later this year.

Confirmation Still Up In Air on Cooper

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate confirmation of Irving Ben Cooper as a federal judge for the Southern District of New York was still up in the air today following his dramatic 'appearance before a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

During an impassioned plea before the subcommittee Tuesday, Cooper admitted to a short temper during his 22 years as a New York City judge but blamed it on "human shortcomings."

Cooper said every assignment he tackled in New York's Special Sessions Court was fraught and saturated with pressures.

"There was no pity on my emotional being," he said. "No letup of that miserable panorama of horror that went on in that court."

Senate confirmation of Cooper, who now is serving under a recess appointment, is opposed by the American and New York City Bar Associations. They claim he lacks judicial temperament.

There was no indication from Tuesday's hearing how they would vote on Cooper's nomination by president Kennedy. Another session was scheduled for Tuesday when subcommittee members plan to question Cooper.

Cooper was sworn in as a federal judge last October after Congress adjourned. This recess appointment expires when Congress adjourns this year or when, and if, he is confirmed by the Senate.

Mohawk President Robert Peach announced Tuesday night it had ordered four twin-jet 111s from the British Aircraft Corp. for delivery early in 1965.

He said the craft were capable of carrying 65 passengers at a cruising speed of 540 miles an hour. This would cut flight time on present schedules of piston aircraft by 30 per cent, he said.

Peach said the airline had decided tentatively to provide jet service in New York, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Detroit, Boston, Hartford, Burlington, Vt., and Buffalo, Binghamton and Utica, N.Y.

Mohawk operates in 53 cities in 10 states with 29 Convair and Martin twin-engine planes. The company also will service Toronto later this year.

Area Witnesses Attend Parley At Jersey City

The Kingston Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses returned this week from Jersey City, N. J., where they heard instruction from more than 30 qualified and experienced ministers at their "Courageous Ministers" District Assembly.

Ernest Kidd, presiding minister of the local congregation, reported that 379 persons were baptized Saturday after the lecture, "Baptism, A Courageous Step," by J. O. Groh, assistant secretary-treasurer of the Watchtower Society.

A total of 22,229 were in attendance at the public lecture, "Take courage . . . God's Kingdom Is at Hand," delivered by Edward A. Dunlap, registrar and instructor at the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead. The audience listened with rapt attention to Dunlap as he forcefully brought out why all persons of good will should take courage now. He stated:

"The blessings of God's Kingdom will come in our own generation." Dunlap continued by pointing out, "We can take courage in spite of the fact that world affairs today are so frightening. The only solution to the problem is to study "God's Word, the Holy Bible and then apply the counsel in our daily lives."

The three-day assembly highlighted Bible talks, dramatizations for Bible teaching and ministerial experiences. Parents and children were instructed in Godly principles of conduct as found in the Bible.

"The fine instruction received to assist us in continuing as courageous ministers was truly appreciated. The new things learned in regard to our educational work will certainly be put to use locally in our congregation and will definitely improve the quality of our ministry," Kidd said.

Who's President?

ATHENS, Ala. (AP) — When Mrs. Henry Kennedy leaves a message for someone to call her, she frequently adds:

"If you forget the name, just think of the name of the President."

Then one night her husband answered the telephone and a voice asked:

"May I speak with Mrs. Roosevelt?"

Rochester Man Held On Murder Charge

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Ruben Rodriques, 25, was under a second-degree murder charge today in the July 16 stabbing of a friend that climaxed an argument over how loud to play a record player.

The victim, Juan Reyes, was killed with a butcher knife during a struggle that followed a beer-drinking session in his apartment, police said.

Rodriques was booked Tuesday after his release from Strong Memorial Hospital where he was treated for self-inflicted razor wounds and head injuries suffered during a battle with police after the stabbing.

Detectives said Rodriques held off patrolmen for 10 minutes with a razor blade before they knocked him unconscious with pistol butts.

Welcome Home Planned Aug. 5 For Reservists

In recognition of their one year active duty at Fort Bragg, N. C., appropriate welcome home ceremonies are being formulated for the officers and men of the 380th Chemical Company (Maint) according to M/Sgt. Thomas B. Connery, NCO in charge of the United States Army Reserve Center on Flatbush Avenue, Kingston.

Kingston and area residents returning include Pfc. James Bonestell, 100 Hasbrouck Avenue; Sp4 John R. Celuch, 70 O'Neil Street; Pfc. Ralph A. Donnelly, 39 West Union Street; Pfc. James J. Fairley, 448 Broadway; Pfc. Arnold F. Fischer, 103 Hasbrouck Avenue; Pfc. George E. Fisher, 57 Main Street, Rosendale, and Sgt. Marvin J. Miller, 197 Fourth Avenue.

Sgt. Connery said that the 280th Chemical Company is scheduled to depart from Fort Bragg, N. C., August 5 and that the welcome home ceremonies will take place Wednesday, Aug. 8, at 2 p. m. at the United States Army Reserve Center on Flatbush Avenue.

August 8 is also the date of deactivation of this reserve unit which was alerted on August 8, 1961, under President Kennedy's callup of the National Guard and the Army Reserves due to the international situation at that time.

Sgt. Connery said that the program is planned as a sincere expression of thanks to the returning reservists from a grateful community in recognition of the one year that these men gave in the service of their country.

"The communities realize that the lives of these men, their careers and their businesses have been interrupted, but by their unselfish devotion to duty, America and its Allies are stronger and are better able to withstand the assault of any potential aggressor," said Sgt. Connery.

Inasmuch as the 380th Chemical Company was the only reserve unit called to active duty last year from the Hudson Valley, Sgt. Connery expressed sincere hopes for a large turnout.

Area Witnesses Attend Parley At Jersey City

The Kingston Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses returned this week from Jersey City, N. J., where they heard instruction from more than 30 qualified and experienced ministers at their "Courageous Ministers" District Assembly.

Ernest Kidd, presiding minister of the local congregation, reported that 379 persons were baptized Saturday after the lecture, "Baptism, A Courageous Step," by J. O. Groh, assistant secretary-treasurer of the Watchtower Society.

A total of 22,229 were in attendance at the public lecture, "Take courage . . . God's Kingdom Is at Hand," delivered by Edward A. Dunlap, registrar and instructor at the Watchtower Bible School of Gilead. The audience listened with rapt attention to Dunlap as he forcefully brought out why all persons of good will should take courage now. He stated:

"The blessings of God's Kingdom will come in our own generation." Dunlap continued by pointing out, "We can take courage in spite of the fact that world affairs today are so frightening. The only solution to the problem is to study "God's Word, the Holy Bible and then apply the counsel in our daily lives."

The three-day assembly highlighted Bible talks, dramatizations for Bible teaching and ministerial experiences. Parents and children were instructed in Godly principles of conduct as found in the Bible.

"The fine instruction received to assist us in continuing as courageous ministers was truly appreciated. The new things learned in regard to our educational work will certainly be put to use locally in our congregation and will definitely improve the quality of our ministry," Kidd said.

Who's President?

ATHENS, Ala. (AP) — When Mrs. Henry Kennedy leaves a message for someone to call her, she frequently adds:

"If you forget the name, just think of the name of the President."

Then one night her husband answered the telephone and a voice asked:

"May I speak with Mrs. Roosevelt?"

A study of a leading insurance company indicated that in a group of policyholders there was no general trend toward an increase in blood pressure with age. It was noted that the chances for developing high blood pressure were greater for persons whose initial levels were slightly above average. Other studies indicated a definite relationship between development of high blood pressure and its presence in one or both parents.

A study of a leading insurance company indicated that in a group of policyholders there was no general trend toward an increase in blood pressure with age. It was noted that the chances for developing high blood pressure were greater for persons whose initial levels were slightly above average. Other studies indicated a definite relationship between development of high blood pressure and its presence in one or both parents.

"I just came in for a battery check!"

Thruway Revenue Is $26,124,015 First Six Months

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Revenues on the State Thruway reached a record $26,124,015 in the first six months of this year. This was 11.58 per cent more than the total for the first half of 1961.

The total number of miles travelled by vehicles using the superhighway also hit a record high—1,082,892,771, a gain of nearly 10 per cent over the corresponding period of last year.

The Thruway Authority said in a report today that operating expenses had climbed to $8,324,675, up from $7,545,186 a year ago.

In addition to operating expenses, revenues also were used for installments on the debt incurred to build the billion-dollar road. The sum of $1.7 million was put into reserves for replacing building equipment and for the authority's long - range, heavy maintenance program.

The report did not deal with a bond issue floated by the authority earlier this year. Revenues from that were used to repay $40 million to the state, which had loaned the money to allow beginning of construction of the Thruway. Other bond revenues were earmarked for further, major construction.

Mayor Unhappy

LOCKPORT, N.Y. (AP)—Mayor Robert T. Richards was unhappy over public reaction to his order limiting municipal employes to two 15-minute coffee breaks a day.

"We have received no calls at City Hall which favor this crackdown. Frankly, I am very disappointed," he said.

Killed on Highway

WEST WINFIELD, N.Y. (AP)—A woman whose son was killed recently in an automobile accident was struck and killed by a tractor-trailer Tuesday night on Route 20 near her home in the neighboring community of East Winfield.

The victim was Mrs. Ellen Oblak, about 40.

12 Cyclists Hurt

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Twelve bicycle-riders, aged 5 to 15, were injured in accidents on city streets last month, all but one in collisions with automobiles.

Squeeze Play Makes Small Slam

BY OSWALD JACOBY
Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

I happened to run into Waldemar von Zedtwitz right after I finished writing yesterday's article. When I told him about it he said. "Here's a hand I played yesterday and not 30 years ago.

"The opponents were vulnerable and we were not, so I decided to open with a weak four-heart bid. My partner should have given me leeway, but he didn't and I found myself in a slam.

"West opened the ace of spades and shifted to the deuce of diamonds. I knew that he wasn't the sort of player who would lead from a king at that point, so I went right up with dummy's ace of diamonds. I cashed six trump tricks and discarded all dummy's diamonds. West threw the eight and ten of diamonds, two spades and a club, while East let go the six and jack of diamonds and three clubs.

"By this time I was so sure that West was holding three clubs and two spades and East two spades, two clubs and the king of diamonds that I could have spread my hand and claimed on a squeeze, but I played the hand out anyway."

Do you see how the squeeze would operate from then on? Waldy simply led a club to dummy's ace, ruffed a club and played his last trump. West had to discard a spade to hang on to the good club. Waldy threw dummy's last club and East had to discard a spade to hold the king of diamonds.

Picture in Congress

Democrats Not Sticking Together for President

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower got a lot more help from the Democrats in Congress in his first 18 months than the Republicans have given President Kennedy.

Eisenhower said thanks to the Democrats in public. Kennedy is beginning to lean on the Republicans. They expressed themselves in different ways.

Twice — after the 1953 congressional session and again after the one in 1954 — Eisenhower in broadcasts to the people reported gratefully how Congress treated his programs.

Kennedy has never made such a report. He had practically no criticism of the Republicans last year. But now he's getting heated although only in news conferences. The one this week was an example.

There's political irony, and embarrassment for Kennedy, in the two situations.

In Eisenhower's first two years Republicans so thinly outnumbered Democrats that the latter, if they had been so-minded, with the help of just a few Republican deserters, could have been a wrecking crew.

Not Sticking Together

Under Kennedy the Democrats in Congress enormously outnumber Republicans. By voting together, they could have rammed through any Kennedy program, even if Republicans solidly voted against. The Democrats didn't stick together.

Whole batches of them deserted party ranks to join the Republicans, who—unlike the Democrats in Eisenhower's time — have ganged up to annihilate most of the President's projects.

In his broadcasts Eisenhower, like a typical politician, didn't want to give the Democrats any unnecessary advertising. So, even while praising them, he avoided mentioning Democrats by name.

In 1953 he praised the "unprecedented unity that crosses party lines" and the "high sense of duty" in the Congress he dealt with.

Beat Him To It

Actually, the Democrats beat him to it in claiming credit for help.

Lyndon B. Johnson, now vice president but then Democratic leader in the Senate, said: "Practically every major item of the President's program" had been supported by the Democrats and much of it "could not have been passed without the Democrats."

Eisenhower's broadcast gratitude in 1954 was politically remarkable, coming as it did at the start of that year's congressional election campaigns.

He said he saluted Congress for its work and its "almost unprecedented coordination between House and Senate." He was particularly thankful for the "cooperation between Congress and the White House."

Average .830

He claimed "54 hits" out of 64 "legislative projects" for a "batting average of .830."

The elections that year were tremendously important—and, as it turned out, fateful—for the Republicans because in 1954 this was the party lineup in Congress:

In the Senate—48 Democrats, 47 Republicans, one independent; in the House—219 Republicans, 215 Democrats, and one independent.

That year the Republicans lost control of Congress to the Democrats, who have beaten them in every election since.

The Lineup Now

Now this is the lineup in the Democratic-run Congress Kennedy deals with: in the Senate—64 Democrats, 35 Republicans, one vacancy; in the House—262 Democrats, 174 Republicans, one vacancy.

Kennedy—as his legislative frustrations pile up — is increasingly caustic about the Republicans and is even getting a little critical of the Democrats who joined the Republicans against him.

At his news conference this week, he said Republicans, with very few exceptions, had "opposed every measure that we put forward" and were "joined by some Democrats who, for a great many years, have opposed a good many Democratic programs."

He sounded wistful as he said: "Now we don't get any Republicans any more for any measure" —except for foreign ones like aid and trade—" and even there the (Republican) leadership opposed us."

Berlin Wall Seen On Live Telecast

NEW YORK (AP)—The awesome and chilling image of the Berlin wall was brought home to Americans Tuesday night—literally—as a live telecast of the barrier dividing the city was flashed to the United States via Telstar.

The program originated in the American sector of Berlin, at Heinrich Heine-Strasse, where there is a crossing point for West Germans to enter East Berlin. It was carried by the National Broadcasting Co. as, for the first time in history, all three major American networks offered individual live television news reports from Europe.

The Columbia Broadcasting System presented a live program from Paris and a part-live, part-taped newscast from Geneva.

In the NBC transmission from Berlin—120 miles behind the Iron Curtain —floodlights illuminated the barbed wire and the armed guards at the wall, while cameras picked up the image that was fed to Telstar and, ultimately, to home screens in the United States.

Associated Press newsman George Boultwood reported in a cabled dispatch from Berlin that the East German guards on the wall showed lively interest as the West Berlin equipment was set up.

The Reds called up a water cannon on their side of the wall, Boultwood reported, but they did not interfere with the transmission.

Wrong Time, Wrong Place

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The emergency room at Morton F. Plant Hospital was busy with an attempted suicide, a knifing victim and a patient frantic with the hives. The telephone rang.

"I don't know what to do and I thought you might be able to advise me," the caller said. "You see our little dog has chewed up my husband's blood pressure pills and I'm unable to contact my vet."

The emergency room nurse's advice was short and to the point:

"Call another vet."

Name Counselor To Interview for Nursing Position

LT. EDITH WILLIAMS

The Army Nurse Corps announced recently that it has assigned First Lieutenant Edith Williams as ANC counselor for New England.

Lt. Williams will assist Major Marian Setter, chief nurse procurement officer for New England, in her duties of addressing nursing schools and hospitals in this area, and interviewing and processing qualified young women interested in a career as an Army Nurse.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Lt. Williams is well acquainted with the program she is now explaining to nurses and students of nursing throughout New England. She was enrolled in the Army Student Nurse Program from August, 1956 to September, 1957, the last year of her duties at the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, Kingston, Pa.

Young women who are interested in the nursing profession in general, and the career of an Army Nurse in particular, may arrange an interview by contacting the Kingston Army recruiter, Sgt. Edward Malenski, at Municipal Auditorium, 467 Broadway.

Advise on Flu Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service is urging persons 45 and older to get flu shots before next winter, when widespread Asian flue is anticipated.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry recommends the flu shot series be started as soon as possible after Sept. 1 and completed by mid-December.

Bloomington Co. Will Take Part In Vols Parade

Herb Faurote, second vice president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, and director of parade preparations for the Bloomington Fire Co., Inc., announces that the company has pledged its participation in the upcoming annual County Firemen's Parade Saturday at Port Ewen. Parade time is 5 p. m.

Faurote also has issued a reminder to all Bloomington firemen to be at the firehouse on Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in full uniform for the departure as a unit to Port Ewen. Bloomington has been placed in the second division of the parade and in cooperation with Active Hose Co. of Rosendale has contracted the Joyce-Schirick V.F.W. Drum & Bugle Corps, The Red Devils, to provide the music. The Bloomington-Rosendale formation will be Rosendale, The Red Devils and Bloomington, followed by the two companies' apparatus.

The parade is the culmination of the County Association's annual convention which begins Thursday evening with the annual banquet and entertainment at the New Paltz Legion Hall. The Esopus firehouse is the scene of the annual election of officers meeting Friday.

Oscar Lambert of Esopus is the Association's current president and following the traditional custom, the convention is being hosted by the president's home company, Esopus and the Town of Esopus Association. Should the current vice president be elected president Friday night as is expected, Saugerties will be the scene of the 1963 convention. It is also anticipated that Herb Faurote will move up to vice president and should he be elected president next year, Bloomington and the Township of Rosendale Association will have the honor of hosting the convention festivities in 1964.

Leslie Evory, chairman, has announced that Bloomington's annual clambake has been scheduled this year for Sunday September 9, on the firehouse grounds.

All Bloomington District residents as well as any interested individuals outside the district are reminded that the current issue of the Bloomington Fire Co. News is now available. The News, written, edited and published by the company each month, is available free of charge at Reilly's or Yonnetti's in Bloomington or at the Eddyville Post Office.

Governor Against Executive Civil Service

HARRISBURG, (AP) — Gov. Lawrence says he favors the idea of extending Civil Service to more state employes in Pennsylvania—but not by executive action.

"If Civil Service is going to become part of the laws of the state, it ought to have some legal backing and some firmness," Lawrence told his weekly news conference Tuesday.

The governor said he does not subscribe to the basic principal of executive Civil Service "because it can be juggled around to suit the whim of the executive."

"He can put it in, then take it out, put it in and take it out as he pleases," Lawrence declared, noting that executive Civil Service is impermanent compared to statutory Civil Service provided by the legislature.

Lawrence's comments on Civil Service stemmed from a speech made earlier in the day in Erie by U.S. Rep. William W. Scranton, the Republican candidate for governor.

Scranton attacked Lawrence on his stand on Civil Service for state police, claiming that if he was sincere he could grant it any time by executive order.

Currently, 26,000 employes in Pennsylvania are covered by Civil Service—some 15,000 under statutory Civil Service and the remainder by executive coverage. There are some 80,000 state employes at present.

The legislature defeated a bill in 1959 that would have extended statutory protection to state employes now covered by executive Civil Service.

Two Many Twins

Then the problem arose. Was the new appointee Robert Roylston or his twin Richard? To save an embarrassing question, the officials decided to wait until the new board met and see which Roylston showed up.

Confident on Laos

NEW YORK (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow, says he trusts Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to keep his word in carrying out the Geneva agreement guaranteeing the independence of Laos.

Boy, 16, Dies Today Of Crash Injuries

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy died early today of injuries suffered in the collision of three motorcycles at the top of a hill in Wayne County about 20 miles northwest of here. Three other cyclists were injured, one critically.

Harlow Everett, 22, of Wolcott, with whom Lasch was riding, was reported in fair condition. James P. Powers, 19, of Wolcott, operator of the third cycle, was treated by a doctor and discharged.

State Police said cycles driven by Powers and Winter preceded Everett over the crest of a hill on a rural road near South Butler late Tuesday night. After they were out of Everett's sight, troopers said, Powers and Winter made U-turns. Everett's cycle crashed into the other machines, police said.

ROAMING PERIOD ENDED—Veterinarian Dr. N. L. Tim McLeod gives Sputnik a checkup after dog's ten-day orbit of Austin, Texas, ended. The dog, a Campon, peculiar to Java, was flown to Austin from Indonesia ahead of its master, Prof. W. F. Helwig. It disappeared, was sighted at various spots around town, and finally found—back at the air terminal, sniffing at incoming passengers and eyeing outgoing planes, its effort toward a reunion with its master. Berlin Wall Seen On Live Telecast

NEW YORK (AP)—The awesome and chilling image of the Berlin wall was brought home to Americans Tuesday night—literally—as a live telecast of the barrier dividing the city was flashed to the United States via Telstar.

The program originated in the American sector of Berlin, at Heinrich Heine-Strasse, where there is a crossing point for West Germans to enter East Berlin. It was carried by the National Broadcasting Co. as, for the first time in history, all three major American networks offered individual live television news reports from Europe.

The Columbia Broadcasting System presented a live program from Paris and a part-live, part-taped newscast from Geneva.

In the NBC transmission from Berlin—120 miles behind the Iron Curtain —floodlights illuminated the barbed wire and the armed guards at the wall, while cameras picked up the image that was fed to Telstar and, ultimately, to home screens in the United States.

Associated Press newsman George Boultwood reported in a cabled dispatch from Berlin that the East German guards on the wall showed lively interest as the West Berlin equipment was set up.

The Reds called up a water cannon on their side of the wall, Boultwood reported, but they did not interfere with the transmission.

Wrong Time, Wrong Place

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP)—The emergency room at Morton F. Plant Hospital was busy with an attempted suicide, a knifing victim and a patient frantic with the hives. The telephone rang.

"I don't know what to do and I thought you might be able to advise me," the caller said. "You see our little dog has chewed up my husband's blood pressure pills and I'm unable to contact my vet."

The emergency room nurse's advice was short and to the point:

Name Counselor To Interview for Nursing Position

LT. EDITH WILLIAMS

The Army Nurse Corps announced recently that it has assigned First Lieutenant Edith Williams as ANC counselor for New England.

Lt. Williams will assist Major Marian Setter, chief nurse procurement officer for New England, in her duties of addressing nursing schools and hospitals in this area, and interviewing and processing qualified young women interested in a career as an Army Nurse.

A native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Lt. Williams is well acquainted with the program she is now explaining to nurses and students of nursing throughout New England. She was enrolled in the Army Student Nurse Program from August, 1956 to September, 1957, the last year of her duties at the Nesbitt Memorial Hospital, Kingston, Pa.

Young women who are interested in the nursing profession in general, and the career of an Army Nurse in particular, may arrange an interview by contacting the Kingston Army recruiter, Sgt. Edward Malenski, at Municipal Auditorium, 467 Broadway.

Advise on Flu Shots

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Public Health Service is urging persons 45 and older to get flu shots before next winter, when widespread Asian flue is anticipated.

Surgeon General Luther L. Terry recommends the flu shot series be started as soon as possible after Sept. 1 and completed by mid-December.

Bloomington Co. Will Take Part In Vols Parade

Herb Faurote, second vice president of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association, and director of parade preparations for the Bloomington Fire Co., Inc., announces that the company has pledged its participation in the upcoming annual County Firemen's Parade Saturday at Port Ewen. Parade time is 5 p. m.

Faurote also has issued a reminder to all Bloomington firemen to be at the firehouse on Saturday at 3:30 p. m. in full uniform for the departure as a unit to Port Ewen. Bloomington has been placed in the second division of the parade and in cooperation with Active Hose Co. of Rosendale has contracted the Joyce-Schirick V.F.W. Drum & Bugle Corps, The Red Devils, to provide the music. The Bloomington-Rosendale formation will be Rosendale, The Red Devils and Bloomington, followed by the two companies' apparatus.

The parade is the culmination of the County Association's annual convention which begins Thursday evening with the annual banquet and entertainment at the New Paltz Legion Hall. The Esopus firehouse is the scene of the annual election of officers meeting Friday.

Oscar Lambert of Esopus is the Association's current president and following the traditional custom, the convention is being hosted by the president's home company, Esopus and the Town of Esopus Association. Should the current vice president be elected president Friday night as is expected, Saugerties will be the scene of the 1963 convention. It is also anticipated that Herb Faurote will move up to vice president and should he be elected president next year, Bloomington and the Township of Rosendale Association will have the honor of hosting the convention festivities in 1964.

Leslie Evory, chairman, has announced that Bloomington's annual clambake has been scheduled this year for Sunday September 9, on the firehouse grounds.

All Bloomington District residents as well as any interested individuals outside the district are reminded that the current issue of the Bloomington Fire Co. News is now available. The News, written, edited and published by the company each month, is available free of charge at Reilly's or Yonnetti's in Bloomington or at the Eddyville Post Office.

Governor Against Executive Civil Service

HARRISBURG, (AP) — Gov. Lawrence says he favors the idea of extending Civil Service to more state employes in Pennsylvania—but not by executive action.

"If Civil Service is going to become part of the laws of the state, it ought to have some legal backing and some firmness," Lawrence told his weekly news conference Tuesday.

The governor said he does not subscribe to the basic principal of executive Civil Service "because it can be juggled around to suit the whim of the executive."

"He can put it in, then take it out, put it in and take it out as he pleases," Lawrence declared, noting that executive Civil Service is impermanent compared to statutory Civil Service provided by the legislature.

Lawrence's comments on Civil Service stemmed from a speech made earlier in the day in Erie by U.S. Rep. William W. Scranton, the Republican candidate for governor.

Scranton attacked Lawrence on his stand on Civil Service for state police, claiming that if he was sincere he could grant it any time by executive order.

Currently, 26,000 employes in Pennsylvania are covered by Civil Service—some 15,000 under statutory Civil Service and the remainder by executive coverage. There are some 80,000 state employes at present.

The legislature defeated a bill in 1959 that would have extended statutory protection to state employes now covered by executive Civil Service.

Two Many Twins

Then the problem arose. Was the new appointee Robert Roylston or his twin Richard? To save an embarrassing question, the officials decided to wait until the new board met and see which Roylston showed up.

Confident on Laos

NEW YORK (AP)—W. Averell Harriman, former ambassador to Moscow, says he trusts Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to keep his word in carrying out the Geneva agreement guaranteeing the independence of Laos.

Boy, 16, Dies Today Of Crash Injuries

AUBURN, N.Y. (AP) — A 16-year-old boy died early today of injuries suffered in the collision of three motorcycles at the top of a hill in Wayne County about 20 miles northwest of here. Three other cyclists were injured, one critically.

Harlow Everett, 22, of Wolcott, with whom Lasch was riding, was reported in fair condition. James P. Powers, 19, of Wolcott, operator of the third cycle, was treated by a doctor and discharged.

State Police said cycles driven by Powers and Winter preceded Everett over the crest of a hill on a rural road near South Butler late Tuesday night. After they were out of Everett's sight, troopers said, Powers and Winter made U-turns. Everett's cycle crashed into the other machines, police said.

Ben Bella Moves Towards Seat of Power in Algiers

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was reported moving today toward the seat of power in Algiers following the capitulation of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda's moderate regime to Ben Bella's army-backed leftist faction.

Ben Bella was due today in the central Algerian town of Tiaret from his western headquarters at Tlemcen for the first meeting of the National Liberation Front's Political Bureau, which will take over effective control of the government. Ben Bella is one of the bureau's seven members and its dominant voice. He is expected to become its chairman and possibly take on the premiership as well.

Three Others to Attend

Three other Political Bureau members arranged to take part in the meeting in Tiaret, 140 miles southwest of Algiers.

The three other members, all ministers in Ben Khedda's government, were believed planning to join the others later, either in Tiaret or when the bureau moves its activities to Algiers.

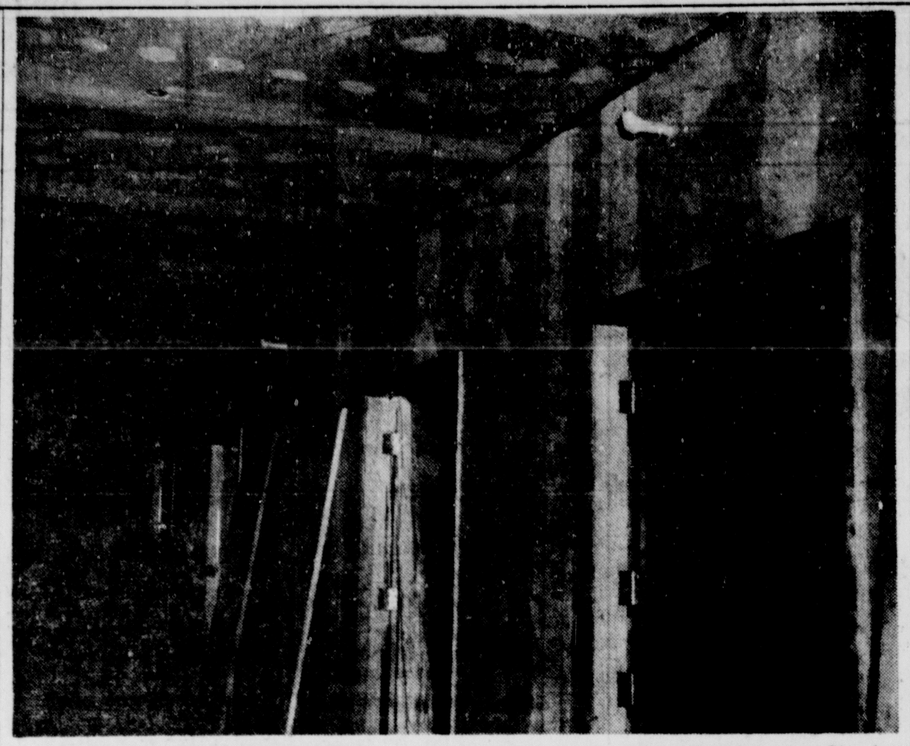
Walk Out in Protest

Ben Khedda and his supporters, who control only about a third of the CNRA's 72 members, walked out of the Tripoli meeting in protest against the makeup of the politburo from which the premier was excluded.

Ben Bella in turn walked out of the Ben Khedda Cabinet and picked up the support of the chief of the 45,000-man regular army's general staff, whom Ben Khedda had dismissed for allegedly plotting a military dictatorship.

Ben Khedda set up headquarters in western Algeria and demanded that Ben Khedda "return to legality" by recognizing the Political Bureau.

Ben Khedda's government disclosed in informal statements Tuesday that it had bowed to Ben Bella and would convene the CNRA Aug. 2 to stamp another seal of approval on the bureau.



SPRINKLERS FOR PROTECTION — A sprinkler system for fire protection and a fallout shelter are among major safety factors incorporated in the renovation and expansion of the Albany Avenue Nursing Home, 166 Albany Avenue, now nearing completion. George Schmidt, proprietor, considering the utmost in safety in the structure, decided upon his own initiative to include the sprinkler system and shelter along with meeting every other stipulation listed for such buildings. The shelter will have a capacity for 35 persons. The nursing home when completed, he said, will be the most modern in the region. Estimated cost of the addition, as listed with Building Inspector Joseph F. Smith is $34,000. It is one-story, 70 feet long, 41 feet wide and 16 feet high. The cost of the sprinkler system was reported at $7,000. Included in renovations are the enlargement of therapeutic and recreational facilities. Corridors are 8½ feet wide. The addition and renovations are to be completed in about five weeks. They will provide 22 rooms in addition to other facilities. C. A. Jennings Inc. of Woodstock, is the contractor, and Van der Bent Associates, of 284 Wall Street, the architects. Equipment of the building with sprinklers for fire protection fufills a recommendation of Fire Chief James M. Brett who has emphasized their fire-protection importance many times since he first began action several years ago through local, state and national channels for mandatory legislation that would require them in all public buildings, factories, schools, institutions, places of public assembly and other buildings. The Albany Avenue building is one of the few of its kind in the region with both sprinkler and shelter protection. (Freeman photo) manned road blocks and for days patrolled the roads of the area 24-hours a day in the belief Sims was hiding in the area. He was traced to a summer bungalow in the Minnewaska-HighFalls area where he stole clothing and the rifle which he carried when arrested yesterday in Virginia. Positive identification was made from fingerprints at the bungalow.

However, when police officials discovered the hide-away, Sims had already fled.

Tuesday about 1 a. m. Richard B. Jones, 19; his mother, Mrs. Camilla Jones, 45; Sherry Dunn, 15, all of Jacksonville, Ark.; Nancy Jane Samuel, 19, of Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Janice Yakowitz, 25, who gave her address as in care of Kutch's Country Club, Monticello, arrived at the Woodbourne bungalow which the Jones family had rented. They had just returned from the races at Monticello.

13 State Alarm

As they arrived home they were faced by Sims who threatened them with the rifle, robbed them of about $100 and then after shaving and eating a meal Sims tied the five up and took their car. He left and was last seen driving south toward Monticello on Route 42 in the white Chevrolet car. Some time after he had left one of the victims was able to get free of the bonds and gave the alarm. However by the time the alarm was sounded it was believed Sims had cleared the area and State Police sent out the 13-state alarm.

Sims is a native of Goodman, Mo., but had resided in New York City prior to imprisonment. His last place of residence was 519 East 75th Street, New York City. He was serving time for robbery at liquor stores in Brooklyn and Queens.

Base on Hearings

In 70 printed pages the subcommittee spelled out findings based on hearings it conducted in January 1961 on Hoffa, Corallo and other Teamsters figures.

It charged that the 1961 hearings showed Corallo, after ostensibly resigning as vice president and boss of Local 239, ran it from behind the scenes through "dummy" officials who did no work and who turned over to Corallo their pay checks totaling $31,000 a year.

The subcommittee said Hoffa was well aware of this, and called its evidence indisputable.

Its probe, the subcommittee said, thwarted a scheme between Hoffa and Corallo to restore to the presidency of Local 239 the convicted extortionist and bribe-taker Samuel Goldstein.

The subcommittee accused Hoffa of having fought efforts by a now disbanded federal court Board of Monitors to housecleanse his union. It listed case after case to support allegations that Hoffa made no effort to clean the union.

Reasons Listed

Hoffa's testimony defending his appointment of Frank Matula as an international Teamsters trustee (auditor) after Matula's 1959 conviction on perjury charges, and the fact that Matula was left in this paid job while serving his prison sentence.

The case of Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano, president of Teamsters Local 560 in Hoboken, N.J., promoted by Hoffa to the post of international vice president of the union in 1959 and kept in the post after being indicted in 1960 on federal labor racketeering charges.

Hoffa's decision allowing D. Harold Gross to resign under honorable conditions as an official of New York Local 138 after conviction on income tax law violation charges, but taking no action on prior allegations that Gross had been shaking down employers.

The case of Raymond Cohen, secretary-treasurer of Philadelphia Local 107 and an international trustee, as "the classic example of the extremes to which Hoffa will go to 'acquit' officers concerning whom there was readily available evidence of forgeries, misappropriation of union funds, and other improper activities."

Failure to oust William Presser as president of Cleveland Local 555 and head of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters after Presser was convicted in 1960 of contempt of Congress and obstruction of justice.

Girl, 4, Is Fair Following Mishap

Kim VanWert, 4, of 302 East Chester Street, granddaughter of Sgt. Julius Glassman, of the local police department, who was injured in a mishap near her home Tuesday, was reported in fair condition at Kingston Hospital today.

A police report at 8:16 p. m. said she suffered a skull fracture, back and hip injuries and cuts on the head when she ran in front of a car driven by Allen Pinkus, 18, of 272 Main Street, who was headed west on the street. The child ran from a driveway at 315 East Chester Street, the report said. She was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Officers Otto Short and Thomas Coffey investigated.

Faces Weapon Charges

Malry Wiser, 20, of 18 South Clinton Street, Poughkepsie, was arrested at Coxsackie Tuesday by Uister County Investigator Arthur H. Brown, on a bench warrant issued by County Judge Raymond J. Mino. Wiser is charged under an old indictment with carrying a dangerous weapon.

Pollen Stations Will Start 1st Week in August

Five pollen counting stations set up by the Ulster County Health Department in the Zena, Big Indian, Phoenicia, Pine Hill and Kingston areas, will start actual work on the 1962 program the first week in August, according to Harry F. Edinger, director of Environmental Sanitation.

Director Edinger said the ragweed pollen season usually runs through the second week in September. Reports of the count will be made available at the end of the season. The pollen count locally has been conducted the last 10 years.

The areas designated for the pollen counting stations are considered generally pollen free areas in Ulster County. Director Edinger said the pollen counting program in the county is a portion of the State Health department's program.

Cost Not Justified

Edinger said the laboratory work is done at the city laboratory, and the local program is conducted on a long-term report plan, which is considered more valuable than daily reporting.

Edinger stated that the cost of daily transportation of ragweed to the laboratory does not justify the results.

Charles Shultis, senior sanitary inspector of the County Health Department, was quoted as saying, "Our pollen count slides are read periodically, instead of daily. However at the end of the season we send our results to the state.

5th Year of Operation

Meanwhile, Dr. Lewis E. Patrie, Dutchess County health commissioner, said no pollen sampling station is planned in that county this year by the State Health Department.

The state is setting up 29 stations which will provide daily reports from Aug. 7 through the beginning of October, marking the fifth year the network has been in operation.

Dr. Patrie said a station in Dutchess County was discontinued two years ago because the pollen count in that county was found to be fairly stable.

FHA Designates 39 Counties for Emergency Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman designated 39 New York counties today as an area where the Farmers Home Administration will offer emergency loans to drought-distressed farmers through next June 30.

Freeman said prolonged drought had damaged crops and pastures in these counties and that, as a consequence, many farmers need emergency credit to continue operations.

Albany, Allegany, Broome, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Madison, Montgomery, Oneida, Onondaga, Orange, Oswego, Otsego, Rensselaer, St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Schuyler, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington and Yates.

To be eligible for a loan, a farmer must be unable to obtain the credits he needs from other local sources. He must have suitable experience and reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to carry on with the loan.

Farmers can apply for loans at Farmers Home Administration county offices. The interest rate is 3 per cent a year.

Farmers who borrow agree to repay their loans as soon as possible consistent with their repayment ability. Loans are secured by liens on crops financed and on chattel property and by liens on real estate when necessary for adequate loan security.

In Syracuse, a spokesman for the Agricultural Stabilization Committee said many farmers had pushed their plea for government loans through their county agricultural agents.

"The majority of them appear to be dairymen," the spokesman said.

Brooklyn Hospital Fire

Two alarms were sounded.

Occupants were being removed.

The extent of damage was not known immediately.

A switchboard operator at the hospital said the fire was on the fifth floor and she understood it was confined to that area.

Killed in Collision

OWOSSO, Mich. (AP)—William H. Sawyer, 65, of Geneva, N.Y., was killed and his wife, Inez, 64, seriously injured today in a two-car collision five miles east of Owosso.

Airways Enginers

three. The flight engineers want the third job. The airlines want men trained as pilots to hold it.

Goldberg's proposal, to which Pan American and the union agreed, was that engineers currently working for the airline would get the job, until attrition gradually cuts their ranks, at which time pilot-trained men also would be employed in the third slot. The engineers agree to take pilot training, and give up their demand that engineers be qualified mechanics.

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market carried its retreat into the third straight session with trading moderate early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon showed a fairly substantial loss as it declined 1.10 to 213.00 with industrials off 1.70, rails off .60, and utilities off .40.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional but some went to a point or so.

Some of the "growth" issues were sold rather actively. Declines ran from 1 to 4 points in this sector of the list.

The market declined from the start with trading a bit livelier than Tuesday's slow pace. There was not much in the news to stimulate the market although the Labor Department reported the consumer price index in June had edged up to a new high.

Steels edged lower as some of the steel companies, in releasing earnings, commented on the summer doldrums and looked for a pickup in the fall.

General Motors was off fractionally as a big secondary offering of the stock was anticipated. Ford was down about a point.

Brunswick and American Machine & Foundry were each about a point lower in brisk dealings. International Business Machines dropped about 4, Polaroid 3, Xerox more than 2, Zenith 1, and Magnavox a fraction, despite its boosted dividend.

Gulf Oil reported lower earnings and was down a fraction. The leading oils were narrowly mixed.

ROGER E. SPEAR

Exaggerated Savings From a 'Thin Market'

Q) "My broker cautioned me recently on buying shares of a stock because of the existing 'thin market.' What does he mean?" D. C.

A) He was referring to a limited supply of shares available for trading in a particular stock. This usually occurs where capitalization is very small or where large blocks are closely held.

Thin markets often result in exaggerated swings in price — both upside and downside — when anything more than a nominal amount of stock is traded. Over the past three years we have seen fantastic gains made by stocks with rather thin markets.

This factor works both ways, of course, as many people have found to their sorrow. Take the case of Farrington as an example. Since 1959 it wen from 2⅜ to 57½ and then fell back to 3½.

Q) "My portfolio isn't large. However, I gave up many new cars and vacations to save up the money to buy my shares. I am much concerned with my two poorest performers, Outboard Marine and Curtis Publishing. What should I do with these two issues?" J. C.

A) I think you should sell one and keep the other.

Outboard Marine has been the subject of many optimistic write-ups in recent years, but the performance of the issue has fully contradictetd these reports. While the shares may be close to bottoming out at current levels, I think it will take a dramatic change in the fundamental picture to put them back in an upward trend. I advise you to switch into Ludlow Corp. (OTC) where the yield (5.2 per cent) is the same and the market risk seems less.

As for Curtis Publishing, I believe I'd hold at least for the time being. New management may put some punch into company policies, and a better earnings base could eventually give the shares more investment stature.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Will Accuse Cuba Of Interfering in Dominican Affairs

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The president of the Dominican Council said today his government will formally accuse Cuba of subversion and interference in Dominican internal affairs.

President Rafael Bonnelly said in an interview that powerful Havana shortwave radio broadcasts beamed at the Dominican Republic daily "incite violence and subversion."

He said Foreign Minister Jose Antonio Bonilla Atiles, who is now in Washington, has been instructed to take the protest before appropriate international bodies.

In the past week Havana radio, which claims to be airing a program for the Dominican "Liberation Movement in Exile," has been outlining steps to overthrow the Dominican government and calling for concerted action by students, peasants and laborers.

The Dominican government's press office said such calls for action are followed quickly by outbreaks of vandalism or terrorism by small gangs. Several stores were ransacked during the latest flareup.

Stresses Business Manager

Andrew T. Gilday, president of the board, emphasized the importance of appointing a business manager for the Kingston School District, to succeed Charles A. Klothe, who recently submitted his resignation to accept a position in Rockland County.

At the suggestion of the board president, members accepted with regret Klothe's resignation, and praised him for his excellent work and cooperation during the three years he has held the office.

The board president complimented the retiring business manager for his untiring and efficient work and cooperation extended to the Board of Education since he took over the duties of the office in April, 1959.

Howard Fox reported the committee had received 14 applications for the position, and said a meeting of the finance committee, with all board members present, will be held Thursday, July 26 at 7:30 p. m. to review the applications. An early appointment is anticipated, it was indicated.

Benson A. Krom, chairman of the board's building commitee, stated that there was a question whether the proposed quarters at the George Washington School would be adequate for offices of the Board of Education and superintendent of schools and staff.

The building committee will make further study of the proposal and report back at a future meeting of the board.

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

ALGIERS (AP)—Dissident Deputy Premier Ahmed Ben Bella was reported moving today toward the seat of power in Algiers following the capitulation of Premier Ben Youssef Ben Khedda's moderate regime to Ben Bella's army-backed leftist faction.

Ben Bella was due today in the central Algerian town of Tiaret from his western headquarters at Tlemcen for the first meeting of the National Liberation Front's Political Bureau, which will take over effective control of the government. Ben Bella is one of the bureau's seven members and its dominant voice. He is expected to become its chairman and possibly take on the premiership as well.

Three Others to Attend

Three other Political Bureau members arranged to take part in the meeting in Tiaret, 140 miles southwest of Algiers.

The three other members, all ministers in Ben Khedda's government, were believed planning to join the others later, either in Tiaret or when the bureau moves its activities to Algiers.

Walk Out in Protest

Ben Khedda and his supporters, who control only about a third of the CNRA's 72 members, walked out of the Tripoli meeting in protest against the makeup of the politburo from which the premier was excluded.

Ben Bella in turn walked out of the Ben Khedda Cabinet and picked up the support of the chief of the 45,000-man regular army's general staff, whom Ben Khedda had dismissed for allegedly plotting a military dictatorship.

Ben Khedda set up headquarters in western Algeria and demanded that Ben Khedda "return to legality" by recognizing the Political Bureau.

Ben Khedda's government disclosed in informal statements Tuesday that it had bowed to Ben Bella and would convene the CNRA Aug. 2 to stamp another seal of approval on the bureau.

SPRINKLERS FOR PROTECTION — A sprinkler system for fire protection and a fallout shelter are among major safety factors incorporated in the renovation and expansion of the Albany Avenue Nursing Home, 166 Albany Avenue, now nearing completion. George Schmidt, proprietor, considering the utmost in safety in the structure, decided upon his own initiative to include the sprinkler system and shelter along with meeting every other stipulation listed for such buildings. The shelter will have a capacity for 35 persons. The nursing home when completed, he said, will be the most modern in the region. Estimated cost of the addition, as listed with Building Inspector Joseph F. Smith is $34,000. It is one-story, 70 feet long, 41 feet wide and 16 feet high. The cost of the sprinkler system was reported at $7,000. Included in renovations are the enlargement of therapeutic and recreational facilities. Corridors are 8½ feet wide. The addition and renovations are to be completed in about five weeks. They will provide 22 rooms in addition to other facilities. C. A. Jennings Inc. of Woodstock, is the contractor, and Van der Bent Associates, of 284 Wall Street, the architects. Equipment of the building with sprinklers for fire protection fufills a recommendation of Fire Chief James M. Brett who has emphasized their fire-protection importance many times since he first began action several years ago through local, state and national channels for mandatory legislation that would require them in all public buildings, factories, schools, institutions, places of public assembly and other buildings. The Albany Avenue building is one of the few of its kind in the region with both sprinkler and shelter protection. (Freeman photo)

manned road blocks and for days patrolled the roads of the area 24-hours a day in the belief Sims was hiding in the area. He was traced to a summer bungalow in the Minnewaska-HighFalls area where he stole clothing and the rifle which he carried when arrested yesterday in Virginia. Positive identification was made from fingerprints at the bungalow.

However, when police officials discovered the hide-away, Sims had already fled.

Tuesday about 1 a. m. Richard B. Jones, 19; his mother, Mrs. Camilla Jones, 45; Sherry Dunn, 15, all of Jacksonville, Ark.; Nancy Jane Samuel, 19, of Little Rock, Ark., and Mrs. Janice Yakowitz, 25, who gave her address as in care of Kutch's Country Club, Monticello, arrived at the Woodbourne bungalow which the Jones family had rented. They had just returned from the races at Monticello.

13 State Alarm

As they arrived home they were faced by Sims who threatened them with the rifle, robbed them of about $100 and then after shaving and eating a meal Sims tied the five up and took their car. He left and was last seen driving south toward Monticello on Route 42 in the white Chevrolet car. Some time after he had left one of the victims was able to get free of the bonds and gave the alarm. However by the time the alarm was sounded it was believed Sims had cleared the area and State Police sent out the 13-state alarm.

Sims is a native of Goodman, Mo., but had resided in New York City prior to imprisonment. His last place of residence was 519 East 75th Street, New York City. He was serving time for robbery at liquor stores in Brooklyn and Queens.

Base on Hearings

In 70 printed pages the subcommittee spelled out findings based on hearings it conducted in January 1961 on Hoffa, Corallo and other Teamsters figures.

It charged that the 1961 hearings showed Corallo, after ostensibly resigning as vice president and boss of Local 239, ran it from behind the scenes through "dummy" officials who did no work and who turned over to Corallo their pay checks totaling $31,000 a year.

The subcommittee said Hoffa was well aware of this, and called its evidence indisputable.

Its probe, the subcommittee said, thwarted a scheme between Hoffa and Corallo to restore to the presidency of Local 239 the convicted extortionist and bribe-taker Samuel Goldstein.

The subcommittee accused Hoffa of having fought efforts by a now disbanded federal court Board of Monitors to housecleen his union. It listed case after case to support allegations that Hoffa made no effort to clean the union.

Reasons Listed

Hoffa's testimony defending his appointment of Frank Matula as an international Teamsters trustee (auditor) after Matula's 1959 conviction on perjury charges, and the fact that Matula was left in this paid job while serving his prison sentence.

The case of Anthony (Tony Pro) Provenzano, president of Teamsters Local 560 in Hoboken, N.J., promoted by Hoffa to the post of international vice president of the union in 1959 and kept in the post after being indicted in 1960 on federal labor racketeering charges.

Hoffa's decision allowing D. Harold Gross to resign under honorable conditions as an official of New York Local 138 after conviction on income tax law violation charges, but taking no action on prior allegations that Gross had been shaking down employers.

The case of Raymond Cohen, secretary-treasurer of Philadelphia Local 107 and an international trustee, as "the classic example of the extremes to which Hoffa will go to 'acquit' officers concerning whom there was readily available evidence of forgeries, misappropriation of union funds, and other improper activities."

Failure to oust William Presser as president of Cleveland Local 555 and head of the Ohio Conference of Teamsters after Presser was convicted in 1960 of contempt of Congress and obstruction of justice.

Girl, 4, Is Fair Following Mishap

Kim VanWert, 4, of 302 East Chester Street, granddaughter of Sgt. Julius Glassman, of the local police department, who was injured in a mishap near her home Tuesday, was reported in fair condition at Kingston Hospital today.

A police report at 8:16 p. m. said she suffered a skull fracture, back and hip injuries and cuts on the head when she ran in front of a car driven by Allen Pinkus, 18, of 272 Main Street, who was headed west on the street. The child ran from a driveway at 315 East Chester Street, the report said. She was taken to the hospital in a Fatum ambulance.

Officers Otto Short and Thomas Coffey investigated.

Pollen Stations Will Start 1st Week in August

Five pollen counting stations set up by the Ulster County Health Department in the Zena, Big Indian, Phoenicia, Pine Hill and Kingston areas, will start actual work on the 1962 program the first week in August, according to Harry F. Edinger, director of Environmental Sanitation.

Director Edinger said the ragweed pollen season usually runs through the second week in September. Reports of the count will be made available at the end of the season. The pollen count locally has been conducted the last 10 years.

The areas designated for the pollen counting stations are considered generally pollen free areas in Ulster County. Director Edinger said the pollen counting program in the county is a portion of the State Health department's program.

Cost Not Justified

Edinger said the laboratory work is done at the city laboratory, and the local program is conducted on a long-term report plan, which is considered more valuable than daily reporting.

Edinger stated that the cost of daily transportation of ragweed to the laboratory does not justify the results.

Charles Shultis, senior sanitary inspector of the County Health Department, was quoted as saying, "Our pollen count slides are read periodically, instead of daily. However at the end of the season we send our results to the state.

5th Year of Operation

Meanwhile, Dr. Lewis E. Patrie, Dutchess County health commissioner, said no pollen sampling station is planned in that county this year by the State Health Department.

The state is setting up 29 stations which will provide daily reports from Aug. 7 through the beginning of October, marking the fifth year the network has been in operation.

Dr. Patrie said a station in Dutchess County was discontinued two years ago because the pollen count in that county was found to be fairly stable.

FHA Designates 39 Counties for Emergency Loans

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman designated 39 New York counties today as an area where the Farmers Home Administration will offer emergency loans to drought-distressed farmers through next June 30.

Freeman said prolonged drought had damaged crops and pastures in these counties and that, as a consequence, many farmers need emergency credit to continue operations.

Albany, Allegany, Broome, Chemung, Chenango, Clinton, Columbia, Cortland, Delaware, Dutchess, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Hamilton, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Madison, Montgomery, Oneida, Onondaga, Orange, Oswego, Otsego, Rensselaer, St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Schenectady, Schoharie, Schuyler, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Warren, Washington and Yates.

To be eligible for a loan, a farmer must be unable to obtain the credits he needs from other local sources. He must have suitable experience and reasonable prospects for success in the farming operations he plans to carry on with the loan.

Farmers can apply for loans at Farmers Home Administration county offices. The interest rate is 3 per cent a year.

Farmers who borrow agree to repay their loans as soon as possible consistent with their repayment ability. Loans are secured by liens on crops financed and on chattel property and by liens on real estate when necessary for adequate loan security.

In Syracuse, a spokesman for the Agricultural Stabilization Committee said many farmers had pushed their plea for government loans through their county agricultural agents.

"The majority of them appear to be dairymen," the spokesman said.

Brooklyn Hospital Fire

Two alarms were sounded.

Occupants were being removed.

The extent of damage was not known immediately.

A switchboard operator at the hospital said the fire was on the fifth floor and she understood it was confined to that area.

Killed in Collision

OWOSSO, Mich. (AP)—William H. Sawyer, 65, of Geneva, N.Y., was killed and his wife, Inez, 64, seriously injured today in a two-car collision five miles east of Owosso.

three. The flight engineers want the third job. The airlines want men trained as pilots to hold it.

Goldberg's proposal, to which Pan American and the union agreed, was that engineers currently working for the airline would get the job, until attrition gradually cuts their ranks, at which time pilot-trained men also would be employed in the third slot. The engineers agree to take pilot training, and give up their demand that engineers be qualified mechanics.

Financial and Commercial

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market carried its retreat into the third straight session with trading moderate early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon showed a fairly substantial loss as it declined 1.10 to 213.00 with industrials off 1.70, rails off .60, and utilities off .40.

Losses of most key stocks were fractional but some went to a point or so.

Some of the "growth" issues were sold rather actively. Declines ran from 1 to 4 points in this sector of the list.

The market declined from the start with trading a bit livelier than Tuesday's slow pace. There was not much in the news to stimulate the market although the Labor Department reported the consumer price index in June had edged up to a new high.

Steels edged lower as some of the steel companies, in releasing earnings, commented on the summer doldrums and looked for a pickup in the fall.

General Motors was off fractionally as a big secondary offering of the stock was anticipated. Ford was down about a point.

Brunswick and American Machine & Foundry were each about a point lower in brisk dealings. International Business Machines dropped about 4, Polaroid 3, Xerox more than 2, Zenith 1, and Magnavox a fraction, despite its boosted dividend.

Gulf Oil reported lower earnings and was down a fraction. The leading oils were narrowly mixed.

Exaggerated Savings From a 'Thin Market'

Q) "My broker cautioned me recently on buying shares of a stock because of the existing 'thin market.' What does he mean?" D. C.

A) He was referring to a limited supply of shares available for trading in a particular stock. This usually occurs where capitalization is very small or where large blocks are closely held.

Thin markets often result in exaggerated swings in price — both upside and downside — when anything more than a nominal amount of stock is traded. Over the past three years we have seen fantastic gains made by stocks with rather thin markets.

This factor works both ways, of course, as many people have found to their sorrow. Take the case of Farrington as an example. Since 1959 it wen from 2⅜ to 57½ and then fell back to 3½.

Q) "My portfolio isn't large. However, I gave up many new cars and vacations to save up the money to buy my shares. I am much concerned with my two poorest performers, Outboard Marine and Curtis Publishing. What should I do with these two issues?" J. C.

A) I think you should sell one and keep the other.

Outboard Marine has been the subject of many optimistic write-ups in recent years, but the performance of the issue has fully contradictetd these reports. While the shares may be close to bottoming out at current levels, I think it will take a dramatic change in the fundamental picture to put them back in an upward trend. I advise you to switch into Ludlow Corp. (OTC) where the yield (5.2 per cent) is the same and the market risk seems less.

As for Curtis Publishing, I believe I'd hold at least for the time being. New management may put some punch into company policies, and a better earnings base could eventually give the shares more investment stature.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all mail personally but will answer all questions possible in his column.

West Hurley Building Site May Be Purchased by O.C.S.

The New York City Board of Water Supply is in the process of completing a survey of a tract of land in the Town of Hurley that the Onteora Central Schools District is considering as a possible new school site.

The approximately 60-acre plot is located from a point on the southerly side of the intersection of Route 375 and Route 28. It extends several hundred feet in both directions is continguous with Route 28.

Trustee Raymond C. Cruthers, who is serving as liaison between the board and New York City, reported at the July meeting of the Onteora board, that after the survey and drawing has been completed, it will be submitted to the New York Board of Estimate for appraisal.

The land will be made available to the Onteora district, if a suitable price can be agreed on, as the result of a new law which permits the City of New York to sell property directly to school districts, hospitals, etc.

All material involved in the survey, drawings and appraisals will be made available to the Onteora board when completed. Negotiations can then be initiated to fix a price for the parcel.

On another matter, Trustee Cruthers also reported that he and District Principal George R. Sullivan had visited the Wappingers Falls school and were much impressed with Architects Clark and Warren's work.

Arrangements also were made for a visitation to the Hyde Park elementary school, where Trustee Cruthers noted that this building was constructed at a cost of $16.50 per square foot. Other group visitations, which will include other board members, are being planned.

Other Business

Other business transacted by the board:

Appointed Mrs. Doris Langling typist at salary of $3212, effective July 1; Howard M. Dunn, night custodian, $3300; Both appointments are subject to their passing the Civil Service examinations.

New faculty appointments included Mrs. Thelma Staples Butner, secondary, $5600; John W. O'Grady, secondary, $7000.

Mrs. Doris Langling was appointed central treasurer of the extra classroom activity and internal funds for the 1962-63 school year.

The Empire Music Company was low bidder in the amount of $1,000 for two Loree oboes. Its bid was accepted.

William O'Reilly, Inc. was awarded a contract in the amount of $1,434.60 for filing equipment. Although the firm was not the lowest bidder, it was the lowest bid which met minimum specifications.

The board received a memorandum from District Principal George R. Sullivan concerning a discrepancy in the 1959-60 salary paid to George Finigan and Watson I. Goodrich of the administrative staff.

Trustee Harry Allen moved that Finigan be given a retroactive salary adjustment which would amount to $6,000 for the period Aug. 15, 1959, through June 30, 1960, rather than the $5,365.40 he received for that period. Trustee Larys seconded the motion.

Following the discussion, Trustees Allen and Larys withdrew their motion and board president, Philip Gordon, requested the District Principal to consult with Attorney James V. Connelly concerning payment of the discrepancy.

Trustees present for the meeting were: Philip Gordon, president; Harry Allen, Raymond Cruthers, John Ebbs, Anne Larys and G. Alfred Nussbaum, Absent were: Janet Greene, Arthur P. Knight, Rev. H. Chase Page.

Donizetti Case Views and Facts By Noted Critic

A remarkably lively performance of "Il Campanello" given by the Turnau Opera Players prompted me to write a few words about this work and its composer. Donizetti was only 39 when he wrote "Il Campanello di notte," also called "Il Campanello dello speziale". That is the complete title.

Earlier he had already written 50, I say fifty, other operas. Remarkable indeed: the emphasis, of course, put on quantity, rather than quality. We find such things in literature, too. Take, for example, Emil Ludwig who wrote biographies of Jesus Christ, Goethe, Emperor Wilhelm, Lincoln, Schliemann, Napoleon and a half dozen others within a time which a thorough historian would need for collecting and studying the material for just one biography only. And after "Il Campanello" Donizetti wrote 20 more operas.

Is "Il Campanello" an opera at all? Many might agree with me that "operetta" would be a more appropriate name. It was composed upon request from an almost bankrupt opera company in Naples. Donizetti was asked to compose a boxoffice attraction. He did the job in nine days. The company was saved and bankruptcy averted. Donizetti had to write the libretto himself and he didn't do a bad job at all. In two other cases he did the same. The idea was taken from a French story "la sonnette de nuit."

Musically, "Il Campanello" is as unimportant as perhaps 65 of the 70 operas which Donizetti wrote. Donizetti's tragic position in music history is that he first imitated Rossini, then, when trying to stand on his own feet, people already began to look toward the greater genius.

About one decade before Donizetti's death, Verdi had already begun to write operas. Squeezed into the narrow pocket between the great Rossini and the still greater Verdi, Donizetti was overshadowed by the two genius. Some musicologists called Donizetti a forerunner of Verdi. I believe that Verdi would have become what he became without this "forerunner."

With few exceptions, the majority of Donizetti's compositions is not more than "successful improvisations." (Viz-the last act of "La Favorita" which was written in six hours). Donizetti's operas were mostly written for some of the then celebrated stars of the opera stage When Mario, Pasta, Duprez, Grisi and all the others died, "their" operas (i.e. Donizetti's, which were written for them) faded away, too.

Helped By Performers

Even today, some of his better works are attractive only because of some outstanding performer or performers. The exceptions are Don Pasquale, some spots of little inspiration in L'Elisire and Favorita, in Lucrezia and the Daughter of the Regiment; less in Linda di Chamonix and a couple of others. Lucia di Lammermoor is considered his best work. I personally believe that the sextet from Lucia is the best work he wrote.

A meager harvest among 70 operas, Donizetti's thin melodies are no substitute for dramatic moments. His trivial harmonizations did not have the strength to survive at a time when the music of the Flying Dutchmen and of Tannhauser already had begun to shed new light from only a few degrees below the horizon.

When reading Donizetti's letters, one realizes his modesty and complete lack of envy toward other composers, a quality so rarely found among creative artists, are rather symptoms of an inferiority complex than character qualities of a great mind. Whether the melancholy during the last few years of his life — some call it even moments of insanity — had something to do with this complex cannot be ascertained.

The cases of insane composers such as Smetana, Schumann, Hugo Wolf are somewhat different from the "Donizetti Case." To look into it from the pyschological viewpoint would be a revealing task for a musico-psychiatrist. It is interesting enough that, despite this inclination to the melancholy, Donizetti was at his best when composing in the lighter vein (Don Pasquale, Elisire, Daughter of the Regiment). Donizetti's ultimate immortality might rest with this type, rather than the "Lucia" type, which opera, despite its very few good moments and without the coloratura star in the Mad Scene, might share the fate of Anna Bolena, Tasso, Maria di Rohan and still lesser known titles. A. H. SCHIMMERLING.

Lutherans Plan Fair-Cafeteria

The annual Fair and Cafeteria of Christ Lutheran Church will be held next Thursday, Aug. 2, on the church grounds beginning at 2 p. m.

A number of articles, including aprons and rugs, will be available for purchases and, beginning at 5 p. m., a cafeteria-style supper will be offered. Everyone is welcome.

On Saturday, Aug. 4, the annual church school picnic will be held at the Mt. Tremper Lutheran Camp. Those attending will meet at the church at 11 a. m.

Annual Library Fair Is Slated For Thursday

If you are in Woodstock, be sure to take a long look at the window display of the Bank of Orange County where are tastefully displayed the names of honorable contributors to Great Expectations, prime Library Fair attraction on Thursday.

This year's pursuit of the Blue Bird of Happiness derives its distinctive Japanese air from the top award, the Datsun Bluebird. However, good news for Great Expectations donors does not stop here. Were it not for the loyal good humor and care of Peper's garage staff, visitors to Tinker Street might not be seeing so much of this fine little car.

This year, everyone at the Library, and everyone connected with staging the Fair would like to thank all those who have contributed special time, special efffort and facilities for furthering the success of the Library Fair. Let no one forget that each contribution of time, effort or outright gift makes for a financially-sound library.

If the rough 65 per cent of the annual library budget, which has been raised by the fairs of past years to keep the library open, were to cease, where would comparable or even adequate funds come from? Obviously, the library would not close. The funds would be forthcoming from taxes. And paying taxes even to support a lovely library is not half as much fun as running a truly successful Library Fair.

The current issue of Life's Magazine contains a close-up of August Heckscher, President Kennedy's consultant on the arts .It is entitled "Public Worrier About Culture." Being an ex-chief editorial writer for the New York Herald-Tribune, Heckscher does far more than worry. He is prepared to speak up and act. In a forthcoming book, The Public Happiness, he expresses something about culture which might have been said about Woodstock's library.

Under a Life quote: "Culture has to give some fun," Heckscher says this about culture: "People take it too seriously. I don't know what it's all about unless it gives some fun along the way, a sense of delight and pleasure and rewards. If it seems somber, snobbish or exclusive, it's no good."

And so the committee for the 35th Annual Woodstock Library Fair hope that all who labor long and all those come to Thursday's event and contribute to the fair's success do find a sense of delight and pleasures and rewards in promoting the welfare of the Woodstock Library.

By HAL COCHRAN

The grass getting nice and green and growing like mad makes mower work for Dad.

* * *

* * *

County fairs soon will be here when folks get hot dogs from a stand or too long a walk.

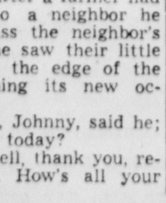
OFFICE CAT

By Junius
Trade Mark Reg.



We wonder how many girls who are taught to swim by a handsome lifeguard already know how.

A learned professor was invited to lecture to a rural community, and talked completely over the heads of the audience. At the close of his lecture, he dropped his lofty style, and blandly remarked, And now, friends, in conclusion, allow me to say that if anyone has a question to ask, I'll do my best to answer him.

It was an old farmer in the back seat who slowly arose and asked the first and only question: I would be very much obleeged, mister, if you'd jest tell us wot on airth it is you've been preaching about?

* * *

Uncle Ezra—So ye just got back from New York! What's the difference between the city and the country?

Uncle Eben — Wal, in the country you go to bed feeling all in and get up feeling fine, and in the city you go to bed feeling fine and get up feeling all in.

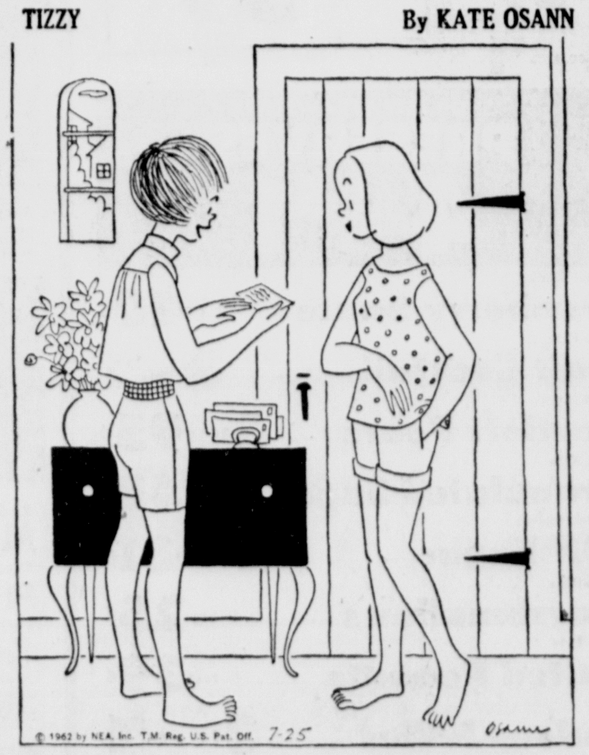
* * *

A few days after a farmer had sold a pig to a neighbor he chanced to pass the neighbor's place, where he saw their little boy sitting on the edge of the pig-pen watching its new occupant.

How d'ye do, Johnny, said he; how's your pig today?

Oh, pretty well, thank you, replied the boy. How's all your folks?

TIZZY — By KATE OSANN



"Ah, a postcard from Tizzy. She's camping in the woods with her family, and wishes we were there—instead of her!"

* * *

A farmer on his first visit to New York came out of Grand Central Terminal into the confusion of Forty-second Street, and after standing somewhat bewildered for a few minutes walked over to a traffic officer and said, Farmer—Mister, I want to go to Central Park.

Officer—All right. You can go this time, but don't you ever, ever ask me again.

The Rose Tattoo at Phoenicia

THE ROSE TATTOO opened last night at the Phoenicia Playhouse with Catherine Mandas taking the leading role of Serafina. It was this same role that won the Academy Award for Italy's actress Anna Magnani. Miss Mandas, who has appeared off-Broadway, in children's theatre and many summer stock productions, handles her very demanding role with a good deal of ease. Her characterization of the Sicilian widow is worth seeing.

This is an ambitious production for a summer stock company but Phoenicia Playhouse producers should feel confident this morning that they have a winning presentation. A trifle long—it took three hours last night—it could be speeded up, however, and there could be more coordination back stage.

THE ROSE TATTOO runs true to Tennessee Williams form. He uses the exposed nerves of people's emotions for a typewriter. But THE ROSE TATTOO is thoroughly absorbing and is an accurate, concise picture of Sicilian life.

Action takes place in a village populated mostly by Sicilians somewhere along the Gulf Coast between New Orleans and Mobile. It is presented in three acts.

It was pleasant to see talented Leona Van Zandt on stage again. She portrays an elderly woman, Assunta. A native of Phoenicia, Miss Van Zandt has appeared at the Phoenicia Playhouse since its inception receiving special acclaim for her work in THE CRUCIBLE, TEAHOUSE OF THE AUGUST MOON and TOBACCO ROAD. She has studied with Paul Richards and Mira Rostova. Her off-Broadway credits include TIME OF YOUR LIFE, ORPHEUS DESCENDING and THE MOUSETRAP.

Also giving a laudable performance last night was Edward Chiaro as Alvaro. One of off-Broadway's most versatile character actors, he has appeared in the Circle in the Square productions of THE BALCONY and CAMINO REAL. He was directed by A. Kobochnitch in the off-Broadway show EVENINGS WITH CHEKOV. Mr. Chiaro is a student of Lee Strasberg.

Lynn Kevin appears as the widow's daughter, Rosa Delle Rose. She gave a very capable performance.

Rounding out the cast of good performers were Jane Cronin, Ed Zang and Brian Watson. Several other minor parts, while only incidental ones to be sure, should be improved.

THE ROSE TATTOO will continue on stage through Sunday with curtains at 8:30 p. m.

Holdover at Woodstock

The Woodstock Playhouse has announced its production of THE MIRACLE WORKER is now in its second week. There will be a special matinee on Thursday at 2:30 p. m.

On Friday, Aug. 3 at 2 p. m., the Playhouse will present the Children's Dance Theatre of Washington, D. C., a group which, through a combination of dance, storytelling and mime creates a worthwhile experience for young people.

This Saturday night at 12, Bill Faier, well known banjo-picker, will inaugurate the Midnight Concert Series.

Mt. Cathalia Playhouse

Exciting jungle adventures are in store for young people when they attend the Dance Theatre of Washington, D. C.'s production of Rudyard Kipling's "Just So Stories" at the Mt. Cathalia Playhouse, Ellenville, N. Y., on Wednesday, Aug. 1 or Thursday, Aug. 8. Curtain time for the Aug. 1 performance is 1 p. m., with two performances to be given on Aug. 2 at 2 p. m. and 4 p. m.

The show is divided into three parts. The first story THE ELEPHANT'S CHILD, tells of a little elephant who, like other youngsters is always asking questions. His curiosity leads him on a merry chase where he meets many jungle animals, and finally discovers something wonderful that no elephant ever had before!

HOW THE RHINOCEROS GOT ITS SKIN, the second Kipling story, is a lively account of what happens to an ill-mannered rhinoceros when he is rude to a Parsee (a magician).

The third part of the Dance Theatre's program is THE WEE LEE TRAIN written by Frederick Heider, ABC television network director and producer. This is a poetic tale of an old locomotive that runs between the town of Wee and the town of Lee, and what happens when the station master displays a picture of a modern streamliner. In this production number the dancers actually form a full train on stage.

Bringing Food to Weekend Hostess

Q: I have a friend who owns a summer cottage. Her friends are always welcome to go there. Last weekend another friend and I were asked to go and I took a canned ham to the hostess which I thought she could serve over the weekend. My friend said that it was an insult to take food to one's hostess. She said that when the owner of the cottage visits us she does not supply the food. I would not think of taking food to this friend's house here in the city but I think a summer cottage is quite different as she has many visitors and it is not fair to her to supply all this extra food. I think we are fortunate to have a friend with a cottage to which we can go and the least we can do is to supply some of the food. What is your opinion?

A: You should not take fresh food that would have to be eaten over the weekend as this might easily upset the menus planned by your hostess, but it would surely be welcomed if you wished to bring a canned or smoked ham, a delicacy not to be found in the country store, candy or, perhaps, a bottle of wine.

A Man's Secretary Announces Herself

Q: In my capacity as secretary, I have to make many business calls for my employer. When announcing myself, do I say, "This is Miss Doe, Mr. Brown's secretary." or do I say, "This is Mary Doe, Mr. Brown's secretary." Would it make a difference if I were calling the president of a company, or a mere clerk?

A: "This is Miss Doe, Mr. Brown's secretary" is correct no matter who you call.

Birthday Card for Bereaved Friend

Q: A friend of mine lost her mother two weeks ago. Next week this same friend will have a birthday. I have always sent her a birthday card and I would like to know if it would be in bad taste to send her one this year?

A: If you can find a card expressing affectionate thoughts rather than a "joyous" day, it would be quite all right. But a card shouting "happy birthday" would not be suitable.

Miss Carolyn Colburn, sister of the bridegroom, was maid of honor. She was attired in a ballerina style turquoise chiffon gown. She carried a bouquet of red and white and pink carnations.

The attendants were Miss Rita Poom of Ulster Park and Miss Kay Oest of Ulster Park. Their gowns were pink organdy and their bouquets were identical to that carried by the maid of honor.

Andrew Angstrom of this city was best man. Ushers were Lenord Van Aken of Kingston and Saul Rosen of New Rochelle, N. Y. After the ceremony a reception was held at the Pine Tree Inn, Spillway Road.

The bride attended Kingston High School and is now employed at Pantry Markets. Her husband attended Kingston High School and is now with the U. S. Marines in North Carolina.

Bringing Food to Weekend Hostess

Q: I have a friend who owns a summer cottage. Her friends are always welcome to go there. Last weekend another friend and I were asked to go and I took a canned ham to the hostess which I thought she could serve over the weekend. My friend said that it was an insult to take food to one's hostess. She said that when the owner of the cottage visits us she does not supply the food. I would not think of taking food to this friend's house here in the city but I think a summer cottage is quite different as she has many visitors and it is not fair to her to supply all this extra food. I think we are fortunate to have a friend with a cottage to which we can go and the least we can do is to supply some of the food. What is your opinion?

A: You should not take fresh food that would have to be eaten over the weekend as this might easily upset the menus planned by your hostess, but it would surely be welcomed if you wished to bring a canned or smoked ham, a delicacy not to be found in the country store, candy or, perhaps, a bottle of wine.

A Man's Secretary Announces Herself

Q: In my capacity as secretary, I have to make many business calls for my employer. When announcing myself, do I say, "This is Miss Doe, Mr. Brown's secretary," or do I say, "This is Mary Doe, Mr. Brown's secretary." Would it make a difference if I were calling the president of a company, or a mere clerk?

A: "This is Miss Doe, Mr. Brown's secretary" is correct no matter who you call.

Birthday Card for Bereaved Friend

Q: A friend of mine lost her mother two weeks ago. Next week this same friend will have a birthday. I have always sent her a birthday card and I would like to know if it would be in bad taste to send her one this year?

A: If you can find a card expressing affectionate thoughts rather than a "joyous" day, it would be quite all right. But a card shouting "happy birthday" would not be suitable.

The Mature Parent

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Learn Human Power's Limits

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A young woman shocked by the death of her mother found herself suffering from loss of sleep and sought psychoanalytic help for this insomnia.

One night, during an uneasy doze, she had a dream that frightened her. In it, a towel had been laid across her forearms and on it rested a fish's skeleton —a spined backbone so fragile and delicate that she was terribly afraid of dropping it. She wandered the streets seeking for a place to dispose of her burden But there was no place. The streets were empty and the doors of the unlighted houses were closed.

Her doctor accepted her fear and the dream with attentive silence.

Four months later, her insomnia considerably improved, she recalled it again. Breaking into tears, she said to her doctor:

"I now understand my dream of the fish's skeleton. I didn't know what to do with the idea of Death, and was searching for a way to relieve myself of the pain of looking at it. The dream was a dream of grief for my mother, but also a dream of my sense of ogligation to do something about Death. Now I can let my helplessness be. I can think of Death without trying to understand it."

I give her experience to a reader who writes me, "My mother died in a nursing home. I was not with her because my brother and his wife did not tell me that they had put here there. This was my sister-in-law's doing. She did not even let me know how ill mother was because she knew I would object to her removal to a nursing home. Mrs. Lawrence, help me. I do not think I can bear this cruelty to my mother and me . . ."

Is it yet possible for you to consider that this intense grief for your mother may include resistance to Death itself—a rage at your helplessness to overcome it?

Perhaps. It is my belief that intense, debiliating grief always does include other than anguish at a loss. Often it derives its intensity from our furious sense of helplessness. So, in this struggle to recover, will you try to make some allowance for rage at your helplessness to control the uncontrolable?

It often seems to me that we Americans who make such a point of controlling everything have a particularly difficut time with Death. It confronts us mercilessly with the limitations of our power. We don't know what to do with it.

The patient of this column began to recover from her anger at Death as she stopped trying to "understand" it.

Death is beyond understanding. As Job had to learn, acceptance of Death is acceptance of the limits of human power.

Balmain Introduces Classic, Elegant Wardrobe for Fall

By JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
Associated Press Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP)—Quiet, restrained, classic and elegant—those are words that have to be used to describe Pierre Balmain's fall and winter collection show today.

Put them all together and you get wearability, the most desirable of all fashion qualities.

This was the main theme of the Balmain show which began the second day of French fashion house openings for the coming season.

Balmain's suit silhouette is long and slim, high-waisted, wide-shouldered with padded long sleeves, mostly crisply man-tailored. Skirts are pencil slim.

His long jacket suits with side vents and notched lapels are the kind you would wear, as the models did, with slouch hats, and carrying a walking stick.

Fur collars and cuffs, or shirt-type fabric collars were worn over shorter jackets, or cowl-necked blouses, or doublets.

Coats follow the same general silhouette—slim and high-waisted, with wide, padded shoulders. Occasionally there is fullness from the shoulder blades, emphasized by welt-seamed inserts.

Balmain encircles the waistline with cummerbunds, or crosses it with panels that tie to one side or another. Bateau and cowl and camisole necklines were typical on heavy crepe after-5 dresses.

He spells out nearly everything in black or white. A few exceptions are gray flannels, quiet checks or plaid in autumn hues in the suit collection.

Both elaborate and sedate among his evening costumes were black and white. He added jewelry to these, sometimes from one end to the other in the form of sequins, jet beads and crystals.

Fish Story

TOWSON, Md. (AP)—Howard Gillelan was at a trout pond in Baltimore County when a stranger offered him a good-sized trout he had caught. The stranger said he had a couple of good reasons for not keeping the fish himself: 1. The fish had swallowed cheese bait, so he couldn't toss it back in the water becaue removing the hook would kill it. 2. He couldn't take it home because his wife thought he was working.

Weinberger May Go To Hospital Himself

A defense motion seeking dismissal of charges of illegal possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe pending against Harvey Weinberger, 24, West Hurley salesman, was denied Tuesday by Poughkeepsie City Judge Milton Haven.

The motion was made by Perry Satz, Poughkeepsie attorney, who contended the section of the Penal law on which the charges were based, is unconstitutional. Satz argued that the law makes mere possession of a hypodermic needle and syringe a violation of the law and that it creates a conclusive presumption that possession is for an illegal purpose.

Defense counsel further contended that the law seeks to punish the defendant as a criminal when in fact the defendant should be treated as a sick person.

In his decision, Judge Haven noted that the Supreme Court of Erie County had held the law section constitutional, with the Court of Appeals affirming the decision. Judge Haven said that Sections 200-216 of the Mental Hygiene law, effective Jan. 1, 1963, will give a magistrate an opportunity to consider a defendant for civil commitment to a hospital facility as a narcotic addict where a request is made by the defendant.

Although this law will not be effective until next year, Judge Haven said he would be willing to permit Weinberger to commit himself voluntarily to a hospital and withdraw the charges.

Defense counsel further contended that the law seeks to punish the defendant as a criminal when in fact the defendant should be treated as a sick person.

In his decision, Judge Haven noted that the Supreme Court of Erie County had held the law section constitutional, with the Court of Appeals affirming the decision. Judge Haven said that Sections 200-216 of the Mental Hygiene law, effective Jan. 1, 1963, will give a magistrate an opportunity to consider a defendant for civil commitment to a hospital facility as a narcotic addict where a request is made by the defendant.

Although this law will not be effective until next year, Judge Haven said he would be willing to permit Weinberger to commit himself voluntarily to a hospital and withdraw the charges.

September Wedding Is Planned Here By Patricia Ann Carroll

Mr. and Mrs. William Carroll have anounced the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to Lewis N. Levy, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Levy, 8 St. James Court, this city.

Miss Carroll was graduated from upstate New York schools and attended John Powers Modeling School. She is also a member of Delta Gamma Delta National Sorority.

Mr. Levy was graduated from Kingston High School with the class of 1957. He received his BS degree in chemical engineering at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in 1961 and his MA degree in management engineering at RPI in 1962. He is a member of Phi Sigma Delta Fraternity and is employed by General Dynamics Electric Boat Division in Connecticut.

A September wedding is planned.

Bernice Paradies Weds Minister Of New Paltz Church

Miss Bernice Gloria Paradies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abram W. Paradies, New Paltz, wed the Rev. Roger M. Leonard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Leonard, Old Tappan, N. J., at a 2 p. m. ceremony on Saturday, July 14 in the New Paltz Reformed Church. The Rev. Gerret J. Wullschleger officiated at the double ring ceremony, assisted by the Rev. George Van Emburg.

The soloist was Walter Paradies, brother of the bride. Mrs. Arthur Kurtz was the organist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of pure silk organza over silk taffeta. It had a fitted basque waistline, high scoop neckline trimmed with raised imported Swiss appliques, long pointed sleeves and a full skirt of chapel length. Her fingertip veil of imported silk illusion was held by a coronet of silk flowers and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of glamellias with stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Robert Singer, sister of the bridegroom, was the matron of honor. Her gown was a sleeveless aqua chiffon in street length. Her headpiece was a matching short veil held in place by a crown of flowers and she carried a basket of gladioli, delphinium, daisies and roses.

The bridesmaids, both college classmates of the bride, were Miss Linda Pope of New Paltz, and Miss Dorothy Williams of Ridgewood, N. Y. They were dressed in gowns identical to that worn by the honor attendant except in peach chiffon. They also wore matching headpieces and carried arm baskets of assorted flowers.

David L. Coster of West Sayville, N. Y. was the best man. Ushering were the bridegroom's brother-in-law, Robert Singer of Glen Rock, N. J., the Rev. William Cameron of Albany, the Rev. John J. Kotun of Ancram, N. Y., and Herbert Widmer of East Orange, N. J.

Approximately 300 guests were received at a reception given in the Fireside Room of the church immediately after the ceremony. Later a dinner for the wedding party and immediate families was held at Lake Minnewaska.

POLLY'S QUIZ

It's Easy to Cover Lamp Shades To Fit Your Color Scheme

Slightly shabby lamp shades or new ones bought at the local chain store can become a decorator's dream when covered with fabric that is related to a room's schemes. The job is simple and quick.

Bring the material around the shade to be covered and pin so a straight seam runs down the depth of the shade. For this fitting, have the right side of the fabric against the outside of the shade so the seam will be on the wrong side when the work is finished.

After pinning snugly, cut the extra material away, top and bottom, leaving about one-half or three-quarters of an inch beyond the actual shade edges. Slip the pinned fabric off of the shade and stitch the seam. Trim so as to leave about one-fourth inch on each side. Iron the seam open.

Turn and slip the fabric cover on the shade, right-side out. Push fabric gently away from both top and bottom, a little at a time, so you can smear Elmer's glue along the shade edge. Firmly stroke fabric along the glued edge of shade. It soon dries enough so the excess material, top and bottom, can be cut away even with the shade edges. Finish both top and bottom with glued-on gimp edging. You can have a custom-made shade in less than it took to write this.

Dear Polly: I have white wallpaper in my bedroom with an all-over small diamond design in gold. Rugs are white. Enclosed is a sample of a narrow gold and white striped cotton I like but don't know how to use. Please tell me what kind of curtains, bedspread and slip cover for a chair.—Mrs. C.W.H.

Dear Mrs. C. W. H.: Congratulations on your smart choice of wallpaper and fabric. Make curtains of the striped cotton with Bristol blue ball fringe set in about an inch from the side hems and just above the bottom hem. Repeat the stripes for a dust ruffle beneath a white quilted bedspread. The slip cover could be Bristol blue. Try to find a pretty lamp with a Bristol blue base and top it off with a gold paper shade or one covered with striped fabric.

Dear Polly: Our living-dining room has pale beige walls and a beige scroll carpet. Drapes are dark brown. There is a red-brick fireplace and maple furniture. Two wing chairs have a gold background with brown print. A French Provincial chair is oystershell linen with a light blue pattern. Chesterfield is to be recovered.—T.M.

Dear T. M: The covering on your French Provincial chair sounds as if it not quite at home with your other things Could you change it to a plaid cotton in beige, brown, shades of green and perhaps a bit of red to bring the fireplace into the picture The sofa could then be covered with one of the greens in the plaid. Add a couple of fat plaid pillows to match the chair cover.

Dear Reader: A heavy volume of mail doesn't permit Mrs. Cramer to answer her letters and post cards individually. But she will comment in her coolumn on decorating problems of general interest. She cannot undertake to return floor plans or fabric swatches which are enclosed with letters.

We The Women

Better to Marry Late Than Too Early

BY RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A young woman who had a successful career of her own before she settled down to marriage recently had some wise words for girls who think that if they aren't engaged by the time they are 20 they are likely to be old maids.

The advice was: "It's terrific being single—as long as you're smart, interesting, fascinating. But if you you want a husband you'll get him—and a far better one at that—if you make it a secondary aim. First become a whole, complete person. Stop looking for a husband and start looking for your own personality."

Girls today need that kind of advice because too many of them are so anxious to get married that they are grabbing husbands while they are still in their teens.

If they weren't so sure that marriage is a now-or-never proposition how much better off they would be. They could go on and get an education and leave the young men free to go on and get theirs. They could take time to grow up, to get a job and find out what it is like to be independent. They could enjoy the adventure of being young and free. They could develop their own talents and interests.

And then as young women—not as immature girls—they could choose a husband, one who had also had time to grow up, to decide what he wanted out of life, to have a head start in his career.

All it takes for a girl not to panic and grab the first young man she can lead to the altar is some courage, some self-confidence and enough gumption to be willing to strike out on her own. And she will probably get a better husband at 25 than she would have been willing to take at 18.

Denies Beauties Were Menaced by 'Wolves'

NEW YORK (AP)—Philip Bottfield, executive director of the recent Miss Universe contest at Miami, denies that the contestants were menaced by "wolves" — as charged by Miss South Africa.

He says many of the girls felt they were guarded too closely.

He said the girls ate together in canteens. An American girl and a foreign girl roomed together, with a chaperone.

Bottfield described the security arrangements when asked for comment on criticism of the contest voiced by Miss South Africa, Lynette Gamble, 18, on her return to Johannesburg Tuesday.

New Books Added To City Library

Included in the new books recently added to the collection at the Kingston City Library are two that make interesting and entertaining reading.

Saint Francis, a novel by Nikos Kozantzakis, is an intensely masculine version of the life of Saint Francis of Assissi; written as though recorded by a faithful, puzzled companion monk, Brother Joe.

Five Boyhoods by Martin Levin is about five prominent Americans who grew up a decade apart and reminisce about their boyhoods. They capture the changing social climate of the current half-century.

Fiction — "Prologue to Love," Caldwell; "The Right Line of Cedric," Dugan; "Saint Francis," Kazantakis; "Ship of Fools," Porter; "The Owl's Roost," Sandburg; "Key to the Door," Sillitoe; "A Spirit Rises," Warner; "Wilderness," Warren; "The Village Voice Reader," Wolf; "Nine Hours to Rama," Wolpert;

People—"A Bridge for Passing," Buck; "Great Invasion," Cottrell; "The Triumph of Integrity," Grinnell-Milne; "To Hell in a Handbasket," Smith.

Africa — "Africa, A to Z," Kane; "Let My People Go," Luthuli.

Architecture—"Modern Architecture," Scully.

Sports—"Heavyweight Champion," Fleischer.

School to Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's what's known as 'the break,'" says Faye Dunaway of her quick transfer from drama school to Broadway.

Miss Dunaway appeared in a production of "The Crucible" while still a student at Boston University. Director Lloyd Richards liked her work so well that he recommended her to Robert Whitehead as a prospect for the Lincoln Center Repertory training program.

She was selected to join that group of performers, and also took over a role in the current White Way hit, "A Man for All Seasons," which Whitehead and Roger Stevens produced.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It is not given to many men to find a totally new career at age 35 and to make a whooping success of it.

Just that has happened to Telly Savalas, a man with an improbable name and a face to match. He has worked steadily in the two and a half years since he turned actor, and he may well be the favorite for next year's supporting-actor Oscar.

Who says so? Burt Lancaster says so. So do I.

You have only to see "Birdman of Alcatraz" to see what we're talking about. Telly (short for the Greek version of Aristotle) plays the con in the next cell, and his comedy brightens the otherwise stolid theme.

He was a Garden City, Long Island boy, who enlisted in the war, ended up 60 per cent disabled. He came back after a long hospitalization, studied psychology until he became disenchanted with it, got a job with the State Department helping to improve the American image overseas.

Born to Greek immigrants, he spoke Greek well, understood Turkish and other Middle East cultures. His work prompted a job as a news producer at ABC, then he resigned to raise funds for a little theater project in Stamford, Conn.

Raising the cash was easy, making the theater go wasn't. The enterprise ended in disaster, and Telly retired to the home of an aunt in Garden City to hide from his creditors. She persuaded him to get active in community life. Among other things, he taught in adult education.

One day a phone call came from a television casting agent, who said she knew he had worked with foreigners; could he find an old man with a heavy accent to play a small role as a judge? He said he could and he enlisted a friend.

Next day the agent called to complain that the man hadn't shown up. Telly said he would take care of it. He couldn't reach his friend, so he appeared for the interview himself, faking a heavy accent. He was hastily accepted.

He was summoned to the office of the show's producer, David Suskind. "I understand you speak English very well," Suskind said.

"Yes," Telly admitted. He was then offered the leading role in "Witness," the short-lived series on actual trials.

He has worked ever since, in television and then in films like "Young Savages," "Birdman," "Cape Fear," "The Interns," "The Grand Duke and Mr. Pimm," and now "The Man from the Diner's Club" with Danny Kaye.

Minsky Comes Back

Hint of Line

Denies Beauties Were Menaced by 'Wolves'

NEW YORK (AP)—Philip Bottfield, executive director of the recent Miss Universe contest at Miami, denies that the contestants were menaced by "wolves" — as charged by Miss South Africa.

He says many of the girls felt they were guarded too closely.

He said the girls ate together in canteens. An American girl and a foreign girl roomed together, with a chaperone.

Bottfield described the security arrangements when asked for comment on criticism of the contest voiced by Miss South Africa, Lynette Gamble, 18, on her return to Johannesburg Tuesday.

New Books Added To City Library

Saint Francis, a novel by Nikos Kozantzakis, is an intensely masculine version of the life of Saint Francis of Assissi; written as though recorded by a faithful, puzzled companion monk, Brother Joe.

Five Boyhoods by Martin Levin is about five prominent Americans who grew up a decade apart and reminisce about their boyhoods. They capture the changing social climate of the current half-century.

People—"A Bridge for Passing," Buck; "Great Invasion," Cottrell; "The Triumph of Integrity," Grinnell-Milne; "To Hell in a Handbasket," Smith.

Sports—"Heavyweight Champion," Fleischer.

School to Broadway

NEW YORK (AP) — "It's what's known as 'the break,'" says Faye Dunaway of her quick transfer from drama school to Broadway.

Miss Dunaway appeared in a production of "The Crucible" while still a student at Boston University. Director Lloyd Richards liked her work so well that he recommended her to Robert Whitehead as a prospect for the Lincoln Center Repertory training program.

She was selected to join that group of performers, and also took over a role in the current White Way hit, "A Man for All Seasons," which Whitehead and Roger Stevens produced.

Hollywood News, Views

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — It is not given to many men to find a totally new career at age 35 and to make a whooping success of it.

Just that has happened to Telly Savalas, a man with an improbable name and a face to match. He has worked steadily in the two and a half years since he turned actor, and he may well be the favorite for next year's supporting-actor Oscar.

Who says so? Burt Lancaster says so. So do I.

You have only to see "Birdman of Alcatraz" to see what we're talking about. Telly (short for the Greek version of Aristotle) plays the con in the next cell, and his comedy brightens the otherwise stolid theme.

Telly performs like a veteran, which he isn't.

He was a Garden City, Long Island boy, who enlisted in the war, ended up 60 per cent disabled. He came back after a long hospitalization, studied psychology until he became disenchanted with it, got a job with the State Department helping to improve the American image overseas.

Born to Greek immigrants, he spoke Greek well, understood Turkish and other Middle East cultures. His work prompted a job as a news producer at ABC, then he resigned to raise funds for a little theater project in Stamford, Conn.

Raising the cash was easy, making the theater go wasn't. The enterprise ended in disaster, and Telly retired to the home of an aunt in Garden City to hide from his creditors. She persuaded him to get active in community life. Among other things, he taught in adult education.

One day a phone call came from a television casting agent, who said she knew he had worked with foreigners; could he find an old man with a heavy accent to play a small role as a judge? He said he could and he enlisted a friend.

Next day the agent called to complain that the man hadn't shown up. Telly said he would take care of it. He couldn't reach his friend, so he appeared for the interview himself, faking a heavy accent. He was hastily accepted.

He was summoned to the office of the show's producer, David Suskind. "I understand you speak English very well," Suskind said.

"Yes," Telly admitted. He was then offered the leading role in "Witness," the short-lived series on actual trials.

He has worked ever since, in television and then in films like "Young Savages," "Birdman," "Cape Fear," "The Interns," "The Grand Duke and Mr. Pimm," and now "The Man from the Diner's Club" with Danny Kaye.

Minsky Comes Back

Hint of Line

For fall, those bulky sweaters take on a new and very slight shaping to the body. This does NOT mean tight. It means that the waistline is just indicated.

Kiwanis, KPA Score Babe Ruth Victories

Kiwanis Club walloped the Vols, 9-2, and the KPA beat the Knights of Columbus, 8-7, in Babe Ruth League games last evening at Dietz Stadium.

Vince Fisher was the winner for Kiwanis, allowing only two hits. The winning side had only four safeties but they received 15 bases on balls from a pair of chuckers. John Eccleston and Mike Burns stroked doubles.

Joe Nalepa hit a bases loaded triple for KPA to pace the victory over K of C. The winning side pushed the tie breaking run across the dish in the last of the seventh after the Knights had knotted the count with two in their half.

Bill Rinehart had a pair of doubles and Bill Anderson also hit a double. Dan McGrane had three singles.

Tonight's schedule has Hurley and the Elks playing at 6 at the Athletic Field while at the Stadium, Legion and VFW meet at 6 and the 36 Club plays the Masons at 8:30.

Murphy Hits, Pitches Locals To Championship

After spotting Ellenville four runs in the first two innings, the Kingston Jaycees came back on the strong arm and bat of A. J. Murphy and captured the District Little League championship with a 6-4 win yesterday at the Kingston National Little League diamond in Kingman Park.

The local club will now await the Dutchess-Columbia game, slated Saturday. That winner will meet the Jaycees at a date and site to be determined.

The losers struck for another pair of markers in the second as Jim McCombs doubled with two runners on base. At this stage of the proceedings, things didn't look too bright for the Jaycees.

Then Murphy swung his potent bat and it turned defeat into victory. His mates had sent two runs across the dish in the third and there were two runners on base when A. J. came to bat. He promptly belted his second home run of the tourney, a cannon like shot well over the fence. This sent the locals ahead, 5-4, and it was up to "Murph" to hold the lead.

With his club in front, A. J. hitched up his trousers and went to work on the losers. He didn't allow another run and finished with 13 strikeouts, while walking one and allowing only six hits. His teammates pushed another run across the dish in the last frame to clinch the tilt.

There were other heroes in this district championship contest. Second baseman Ken Gilligan stroked three singles in four trips and was excellent on defense. Third baseman Jerry Corrado and right fielder Dave Roberts had two hits each with Roberts slapping a double.

Four of the six hits off Murphy went for extra bases with Mike Grote, Jim McCombs and Quick getting doubles and Quick also slamming his first inning home run.

R. G. Miller Loses for Mets

Wynn Records His 297th Win

His 1st Pitch Slammed for HR; Mays Raps Pair

By JIM BECKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

It took only one pitch for Robert G. Miller to prove he's a true New York Met.

Robert G. Miller is a left-handed pitcher. The Mets also have a Robert L. Miller, who is right-handed.

Robert L's record is 0-7. Robert G. had never thrown a ball for the Mets before Tuesday night. Then he threw one. Now he is 0-1.

Del Crandall hit the pitch for a home run in the bottom of the 12th to give the Milwaukee Braves a 5-4 victory over the Mets. It was the ninth straight loss for the Mets who are only one game over the .250 mark.

At the other end of the league, Willie Mays continued his hitting rampage with homers No. 30 and 31 to lead the San Francisco Giants to a 3-1 victory over the Houston Colts. The win moved the Giants to within a game of the league-leading Los Angeles Dodgers, who were edged 3-2 by the St. Louis Cardinals.

Joey Jay got his 14th victory as the Cincinnati Reds won over Pittsburgh 6-4 and the Chicago Cubs beat the Philadelphia Phillies 5-3.

Houston right-hander Dick Farrell, who admitted last Saturday that he occasionally mixed a wet pitch into his repertoire, couldn't find any way to stop Mays until it was too late. He served up solo homers to the majors' home run leader in the first and fourth innings.

In the sixth he hit Willie with a pitch. That didn't work, either. Mays went on to score the Giants' final run on Orlando Cepeda's single and Felipe Alou's sacrifice fly.

Jack Sanford got his 13th win—and seventh in a row—for the Giants with help from Don Larsen who came on in the seventh after the Colts scored their only run.

Power, No Speed

The Cardinals twice threw out Ron Fairly at the plate as he tried to score from first on doubles by Howard. Fairly was erased in the fourth inning with the Dodgers leading 2-1 and again in the ninth to end the game.

The Cubs snapped their third seven-game losing streak of the season in beating the Phillies. Workhorse Art Mahaffey had a 3-1 lead for the Phils in the sixth when his right shoulder stiffened and he had to leave. The Cubs got three runs in the seventh inning off Billy Smith and Jack Baldschun with Ron Santo's double the big blow.

Casey Stengel left the Mets in the hands of coach Cookie Lavagetto as he went to Kansas City to attend the funeral of his brother, but the story was the same.

The Mets got three runs in the first inning, on a two-run homer by Felix Mantilla, followed by one by Frank Thomas. The Braves got two back in the same inning off starter Jay Hook, who then held them in check until he left with a pulled side muscle in the sixth.

Jim Hickman made it 4-2 with a homer in the fourth. The Braves got a run in the eighth and tied it in the ninth on Eddie Mathews' single after Lee Maye's double.

It stayed that way until the 12th when Miller came on to make his Met debut.

Whitewashes Senators, 6-0; Yanks Top Bosox

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If it had been anyone else, he might have smiled. But not Early Wynn.

The ancient right-hander of the Chicago White Sox had a four-hit shutout and was just three outs away from his 297th major league victory—a major milestone in his quest of 300.

Wynn's scowl—as much a trade mark as his smooth, easy pitching motion—darkened his broad face as he pitched to Bob Johnson, leading off the last of the ninth in Washington.

Wynn, who has had his difficulties since arm trouble sidelined him last season, took a deep breath and bore down as if it were a World Series. Harry Bright grounded into a double play and Chuck Hinton flied to center. This wrapped up a 6-0 decision over the Senators for old Early, the 49th shutout of his career and just three victories shy of the coveted 300 circle, which has been reached only 13 times.

Wynn's shutout, the best pitching performance in the American League Tuesday night, was the third straight victory for the White Sox and pulled them into a tie for fifth with Baltimore, which split a pair with the Los Angeles Angels.

The Orioles won the first 3-2 but the Angels recovered for an 8-5 decision in the nightcap. The split cost the Angels a half game and left them three games back of leading New York, which beat Boston 5-3. Cleveland edged Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit whipped Minnesota 4-3.

The Yankees' Whitey Ford got credit for his 10th victory against five losses against the Red Sox, but had to have help when Boston filled the bases in the ninth with none out. Bill Skowron drove in two runs with a double and a triple.

Steve Barber and Baltimore had a 3-1 lead going into the ninth of the opener at Los Angeles, but the Angels put runners on second and third with one out, and Hoyt Wilhelm had to come in to put out the fire.

The Angels salvaged a split by ripping into Chuck Estrada for five runs in the third inning of the second game. Albie Pearson drove in three runs and scored another for Los Angeles.

Rocky Colavito's run-scoring single in the ninth broke a 4-4 tie and brought Detroit its first victory over Minnesota in seven tries this season. Norm Cash's 27th homer tied it in the eighth.

Cleveland's Dick Donovan won his 13th against four losses, but had to have help when Kansas City pulled to within one run with a two-run rally in the ninth. Willie Kirkland's three-run homer in the first staked him to an early lead.

Whitewashes Senators, 6-0; Yanks Top Bosox

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

If it had been anyone else, he might have smiled. But not Early Wynn.

The ancient right-hander of the Chicago White Sox had a four-hit shutout and was just three outs away from his 297th major league victory—a major milestone in his quest of 300.

Wynn's scowl—as much a trade mark as his smooth, easy pitching motion—darkened his broad face as he pitched to Bob Johnson, leading off the last of the ninth in Washington.

Johnson, who was only one year old when the 42-year-old Wynn broke into organized baseball, refused to be intimidated and rapped out a single.

Wynn, who has had his difficulties since arm trouble sidelined him last season, took a deep breath and bore down as if it were a World Series. Harry Bright grounded into a double play and Chuck Hinton flied to center. This wrapped up a 6-0 decision over the Senators for old Early, the 49th shutout of his career and just three victories shy of the coveted 300 circle, which has been reached only 13 times.

Wynn's shutout, the best pitching performance in the American League Tuesday night, was the third straight victory for the White Sox and pulled them into a tie for fifth with Baltimore, which split a pair with the Los Angeles Angels.

The Orioles won the first 3-2 but the Angels recovered for an 8-5 decision in the nightcap. The split cost the Angels a half game and left them three games back of leading New York, which beat Boston 5-3. Cleveland edged Kansas City 5-4 and Detroit whipped Minnesota 4-3.

The Yankees' Whitey Ford got credit for his 10th victory against five losses against the Red Sox, but had to have help when Boston filled the bases in the ninth with none out. Bill Skowron drove in two runs with a double and a triple.

Steve Barber and Baltimore had a 3-1 lead going into the ninth of the opener at Los Angeles, but the Angels put runners on second and third with one out, and Hoyt Wilhelm had to come in to put out the fire.

The Angels salvaged a split by ripping into Chuck Estrada for five runs in the third inning of the second game. Albie Pearson drove in three runs and scored another for Los Angeles.

Rocky Colavito's run-scoring single in the ninth broke a 4-4 tie and brought Detroit its first victory over Minnesota in seven tries this season. Norm Cash's 27th homer tied it in the eighth.

Cleveland's Dick Donovan won his 13th against four losses, but had to have help when Kansas City pulled to within one run with a two-run rally in the ninth. Willie Kirkland's three-run homer in the first staked him to an early lead.

Murphy Hits, Pitches Locals To Championship

After spotting Ellenville four runs in the first two innings, the Kingston Jaycees came back on the strong arm and bat of A. J. Murphy and captured the District Little League championship with a 6-4 win yesterday at the Kingston National Little League diamond in Kingman Park.

The local club will now await the Dutchess-Columbia game, slated Saturday. That winner will meet the Jaycees at a date and site to be determined.

Centerfielder Randy Quick shot Ellenville into a quick lead in the first inning as he hit one of Murphy's fastballs over the fence with a runner on base.

The losers struck for another pair of markers in the second as Jim McCombs doubled with two runners on base. At this stage of the proceedings, things didn't look too bright for the Jaycees.

Then Murphy swung his potent bat and it turned defeat into victory. His mates had sent two runs across the dish in the third and there were two runners on base when A. J. came to bat. He promptly belted his second home run of the tourney, a cannon like shot well over the fence. This sent the locals ahead, 5-4, and it was up to "Murph" to hold the lead.

With his club in front, A. J. hitched up his trousers and went to work on the losers. He didn't allow another run and finished with 13 strikeouts, while walking one and allowing only six hits. His teammates pushed another run across the dish in the last frame to clinch the tilt.

There were other heroes in this district championship contest. Second baseman Ken Gilligan stroked three singles in four trips and was excellent on defense. Third baseman Jerry Corrado and right fielder Dave Roberts had two hits each with Roberts slapping a double.

Four of the six hits off Murphy went for extra bases with Mike Grote, Jim McCombs and Quick getting doubles and Quick also slamming his first inning home run.

14,000 Players Expected

Area Bridge Players Compete In National Event Saturday

Area bridge players are scheduled to compete in a nationwide tournament Saturday as part of the American Contract Bridge League's 1962-63 charity program.

Proceeds of the tournament will be shared by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and Institute of Logopedics, designed by the league as this year's beneficiaries of the charity tournament conducted by more than 4,000 ACBL affiliates from coast to coast.

Play will begin simultaneously across the country, with the Kingston tournament getting under way at 2:45 p. m. at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

I. H. (Laddie) Wheatcroft, the area's top professional, is conducting the Kingston program in conjunction with the Glenerie Bridge Club and other organizations. A tournament is also scheduled at Newburgh at the Holiday Inn.

Wheatcroft reported that 14 tables had been filled to date for the Kingston tournament.

Play Same Hand

The hands played in each of these 200 hundred odd sections will be exactly the same, Wheatcroft said. The hands have been pre-duplicated and have been sent under seal to each of the tournament directors. The tournament at the Stuyvesant Hotel will carry sectional rating in exactly the same way that all other games will be rated.

The winning scores in the Kingston and Newburgh competition will receive Sectional Master Point awards and will also be compared with the winning scores from all other cities.

One section of this nationwide tournament will be played at the Summer National Championships which start at Minneapolis on Saturday and virtually all the best known players in the country will be competing in this event. Among these prominent experts are Charles Goren, Helen Sobel, John Gerber, Harry Fishbein, Samuel Stayman, Johnny Crawford, C. J. Becker, Tobias Stone, Al Roth, Edgar Kaplan, Sidney Silador, Alfred Sheinwold and others.

More than 3500 tables have been filled to date, which means that at least 14,000 persons will participate.

The semi-final tilt will be held on Friday at 8 p. m. with the championship game listed for 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Vivian Brown Sees Americans Catching Reds

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 20-year-old Cleveland girl, who may be the fastest female runner in the world at 200 meters, says Russia's advantage in women's track will be wiped out by the Olympic year of 1964.

The surprising prediction comes from Vivian Brown, a junior at Tennessee State, who over the weekend upset Russian champion Maria Itkina in the big meet at Palo Alto, Calif.

"In 1964 we'll be ready to beat the Russian girls," Vivian said Tuesday on returning from California. "We're sincere workers. It takes intestinal fortitude and we're beginning to show we have it.

Miss Brown, who comes from a family of 14 children, earned a grant-in-aid scholarship to Tennessee State after a three-week test demanded by track coach Ed Temple in 1960.

One of Temple's first moves was to suggest she quit her specialty, the hurdles, and concentrate on the 220-yard dash.

"At our meets, the 80-meter hurdles usually comes just before the 220," she related. "He felt that if I didn't compete in the hurdles I could achieve something in the 220 because I'd be fresher."

Temple was right. A year ago, Miss Brown beat her teammate and roommate, Olympic star Wilma Rudolph. Two weeks ago, Vivian bettered Stella Walsh's 27-year-old American record by running the 220 in 24.1 seconds, two-tenths under the accepted mark.

Does she feel she's the best in the world in the 200 meters?

"I won't say that," she replied. "The Olympics are two years away. Ask me then."

Two Are Favored In Jr. Golf Play

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—With two convincing triumphs behind them, 17-year-old Denny Lyons of Jamestown and 15-year-old Ronnie Philo of Schenectady shared the favorite's role moving into today's quarterfinals of the State Junior Golf Championship.

Today's quarterfinal and semi-final rounds determine the junior finalists for Thursday's 36-hole championship round on the Niagara Falls Country Club course. The junior division is for boys 15-17.

In the boys' division, for youngsters 14 and under, only a semi-final round was scheduled with John Riccardo of Brooklyn meeting Melvin Pettit Jr., of Troy and John Glinsky of Jamesville going against Joseph Banaszek of Syracuse.

Lyons, son of Jamestown pro Toby Lyons, trimmed Don Trump of Hudson, 6 and 5, in his second-round match after eliminating Ricky Spears of Port Jervis by the same score in the day's top first-round clash.

Involved in Suit

Willard Claims Films Prove Johnson's Kayo

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jess Willard and the phantom film of his historic knockout 47 years ago over Jack Johnson are involved in two lawsuits.

Willard, who is 80 years old and spry of mind and action, lives in his comfortable cottage in La Crescenta, high in the rolling suburban hills north of Los Angeles.

The old champ is involved in suits for more than $1 million filed in Los Angeles Superior Court Tuesday by Brian Manion, his attorney.

The basis of the suits was the television showing last March and April of the long lost film of the Willard-Johnson fight in Cuba, April 5, 1915, when Jess, the "White Hope," knocked Johnson out in the 26th round.

Briefly, Willard claims that after years of search he located a print in Australia of the fight film and was negotiating with the collector to buy the film.

Named in one suit were Jimmy Jacobs, former national handball champion and fight film collector, and an associate, William Cayton, both officials of Turn Of The Century, Inc.

Jacobs, Cayton, Schlitz Brewing Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System were named in the other suit, which charged invasion of privacy and the right of publicity.

Willard and his attorney contend that Jacobs was let in on the identity of the secret owner of the film in Australia and that Jacobs promised verbally that if he got the film he would never commercialize on it. Unknown to them, they claim, Jacobs did obtain the film and use it on the television show.

"Those fight films would have been worth $10 million after the fight in Havana," he said.

"I was the 'White Hope' and I had beaten Johnson, the Negro. And then Johnson claimed he had thrown the fight, laid down."

"We were in the ring 26 rounds, one hour and 44 minutes. The temperature was about 115 degrees. If he was going to lay down I wish he a-done it sooner. The film shows that Johnson did his best for 20 rounds. From then on I whipped him and knocked him out, fair and square."

Willard, still a 6-6 hulking figure but somewhat under his later fight weight of 245, is still easily aroused by Johnson's accusation concerning the legitimacy of the result. The movie, he maintains, substantiates his claim of an honest knockout.

In 1916 a federal law was passed prohibiting the showing by film of prize fights. When efforts were made to bring the Willard-Johnson film into this country, the U.S. customs destroyed what was believed to be the only print.

It developed there were other prints which Willard said he finally located in Australia in November 1959.

Jack McMahon Is NewZephyrCoach

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack McMahon, who has worked both sides of pro basketball's fence, became new coach of the Chicago Zephyrs of the National Basketball Association today with this promise:

"I've never been with a loser and I don't intend to have one in Chicago." He has a two-season contract.

The 32-year-old McMahon comes to the one-season old Chicago NBA club after leading the Kansas City Steers to the best record, 58-28, last winter as the American Basketball League made its debut.

McMahon, although only 6-feet-1 played eight NBA seasons with the Rochester Royals and the St. Louis Hawks.

With the Zephyrs, who opened NBA play last season as the Chicago Packers, McMahon inherits a club with a 19-61 record, the worst won-lost mark in league history.

Softball League To Hold Tourney

Plans are being made to hold the first annual City Softball League Invitational tournament. The tourney, which is expected to attract some of the best softball clubs in the Hudson Valley, will be held under the Dietz Stadium lights on Aug. 17-18 and 19 and Aug. 25-26.

According to president Bill Mahoney, the tournament will be a single elimination affair. Trophies will be awarded the top four clubs with the winning team receiving individual awards. Also given will be a trophy for the most valuable player.

If this year's tournament is successful, it is planned to make it an annual event. There are several top softball clubs in the immediate area and it's expected that a big entry list from Poughkeepsie will be submitted.

Houk Adds Yogi And Pete Runnels To AL All Stars

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — American League all-star manager Ralph Houk, bent on strengthening his lineup for the second inter-league test next Monday at Chicago, has picked Pete Runnels, the circuit's leading batter, and his own Yogi Berra, an all-star standby for more than a decade.

In a further bid to stem the rising National League tide, the Yankee skipper added Los Angeles' Ken McBride, the league's hottest pitcher, and left-hander Jim Kaat of Minnesota to his staff. Dropped was Boston's Bill Monbouquette, who hasn't hurled a complete game in nearly a month.

A 3-1 winner at Washington earlier this month, the Nationals go into the second all-star meeting at Wrigley Field with five victories and a tie in their last seven meetings with the rival circuit. Another victory would even the overall series at 16 games apiece. At one point the Americans led 12 games to four.

Houk, taking advantage of the rule that permits addition of three players to bring the squad to 28, obviously chose two left-handed hitters because of the Nationals' deficiency in the southpaw pitching department. National League manager Fred Hutchinson, who will add three players to his squad Thursday, thus far has only two southpaws — Warren Spahn and Sandy Koufax. The latter is expected to be dropped from the squad because of a hand injury which currently has him on the sidelines.

Houk also named Milt Pappas, from Baltimore, to his mound staff, replacing Hoyt Wilhelm. The Oriole knuckleballer had been picked for the first game but had to be replaced by Pappas at the last minute when he developed a sore shoulder.

As in the first game, the eight players named by their teammates must start and play through at least three innings. The starters are outfielders Leon Wagner of Los Angeles and Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of New York; infielders Jim Gentile of Baltimore, Billy Moran of Los Angeles, Luis Aparicio of Chicago and Rich Rollins of Minnesota; and catcher Earl Battey of Minnesota.

Retain Original Format for 75G Golf Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—The $75,000 world series of golf champions in September will be limited to Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, sponsors decided Tuesday.

Original plans for the 36-hole medal play competition, scheduled Sept. 8-9 at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio, were to match the winners of the four major world championship tournaments—the U.S. Open, Masters and PGA and the British Open.

Since Palmer won both the Masters and the British tournament, there was speculation that another top pro would be invited to join the threesome.

Walter Schwimmer, a Chicago television producer, and the PGA announced, however, that they and the sponsors had decided to stick to the concept of only champions participating in the new challenge match.

Player qualified by winning the PGA last Sunday, Nicklaus by beating Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. Open title last month.

It will be a bonanza for all three players. The winner will receive $50,000, the runner-up $15,000 and the past place finisher $10,000. The last six holes each day will be telecast live by the National Broadcasting Company.

14,000 Players Expected

Area Bridge Players Compete In National Event Saturday

Area bridge players are scheduled to compete in a nationwide tournament Saturday as part of the American Contract Bridge League's 1962-63 charity program.

Proceeds of the tournament will be shared by the National Multiple Sclerosis Society and Institute of Logopedics, designed by the league as this year's beneficiaries of the charity tournament conducted by more than 4,000 ACBL affiliates from coast to coast.

Play will begin simultaneously across the country, with the Kingston tournament getting under way at 2:45 p. m. at the Stuyvesant Hotel.

I. H. (Laddie) Wheatcroft, the area's top professional, is conducting the Kingston program in conjunction with the Glenerie Bridge Club and other organizations. A tournament is also scheduled at Newburgh at the Holiday Inn.

Wheatcroft reported that 14 tables had been filled to date for the Kingston tournament.

Play Same Hand

The hands played in each of these 200 hundred odd sections will be exactly the same, Wheatcroft said. The hands have been pre-duplicated and have been sent under seal to each of the tournament directors. The tournament at the Stuyvesant Hotel will carry sectional rating in exactly the same way that all other games will be rated.

The winning scores in the Kingston and Newburgh competition will receive Sectional Master Point awards and will also be compared with the winning scores from all other cities.

One section of this nationwide tournament will be played at the Summer National Championships which start at Minneapolis on Saturday and virtually all the best known players in the country will be competing in this event. Among these prominent experts are Charles Goren, Helen Sobel, John Gerber, Harry Fishbein, Samuel Stayman, Johnny Crawford, C. J. Becker, Tobias Stone, Al Roth, Edgar Kaplan, Sidney Silador, Alfred Sheinwold and others.

More than 3500 tables have been filled to date, which means that at least 14,000 persons will participate.

District Legion Play Slated This Weekend

Six teams will seek honors in the District Three American Legion Baseball tournament, scheduled Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Dietz Stadium.

Action begins at 4 p. m. on Thursday with Melvin Rhodes Post meeting Fort Orange of Albany. Then at 6 p. m., Columbia County faces Schoharie County. The final game, slated for 8 p. m., will match Old Capitol Motors of Kingston against Catskill.

The semi-final tilt will be held on Friday at 8 p. m. with the championship game listed for 8:30 p. m. Saturday.

Vivian Brown Sees Americans Catching Reds

CLEVELAND (AP)—A 20-year-old Cleveland girl, who may be the fastest female runner in the world at 200 meters, says Russia's advantage in women's track will be wiped out by the Olympic year of 1964.

The surprising prediction comes from Vivian Brown, a junior at Tennessee State, who over the weekend upset Russian champion Maria Itkina in the big meet at Palo Alto, Calif.

"In 1964 we'll be ready to beat the Russian girls," Vivian said Tuesday on returning from California. "We're sincere workers. It takes intestinal fortitude and we're beginning to show we have it.

Miss Brown, who comes from a family of 14 children, earned a grant-in-aid scholarship to Tennessee State after a three-week test demanded by track coach Ed Temple in 1960.

One of Temple's first moves was to suggest she quit her specialty, the hurdles, and concentrate on the 220-yard dash.

"At our meets, the 80-meter hurdles usually comes just before the 220," she related. "He felt that if I didn't compete in the hurdles I could achieve something in the 220 because I'd be fresher."

Temple was right. A year ago, Miss Brown beat her teammate and roommate, Olympic star Wilma Rudolph. Two weeks ago, Vivian bettered Stella Walsh's 27-year-old American record by running the 220 in 24.1 seconds, two-tenths under the accepted mark.

Does she feel she's the best in the world in the 200 meters?

"I won't say that," she replied. "The Olympics are two years away. Ask me then."

Two Are Favored In Jr. Golf Play

NIAGARA FALLS, N.Y. (AP)—With two convincing triumphs behind them, 17-year-old Denny Lyons of Jamestown and 15-year-old Ronnie Philo of Schenectady shared the favorite's role moving into today's quarterfinals of the State Junior Golf Championship.

Today's quarterfinal and semi-final rounds determine the junior finalists for Thursday's 36-hole championship round on the Niagara Falls Country Club course. The junior division is for boys 15-17.

In the boys' division, for youngsters 14 and under, only a semi-final round was scheduled with John Riccardo of Brooklyn meeting Melvin Pettit Jr., of Troy and John Glinsky of Jamesville going against Joseph Banaszek of Syracuse.

Lyons, son of Jamestown pro Toby Lyons, trimmed Don Trump of Hudson, 6 and 5, in his second-round match after eliminating Ricky Spears of Port Jervis by the same score in the day's top first-round clash.

Involved in Suit

Willard Claims Films Prove Johnson's Kayo

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Jess Willard and the phantom film of his historic knockout 47 years ago over Jack Johnson are involved in two lawsuits.

Willard, who is 80 years old and spry of mind and action, lives in his comfortable cottage in La Crescenta, high in the rolling suburban hills north of Los Angeles.

The old champ is involved in suits for more than $1 million filed in Los Angeles Superior Court Tuesday by Brian Manion, his attorney.

The basis of the suits was the television showing last March and April of the long lost film of the Williard-Johnson fight in Cuba, April 5, 1915, when Jess, the "White Hope," knocked Johnson out in the 26th round.

Briefly, Willard claims that after years of search he located a print in Australia of the fight film and was negotiating with the collector to buy the film.

Named in one suit were Jimmy Jacobs, former national handball champion and fight film collector, and an associate, William Cayton, both officials of Turn Of The Century, Inc.

This action charged fraud, breach of joint venture and asked for relief and injunctions against further showing of the film.

Jacobs, Cayton, Schlitz Brewing Co. and Columbia Broadcasting System were named in the other suit, which charged invasion of privacy and the right of publicity.

Willard and his attorney contend that Jacobs was let in on the identity of the secret owner of the film in Australia and that Jacobs promised verbally that if he got the film he would never commercialize on it. Unknown to them, they claim, Jacobs did obtain the film and use it on the television show.

"Those fight films would have been, worth $10 million after the fight in Havana," he said.

"I was the 'White Hope' and I had beaten Johnson, the Negro. And then Johnson claimed he had thrown the fight, laid down."

Willard paused and added:

"We were in the ring 26 rounds, one hour and 44 minutes. The temperature was about 115 degrees. If he was going to lay down I wish he a-done it sooner. The film shows that Johnson did his best for 20 rounds. From then on I whipped him and knocked him out, fair and square."

Willard, still a 6-6 hulking figure but somewhat under his later fight weight of 245, is still easily aroused by Johnson's accusation concerning the legitimacy of the result. The movie, he maintains, substantiates his claim of an honest knockout.

In 1916 a federal law was passed prohibiting the showing by film of prize fights. When efforts were made to bring the Willard-Johnson film into this country, the U.S. customs destroyed what was believed to be the only print.

It developed there were other prints which Willard said he finally located in Australia in November 1959.

Softball League To Hold Tourney

Plans are being made to hold the first annual City Softball League Invitational tournament. The tourney, which is expected to attract some of the best softball clubs in the Hudson Valley, will be held under the Dietz Stadium lights on Aug. 17-18 and 19 and Aug. 25-26.

According to president Bill Mahoney, the tournament will be a single elimination affair. Trophies will be awarded the top four clubs with the winning team receiving individual awards. Also given will be a trophy for the most valuable player.

If this year's tournament is successful, it is planned to make it an annual event. There are several top softball clubs in the immediate area and it's expected that a big entry list from Poughkeepsie will be submitted.

Mrs. Hazenbush Is Golf Winner

Mrs. Arthur Hazenbush drew first prize in the Ladies Day Calloway tournament at the Twaafskill Club. She qualified for the draw with a net 54-15-39.

Elwyn, 56-19-37; Mrs. John Purvis, 57-18-39; Mrs. William Kuehn, 56-18-38; Mrs. Bernard Feeney, 57-16-41; Mrs. John J. Van Gonsic, 55-18-37.

A three-way tie developed for low net at 37 among Mrs. Van Gonsic, Mrs. Elwyn and Mrs. Haver. Tied with 38s were Mrs. Feeney Jr., Mrs. Kuehn and Mrs. MacFadden.

Sprite Rodney Wins at Vernon

Spry Rodney was spry, but Sprite Rodney was more spirited in the $9,676 Flora Temple Stake, a Grand Circuit feature at Vernon Downs.

Sprite Rodney, driven by Frank Ervin for Eaton Ridge Farm of Norwich, led all the way Tuesday night to win in 2:00 2-5, a national season record for 3-year-old trotters.

The winner, a Hambletonian eligible who finished second to A. C.'s Viking in last week's Yonkers Futurity, paid $3.60 to win.

Jack McMahon Is NewZephyrCoach

CHICAGO (AP)—Jack McMahon, who has worked both sides of pro basketball's fence, became new coach of the Chicago Zephyrs of the National Basketball Association today with this promise:

"I've never been with a loser and I don't intend to have one in Chicago." He has a two-season contract.

The 32-year-old McMahon comes to the one-season old Chicago NBA club after leading the Kansas City Steers to the best record, 58-28, last winter as the American Basketball League made its debut.

McMahon, although only 6-feet-1 played eight NBA seasons with the Rochester Royals and the St. Louis Hawks.

With the Zephyrs, who opened NBA play last season as the Chicago Packers, McMahon inherits a club with a 19-61 record, the worst won-lost mark in league history.

Houk Adds Yogi And Pete Runnels To AL All Stars

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — American League all-star manager Ralph Houk, bent on strengthening his lineup for the second inter-league test next Monday at Chicago, has picked Pete Runnels, the circuit's leading batter, and his own Yogi Berra, an all-star standby for more than a decade.

In a further bid to stem the rising National League tide, the Yankee skipper added Los Angeles' Ken McBride, the league's hottest pitcher, and left-hander Jim Kaat of Minnesota to his staff. Dropped was Boston's Bill Monbouquette, who hasn't hurled a complete game in nearly a month.

A 3-1 winner at Washington earlier this month, the Nationals go into the second all-star meeting at Wrigley Field with five victories and a tie in their last seven meetings with the rival circuit. Another victory would even the overall series at 16 games apiece. At one point the Americans led 12 games to four.

Houk, taking advantage of the rule that permits addition of three players to bring the squad to 28, obviously chose two left-handed hitters because of the Nationals' deficiency in the southpaw pitching department. National League manager Fred Hutchinson, who will add three players to his squad Thursday, thus far has only two southpaws — Warren Spahn and Sandy Koufax. The latter is expected to be dropped from the squad because of a hand injury which currently has him on the sidelines.

Houk also named Milt Pappas, from Baltimore, to his mound staff, replacing Hoyt Wilhelm. The Oriole knuckleballer had been picked for the first game but had to be replaced by Pappas at the last minute when he developed a sore shoulder.

As in the first game, the eight players named by their teammates must start and play through at least three innings. The starters are outfielders Leon Wagner of Los Angeles and Mickey Mantle and Roger Maris of New York; infielders Jim Gentile of Baltimore, Billy Moran of Los Angeles, Luis Aparicio of Chicago and Rich Rollins of Minnesota; and catcher Earl Battey of Minnesota.

Retain Original Format for 75G Golf Playoff

NEW YORK (AP)—The $75,000 world series of golf champions in September will be limited to Arnold Palmer, Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player, sponsors decided Tuesday.

Original plans for the 36-hole medal play competition, scheduled Sept. 8-9 at the Firestone Country Club in Akron, Ohio, were to match the winners of the four major world championship tournaments—the U.S. Open, Masters and PGA and the British Open.

Since Palmer won both the Masters and the British tournament, there was speculation that another top pro would be invited to join the threesome.

Walter Schwimmer, a Chicago television producer, and the PGA announced, however, that they and the sponsors had decided to stick to the concept of only champions participating in the new challenge match.

Player qualified by winning the PGA last Sunday, Nicklaus by beating Palmer in a playoff for the U.S. Open title last month.

It will be a bonanza for all three players. The winner will receive $50,000, the runner-up $15,000 and the past place finisher $10,000. The last six holes each day will be telecast live by the National Broadcasting Company.

Ties Don't Count To Stan Musial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"Ties don't count," Stan Musial said after he tied the National League record for runs batted in.

Musial wants to break the record in St. Louis. He has broken one major league record and four National League marks this year but each time he was on the road.

It was in 1958 and the plan was to keep Musial out of the lineup until he returned home. The club wanted him to get the 3,000th hit in St. Louis.

Musial has broken several of Ott's records and he said Ott was his hero.

Records set this year by Musial include the major league mark for games played, 2,845, and National League marks for times at bat 10,453, runs 1,895 and hits 3,489.

Ties Don't Count To Stan Musial

ST. LOUIS (AP)—"Ties don't count," Stan Musial said after he tied the National League record for runs batted in.

With a fifth inning double that drove home the tying run against the Los Angeles Dodgers Tuesday night, the 41-year-old outfielder matched Mel Ott's National League record of 1,860 runs batted in.

Musial wants to break the record in St. Louis. He has broken one major league record and four National League marks this year but each time he was on the road.

It was in 1958 and the plan was to keep Musial out of the lineup until he returned home. The club wanted him to get the 3,000th hit in St. Louis.

But on the last game of the road trip, against Chicago, he was used as a pinch hitter late in the game and got his hit.

Musial has broken several of Ott's records and he said Ott was his hero.

Records set this year by Musial include the major league mark for games played, 2,845, and National League marks for times at bat 10,453, runs 1,895 and hits 3,489.

Situation Makes Airlines Dispute Most Important

By NORMAN WALKER
Associated Press Labor Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whenever technology makes possible manpower savings, it usually means one of two things—a knockdown, dragout fight between workers and the boss, or an accommodation to the change through compromise.

A choice as to which course to take is currently being made in the labor controversy plagung major airlines—a perfect example of the pangs of progress.

It has puzzled some observers that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and his aides have dropped practically all other duties and concentrated every day and many nights for weeks on the airline labor problem. They were on the job until 2 a.m. today, when Goldberg announced an agreement between Pan American World Airways and its flight engineers.

The answer is that President Kennedy's administration regards the airlines problem—as reflected in the present dispute—as a precedent-making situation, making the dispute the most important since Kennedy took office.

If other disputants over technological change see the airlines or the airlines' unions emerge a victor in a showdown fight over technological change, it is reasonable to assume others will try the same.

Similarly, if the airline differences can be successfully compromised — that is, if everyone involved shares the consequences as well as the benefits of reduced manpower requirements—that, too can be an object lesson.

Thus, fewer crewmen are needed and the more foolproof jet also can be operated safely with three men in the cockpit instead of the four required on piston-engine planes.

With many members already idled by the jets, the pilots and flight engineers unions naturally have been trying to push off on each other the brunt of the crew reduction. The airlines, just as naturally, have been eager to realize the reduced crew cost economy.

Routine Check of Jail Prevents Hanging

McManus said Patrolman Richard Shelly, assigned to the communications department at police headquarters, went into the cell block to make a routine check and found Ferrens Sticzracz, 58, of 4 Fallkill Place, Poughkeepsie, hanging in a cell with a shirt noosed around his neck.

Free Track Passes Held Legal Only To Working Press

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state attorney general, in an opinion apparently referring to the new Finger Lakes Race Track, held today that indiscriminate issuance of free passes for admission to race tracks was illegal.

The new thoroughbred track, at Canandaigua, has been declaring such days as Geneva Day, when residents of Geneva could obtain passes, and Ladies Day on Fridays, when women were given passes.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz held that "a fixed admission charge must be paid" except by persons exempted by state law, such as newsmen.

Lefkowitz gave his opinion in a letter to the State Racing Commission chairman, Ashley T. Cole, who had inquired whether a licensed racing association could admit persons to its track without charging admission or merely charging the amount of state and local taxes.

The attorney general said Cole had pointed out that "the association's position is that free admission is not prohibited so long as such taxes are paid."

Lefkowitz found that that position was "without merit" because state law requires that "the minimum charge shall be not less than one dollar and a half for general admission inclusive of taxes."

A spokesman for the attorney general declined to spell out the significance of the opinion or say whether it referred to the Finger Lakes practice.

At Canandaigua, however, track manager Luke O'Brien told a reporter he had no doubt Cole's inquiry was prompted by harness track people in competition with Finger Lakes. Batavia Downs is the closest track to Finger Lakes.

He said that the passes had helped attendance but that he still expected the track to be successful. He said daily attendance had been averaging 4,000. The aim is 6,000, he said.

O'Brien also said his track had paid its taxes in full.

In addition to passes for newsmen, the law permits free admission of members of track organizations, various officials and track personnel.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Whenever technology makes possible manpower savings, it usually means one of two things—a knockdown, dragout fight between workers and the boss, or an accommodation to the change through compromise.

A choice as to which course to take is currently being made in the labor controversy plaguing major airlines—a perfect example of the pangs of progress.

It has puzzled some observers that Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg and his aides have dropped practically all other duties and concentrated every day and many nights for weeks on the airline labor problem. They were on the job until 2 a.m. today, when Goldberg announced an agreement between Pan American World Airways and its flight engineers.

The answer is that President Kennedy's administration regards the airlines problem—as reflected in the present dispute—as a precedent-making situation, making the dispute the most important since Kennedy took office.

If other disputants over technological change see the airlines or the airlines' unions emerge a victor in a showdown fight over technological change, it is reasonable to assume others will try the same.

Similarly, if the airline differences can be successfully compromised — that is, if everyone involved shares the consequences as well as the benefits of reduced manpower requirements—that, too can be an object lesson.

The jet plane is the culprit here. Its greater speed and size permits more frequent trips with bigger passenger loads.

Thus, fewer crewmen are needed and the more foolproof jet also can be operated safely with three men in the cockpit instead of the four required on piston-engine planes.

With many members already idled by the jets, the pilots and flight engineers unions naturally have been trying to push off on each other the brunt of the crew reduction. The airlines, just as naturally, have been eager to realize the reduced crew cost economy.

Routine Check of Jail Prevents Hanging

McManus said Patrolman Richard Shelly, assigned to the communications department at police headquarters, went into the cell block to make a routine check and found Ferrens Sticzracz, 58, of 4 Fallkill Place, Poughkeepsie, hanging in a cell with a shirt noosed around his neck.

Shelly cut down the prisoner, who suffered no injuries. Sticzracz was arrested earlier on a public intoxication charge.

Free Track Passes Held Legal Only To Working Press

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—The state attorney general, in an opinion apparently referring to the new Finger Lakes Race Track, held today that indiscriminate issuance of free passes for admission to race tracks was illegal.

The new thoroughbred track, at Canandaigua, has been declaring such days as Geneva Day, when residents of Geneva could obtain passes, and Ladies Day on Fridays, when women were given passes.

The passes were issued in an effort to build up attendance.

Atty. Gen. Louis J. Lefkowitz held that "a fixed admission charge must be paid" except by persons exempted by state law, such as newsmen.

Lefkowitz gave his opinion in a letter to the State Racing Commission chairman, Ashley T. Cole, who had inquired whether a licensed racing association could admit persons to its track without charging admission or merely charging the amount of state and local taxes.

The attorney general said Cole had pointed out that "the association's position is that free admission is not prohibited so long as such taxes are paid."

Lefkowitz found that that position was "without merit" because state law requires that "the minimum charge shall be not less than one dollar and a half for general admission inclusive of taxes."

A spokesman for the attorney general declined to spell out the significance of the opinion or say whether it referred to the Finger Lakes practice.

At Canandaigua, however, track manager Luke O'Brien told a reporter he had no doubt Cole's inquiry was prompted by harness track people in competition with Finger Lakes. Batavia Downs is the closest track to Finger Lakes.

He said that the passes had helped attendance but that he still expected the track to be successful. He said daily attendance had been averaging 4,000. The aim is 6,000, he said.

O'Brien also said his track had paid its taxes in full.

In addition to passes for newsmen, the law permits free admission of members of track organizations, various officials and track personnel.
